FAST TRAIN IN WRECK; ONE DEAD

Engines and Two Cars Tumbled Down Embankment

Engineer Killed on Lark in Early Hour Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—One of the crew was killed and two were injured early today when the fast Southern Pacific train, the Lark, northbound from Los Angeles, was wrecked near Cuesta, ten miles north of San Luis Obispo, at 3:45 o'clock this morning.

One of the two engines, the mail car and dynamo car left the track and tumbled down an embankment. No passengers were injured, according to reports received by the Southern Pacific officials here.

THE DEAD.

E. A. MELVILLE, fireman.

THE INJURED.

C. C. ELDER, engineer, not seriously hurt.

G. HOOPER, express messenger, badly bruised.

STEVE ANTONE, electrician, bruised.

W. PORTER and W. C. SCHULER, mail clerks, bruised.

Two unidentified tramps, one with leg broken, another with rib fractured.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS.

Melville was caught between the car and his engine and the car following it and crushed.

The second engine jumped the track on an embankment and slipped down the side, pulling with it the forward helper engine, the dynamo and mail cars.

The dining car left the track, but remained upright and the forward truck of the first sleeping car left the rails.

The accident was caused, the report said, by the tender of the first engine of a double-header jumping the track. It dragged after it the second engine and two cars following it.

The track will be cleared by noon, making the Lark about ten hours late.

Coast Ship Disabled; Honolulan Saves Crew

By Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The wooden steam schooner Graywood was abandoned today in a sinking condition off Umatilla light just south of Cape Flattery and her crew of thirteen men taken aboard the steamer Honolulan according to a wireless message to the Chamber of Commerce here. The Honolulan which left Seattle bound for this port yetserday is proceeding with Graywood's crew a message from her captain said.

The position of the Graywood was not given in the dispatch but probably was less than 100 miles south of Cape Flattery as the Honolulan left Seattle yesterday. The Graywood was bound from San Francisco for Vancouver, B. C., with freight. She was a wooden vessel of 607 net tons, built at Fairhaven, Wash., in 1904.

She was owned by Beadle Brothers, incorporated of San Francisco and carried a crew of 21.

Steamer Tyconda Is Destroyed by Fire

By Associated Press.

SEWARD, Alaska., Oct. 2.— The sternwheel steamer Tyconda, the largest vessel engaged in local traffic on Cook Inlet, was totally destroyed by fire at Anchorage yesterday. The vessel, which was valued at $27,000, was fully insured. The cause of the fire is unknown. The Tyconda, which was owned by R. V. Holbrook and J. W. Mangar, was a vessel of 186 tons gross and was built at Tacoma, Wash., in 1901.

No Jurisdiction Over Jitneys; R. R. Commis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The State Railroad Commission disclaimed today jurisdiction over jitneys and motor buses in a decision dismissing two suits brought by the United Railroads of San Francisco and the Western Association of Short Line Railroads against competing motor bus lines. The commission held, however, that motor bus lines are common carriers.

Westinghouse Men Vote Against Strike

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 2.—Leaders of the workmen at the East Pittsburg plants of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company announced that the men had decided not to strike. More than 9000 of the 15,000 employes voted on the proposition and only 2495 favored the strike.

Philadelphia to Open Big Series

Quaker City to Have the First Game

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The National Commission today decided that the first game of the world's series shall be played in Philadelphia on Friday, October 8.

The second game is set for the next day, October 9, in the same city. The third and fourth games will be played in Boston on October 11 and 12 respectively, the fifth in Philadelphia on October 13, and the sixth in Boston October 14.

The seventh game, if one is necessary, will be played on Friday, October 15. The place for this game will be chosen by the toss of a coin.

Four umpires, who will arbitrate in the field and on the foul lines, were selected by the presidents of the two leagues. President Tener named Charles Rigler and W. J. Klem as the National League representatives, while President Johnson selected William Evans and Frank O'Loughlin to act for the American League.

All the rules that governed the play during the 1914 series will be in force again this season. It was further decided that in case of a tie game or a postponement owing to inclement weather the teams will remain in the city where such game was to have been played until that game is complete, and dates of future games on the schedule will be advanced to meet any such emergencies arising.

The eligible players for the series as announced by the National Commission follow:

Philadelphia—Adams, Alexander, Bancroft, Burns, Baumgartner, Becker, Byrne, Cravath, Chalmers, Dugey, Demaree, Killifer, Luderus, Moran, Mayer, McQuillan, Nichoff, Paskert, Rixey, Stock, Tincup, Whitted and Welser.

Boston—Barry, Carrigan, Cady, Collins, Foster, Gregg, Gardner, Gainer, Hoblitzel, Hooper, Henriksen, Janvrin, Leonard, Lewis, Mays, McNally, Ruth, Shore, Scott, Speaker, Thomas, Wood and Wagner.

Chairman Herrmann announced that the inter-club post series at Chicago would be held under the supervision of President E. G. Barrows of the International League, assisted by Adrian C. Anson as representative of the National Commission.

The American League umpires for the series appointed by President Ban Johnson are Connolly and Dineen, and for the National League President Tener named Quigley and Orth.

MINE HEADS SEIZED BY STRIKERS

By Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 2.—Six mine officials seized by strikers in the Clifton district were rescued by a sheriff's posse today, according to a special dispatch and lodged in the Clifton court house for safety. The strikers, estimated at 2000 men, then raided the ice and electric plants, taking out non-union men.

The demonstration began at 10 o'clock this morning and was reported to be still in progress this afternoon. The strikers first seized Edward Lawson, a mine manager; F. N. Slynn, and Thomas Fulcher. Three other mine officials were taken captive before a sheriff's posse appeared. The prisoners were released, and the crowd then proceeded to the Clifton ice plant, shouting "Down with mine managers; hurrah for Governor Hunt."

TO SEND TROOPS.

The governor announced yesterday that he intended to send troops into the Clifton district if the strike were not soon settled. In a further statement the governor was quoted today as declaring that arbitration at present was impossible because "conditions, as laid down by the mine managers of the Clifton and Morenci districts were so humiliating that no self-respecting workingman would submit to them."

KANNO DIVORCE SUIT STRICKEN OFF

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The divorce suit of Gertrude Boyle Kanno, artist and protege of the late Joaquin Miller, against Takeshi Kanno, Japanese poet and writer of this city, was stricken from the calendar by Superior Judge Troutt this morning because of lack of prosecution. Mrs. Kanno, who for years resided on the Joaquin estate in Oakland, is now believed to be in New York. The court heard a portion of the testimony which followed the disruption of the Kanno household last winter, but deemed the evidence insufficient without corroboration. At that time Mrs. Kanno charged her husband with being very jealous and stated that he was naturally of a suspicious nature, causing her much mental worry.

An affinity was mentioned in connection with the case in the person of a young Japanese, who is also believed to be now in New York.

LONDON, Oct. 2, 5:52 p. m.—A telegram from Amsterdam says that Austria is about to send an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the free passage of munitions to Turkey.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—There has been a heavy German bombardment in the Artois district, according to the announcement made by the French war office this afternoon. Nevertheless the French forces have made perceptible progress in this district on the heights of La Folie.

French airships have been active in bombarding the railroad lines between the German front and during the night air craft guns bombarded the German lines.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Artois district the artillery of the enemy yesterday bombarded very violently our positions to the east of Souchez. Nevertheless we made perceptible progress from trench to trench on the heights of La Folie.

"In the Champagne district the Germans last night bombarded our new lines near St. Legrange. To the east of Navarin Farm our troops conquered an important section of the positions of the enemy which constituted a salient of the actual line to the north of Mesnil.

"In Lorraine German reconnoitering parties have attacked two of our posts near Moncel and Sorneville. They were repulsed and pursued by French troops back to their own lines.

Squadron of French airships have thrown down a very large number of projectiles on the railroad station and the railroad lines behind the German front, particularly at the junction of Guignicourt-Amifontaine.

"During the past night guns mounted on airships were successful in bombarding the German lines."

BULGARIAN ARMIES ADVANCE

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—It is reported from Athens that Bulgarian troops from Sofia are moving in the direction of the Serbian frontier and that other forces are being dispatched toward the Greek border.

This information was forwarded today by the Athens correspondent of the Havas News Agency, who asserts it was obtained from a reliable source. It is believed the principal point of concentration will be along the upper Stouma river, southwest of Sofia, near the Serbian border.

BULGARIA UNDER WAR LAW

By Associated Press

MILAN, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 2, 4:40 a. m.—Bulgaria is mobilizing all men up to the age of 58 years, according to the Corriere Della Sera. Bucharest correspondent. No citizen under 45 is permitted to leave the country and martial law has been proclaimed. Pro-German manifestations are reported in Bulgarian cities along the Danube.

Bulgarian artillery, the correspondent asserts, is being massed along the frontier of Dobrudja, a part of Rumania bounded by the Black Sea and the Danube, which was taken from Bulgaria in 1878 and given to Rumania. This section has a cosmopolitan population.

ASKS AID FOR COUNTRY

PRESIDENT PRAYS FOR PEACE

CABINET JOINS WILSON

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—How President Wilson led his cabinet in prayer at a recent meeting was told here yesterday by Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati at a session of the Indiana Methodist Episcopal Conference. A United States Senator told the bishop of the incident, he said. The Senator had heard it from one of the cabinet members who prayed with the President.

"When the President arrived at the cabinet meeting," said the bishop, "his face wore a solemn look. It was evident that the serious affairs of the nation were on his mind. He said to the cabinet members, 'I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not. I do. Let us pray and ask the help of God.'

"And right there the President of the United States fell upon his knees and the rest of the members of the cabinet did the same and the President offered a prayer to God. While the war rages in Europe we in this country should thank God that in this crisis of the world we have a chief executive who is a servant of God and who stands with his hand in the hand of God. Every minister in the land should, every time he offers a prayer, take Woodrow Wilson by the hand and lead him into the presence of God and ask that he be given strength to continue to be the great apostle of peace among men."

Later a telegram expressing the confidence of the delegates in him was sent to the President.

U. S. STUDIES SUBMARINE CHECK

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. — Official reports to the American government announcing that successful methods of dealing with the submarines had been developed by Great Britain are being carefully studied because of their possible bearing upon the American naval policy.

These reports assert that at least 50 and possibly 70 German submarines have been destroyed by the new method. It is also declared that the British Admiralty is not only confident that it has crushed the German war zone campaign, but that unless the suomarine is made more effective it will not in the future prove the menace it has to commerce and war fleets.

The destruction of the fiftieth submarine was celebrated recently by government officials at a dinner in London, although reports of the affair apparently were suppressed by the censor because of the policy of keeping Germany in doubt as to the number of undersea craft destroyed.

Although every effort has been made to keep secret the means employed, the American government has been advised as to the principal methods which have been adopted to combat the German undersea campaign. These operations include the use of a submarine telephone for detecting the submarine's approach; huge nets for capturing submarines; a special type of mine; destroyers and armed trawlers for hunting submarines; fast seagoing motorboats armed with guns and aeroplanes for locating submarines.

The reports confirm the views of American naval officers that the dreadnaught still is the principal factor in sea warfare.

NEW NOTE ON ARABIC SENT BY GERMANY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, delivered to Secretary Lansing today a note from the German government concerning the Arabic case which it is said affords a negotiable basis for the settlement of the question.

The Ambassador was closeted with Secretary Lansing for only a few minutes, leaving him a note, the contents of which was not disclosed. It was learned reliably that the note furnishes a basis for further negotiations and from this was inferred that while admitting the principle that merchantmen would not be torpedoed without warning, Germany was anxious to submit to arbitration the question of fact as to whether or not the Arabic was engaged in a hostile act at the time she was torpedoed and how much indemnity must be paid as a consequence if the verdict is against the German commander.

Culebra Slide Delays Seventy-six Vessels

By Associated Press.

PANAMA, Oct. 2.—Seventy-six vessels are waiting passage through the Panama canal, with prospects of at least ten days further delay before them, as the result of the renewed activity of both the old and the new Culebra slides. Lieutenant-Colonel Harding, acting governor of the Panama canal, stated today that it was impossible to predict when the channel would be sufficiently dredged out to permit even the smallest ships to go through, but that in all events it would not be until October 10, if then.

STORM TOLL IN SOUTH IS 549

Known Dead Number 181; Many Reported Killed or Missing

Property Loss Will Be in Excess of Twelve Millions

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—The number of dead, reported dead and persons missing in Louisiana and Mississippi as a result of Wednesday night's tropical hurricane was put at 549 in a total compiled here today from reports that came in from many points on gulf coast and in the interior. Property damage was estimated at $12,000,000.

It was considered certain early today that the total dead in the gulf coast storm would number at least 350.

MANY SCHOONERS WRECKED.

The known death list already stands at 181, with 207 reported dead. In addition there are 117 known missing.

More than 150 schooners were observed ashore between Gulfport and New Orleans, many total wrecks. Others were intact, but as high as 15 feet above high tide level. Others were far inland.

Property damage throughout the storm-swept territory has been enormous. Newspaper men and relief parties returning today from the delta section said that the rich plantations in that section had been wiped out, crops razed, orange trees destroyed, buildings demolished and washed out to sea and the country for miles under water 4 to 15 feet deep. The levees in many places have been destroyed.

While no official estimate has been obtainable of the storm damage in that state and along the Mississippi coast, persons familiar with the damage believe it will exceed $12,000,000.

STORM STILL RAGES.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The tropical storm continued today on its northwesterly course and this morning was central over Lake Ontario, while the secondary storm was off the New Jersey coast, apparently increasing in force.

Crowd Sees Jewel Robbery Committed

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—An attempt to steal jewelry valued at $12,000 from a show window at one of the busiest corners in the shopping district was made last night by two armed men in full view of hundreds of persons. After smashing the window with a padded hammer they seized two trays containing the jewels and made a dash to escape, at the same time firing their revolvers at pursuers.

One of the men was seized within the block by an iceman, who felled him with a blow on the jaw and snatched his revolver. The other escaped.

The man captured gave his name as Nathan Heller, 28 years old, of New York. He insists he had nothing to do with the robbery.

Reports Foreshadow Riots in Moscow

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The platform which the Democratic state convention was called on to adopt today included a plank endorsing President Wilson for a second term. The committee, after a lively discussion, decided not to endorse woman suffrage or biennial elections, but voted to draft planks favoring the short ballot and non-contributory old age pensions.

HAYWARD MAN BURNS TO DEATH

HAYWARD, Oct. 2.—Caught by flames from an exploded gasoline stove while he slept, George Jesus, a railway laborer was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his home on Atherton street here late last night. John Silva, a laborer who occupied the cottage with Jesus, narrowly escaped the fate of his companion escaping fro mthe blazing house shortly before the roof collapsed.

The charred remains of the victim were recovered from the ruins of the cottage by firemen. Parts of the gasoline stove and cooking utensils were found lying on top of the body indicating that the stove had exploded. The cottage was burned to the ground, the fire having made considerable headway before the alram was turned in. Silva was awakened by the noise of the flames and rushed out in time to escape. The dead man was 28 years of age and unmarried.

PRES. KAYSER OF ALTENHEIM TO WED

Albert Kayser, president of the German Altenheim and one of the best known German residents of the county, will be married late this afternoon to Mrs. Buthe Stelling, of San Francisco. The ceremony will be a quiet one, at the home of the bridegroom, Rev. Jatho of the German Lutheran church officiating.

The couple have been old friends for years. A short time ago Kayser's first wife died, and today friends were surprised by the news that a marriage license had been taken out. Kayser is 60 years of age. The bride's age is 48. The couple will make their home in Oakland.

KEY ROUTE ANSWERS CARMEN

Demand Would Mean a New Contract, Say Officials

Employes Told Company Would Stay Close to Agreement

With the receipt today of a letter from the executive committee of the directors of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways denying the request of the Carmen's Union to arbitrate existing differences, members of the employes' organization are now preparing to issue a call for a special meeting at which the question of whether or not a general strike will be called will be finally settled.

"Your demand," the letter states, "is not for an interpretation of the existing agreement, but for a new agreement that shall include under its terms all classes of employes, stenographers, clerks, deck hands, telephone operators and others. This matter is of such far-reaching consequence that the officers of the company cannot consent to abrogate their authority in favor of any outside arbitration committee or any one else not familiar with the property and problems connected with its management."

The question submitted for arbitration by the carmen was as to whether or not the company would recognize any others than trainmen and track oilers as eligible to consideration under an agreement existing between the corporation and the members of the union.

MIDNIGHT MEETING.

The meeting at which the strike question will again be submitted will probaoly be called for midnight tomorrow. This point will be decided by members of the grievance committee this afternoon.

Members of the grievance committee of the Carmen's Union announced this afternon that they would recommend to the executive committee of their organization that advantage be taken of the traction company's offer in today's letter to hold another meeting at which existing differences will be discussed. This will be done tonight.

"We think that the executive committee will advise us to meet with the directors, inasmuch as the letter sets forth that a special meeting will be called if we desire it," said Benjamin F. Bowbeer, eighth international vice-president of the union. "No special meeting for the taking of a strike vote will be called until this point has been decided."

An argument used in the letter is that the company has been paying a higher wage scale than any similar corporation in other cities. This is being done, says the letter, in face of known financial difficulties.

LETTER TO CARMEN.

The letter to the carmen, in full, follows:

San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 1, 1915.

Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, Division No. 192, 387 Twelfth street, Oakland, Cal.—Gentlemen: I am instructed by the unanimous vote of the board of directors of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways to communicate to you their reply to your letter of September 28, 1915, proposing "to submit to arbitration the proposition as to whether the agreement dated Oakland, February 29, 1908, includes employes other than the track oilers and platform men."

Ostensibly any proposal to arbitrate is reasonable, but in your proposal there is a concealed demand for an extension of this contract which the parties, for more than seven and one-half years, have treated uniformly as applying only to platform men and track oilers, so that it shall be made to apply to every class of this company's employes, including deck hands, track laborers and even such confidential employes as stenographers, clerks and telephone operators.

A proper discussion of the full force of your demand necessarily involves a review of the relations which have existed between us.

AS TO CONTRACT.

As already indicated, the contract between your union and this company, which designates the classes of employes to which it relates, has been in effect for more than seven and one-half years. During that time it has proved itself to be an instrument under which the men and the company could work harmoniously. It contains provisions giving full recognition to your union, and provides for a ready method of settling disputes arising under its terms, and grievances covered by it have heretofore been readily adjusted. It provides a schedule of wages and of hours more favorable than that granted by any other railway privately operated in this country under similar conditions.

So long as a sincere desire has existed in the minds of the parties to it harmoniously to operate under it no difficulty has been experienced in doing so. We are pleased to bear testimony to the fact that such a spirit has been manifested by our men for years, and we confidently believe, is still entertained by the rank and file of your union. On the part of the company evidences are not wanting of its sincere desire to continue such relations. There could be no better proof of this than a statement of the high wages which the company pays, as compared with the ruling wage for similar employ-

1 year or less.....30c per hour
Between 1 and 2 years..31c per hour
Between 2 and 3 years..32c per hour
Between 3 and 4 years..33c per hour

Between 1 and 2 years..40c per hour
Between 2 and 3 years and over .....42c per hour

Collectors—Same as Oakland Traction Company motormen and conductors.

Track oilers—$2.25 per day.

SCALE INCREASES.

This is a constantly increasing scale and gives men who have been in the service of the traction lines for ten years approximately $4 per day, and men in the employ of the Key division for three years as high as $4.20 per day. There are now in the employ of the company, covered by this contract, in excess of 900 platform men, of whom 55 per cent receive from 30c to 34c per hour, and 45 per cent receive from 35c to 42c per hour. Wages for similar employment on other lines range from 20c to 35c per hour. A faithful observance of the terms of this contract is costing this company over $200,000 per annum, and has cost not less than $1,500,000 since the contract has been in effect, over and above the actual value of the services rendered as measured by wage scales obtaining elsewhere under less favorable living conditions.

Nor is the evidence that the company is sincerely endeavoring to keep its part of the contract closed by this statement alone. Not only has it cost the company such excessive payments in wages during that time, but of late years the earnings of the company have not justified such payments. You are surely aware of the company's financial condition. No dividends are being paid to its stockholders. Interest on its bonds is in default. Notes aggregating $3,600,000 have matured and remain unpaid. Municipalities are demanding street repairs and growing localities are demanding extensions and increased service, which can not be provided for lack of funds. Trade creditors have been compelled to wait. Jitney competition has cut into our revenues. Yet through all of this, not only has this high wage scale been maintained, to the benefit of the members of your union, but, under the terms of the contract, the provisions of which you are now questioning, wages are steadily increased. The company has at great sacrifice and under distressing conditions performed its contract. This must be admitted.

CONTROVERSIES NOTED.

We cannot but believe that these efforts of the company have met with some measures of appreciation among its employees; and that the great body of the members of your union are entirely satisfied with the conditions under which they are working, and with the treatment they are receiving from the company.

During recent months, however, we have observed with regret a tendency on the part of certain leaders of your union to bring on controversies with the company. This first took form in a demand presented by a grievance committee of your union that the board of directors of the company should grant a hearing on the question whether this contract should or should not be so interpreted as to require all employes to join your union as a condition of continuing in the employ of the company. This demand was accompanied by a notice that unless it was complied with within 24 hours "a midnight meeting of all members of this division will be called to decide upon further action." (Letter of June 16, 1915, signed "R. J. Scott, Business Agent, Sec. Treas.") The demand was not complied with, but an audience was given to your full committee on July 16, 1915, at which time, after extended discussion, it was made plain to your committee that the agreement expressly recognized the principle of the "open shop," and that the refusal of the company to grant "closed shop" did not constitute a grievance coming within the terms of the agreement. Your committee accepted this conclusion, and it was thought that the agitation would cease.

DECKHAND DISMISSALS.

Shortly thereafter, however, an attempt was made by your grievance committee to interfere in the matter of the discharge of two deckhands employed on the company's ferryboats, which are operated under the regulations of the United States Government. One of these deckhands, as you have been heretofore advised, was dismissed for neglect of duty and insubordination, and the other for the use of profane language in the presence of passengers. This brought the attention of the board of directors, for the first time, to the fact that your organization had been secretly extending its membership so as to include all of the employes of the company, and that the discharged deckhands had been recently elected members of your union.

During the seven and one-half years that the contract has been in effect no claim had ever before been asserted that its provisions covered the employment or discharge of deckhands, nor had any attempt ever been made to include them in the membership of your union. The causes which led to the dismissal of these men were laid candidly before the members of your committee. They were advised that strict discipline was essential to the proper navigation of our boats and the safety of the traveling public; that these men could not therefore be retained in the service.

A request was then made for a hearing and on September 28, 1915, after a somewhat extended correspondence, certain members of your committee were met by officers of the company, and were again informed of the conditions under which the discharges had taken place and the impossibility of reinstatement. Their attention was called to the fact that your union has no right of interference between the company and its employes except such as is given by the terms of the contract; that the contract in express terms refers only to the wages, hours of labor and conditions of employment of motormen, conductors, collectors and track oilers, and that it does not refer to or cover deckhands, or any other class of employes. The members of your committee acquiesced in the view that their authority to confer with the company on grievances suffered by the members of the union was based on the contract and that independent of its provisions the company was at liberty to employ and discharge men at its discretion. It was contended, however, that the provisions of the contract cover deckhands, and that the committee was privileged to question the cause of discharge of any deckhands who had been made members of your union. The reasons why the contract did not cover deckhands were then stated by the officers of the company and are now repeated.

CONTRACT QUOTED.

The contract, when entered into, had for its purpose the fixing of the wages, hours of labor and conditions under which the employes covered by it should follow their employment. Wages, hours and conditions of employment, insofar as they affected motormen, conductors, collectors and track oilers, were fixed by its terms. That would indeed be a peculiar contract which assumed to control the relations between employes and employer, but which did not deal with wages, hours or conditions of employment. The contract of February 29, 1908, makes no reference whatever to deckhands, nor were any wages, hours or conditions of employment specified as to them. If the contract were to be held to cover them, deckhands would be without any protection as to wages, hours or conditions of employment. It is impossible to imagine such a contract, and small purpose would be served in bringing this class of employes under a contract so barren of any provision for their benefit.

It has heretofore been further pointed out to the members of your committee that the contract bears internal evidence that it was not intended to so apply. It refers to seniority in service and fixes wages on that basis. Deckhands are without such seniority, and even if they had it, no wages is fixed to which it might apply. It specifies the length of "runs," which is a term applying only to the traction and interurban lines and has no reference to floating equipment, upon which the deckhands are employed. It specifies a penalty for "oversleeps," for which the deckhand is not held to account. Many other evidences to be gathered from the terms of the instrument itself have convinced the officers of the company that the contract was never designed to refer to deckhands.

NO FORMER ATTEMPT.

Furthermore, as we have indicated, for over seven and one-half years no attempt has ever been made by your union to include deckhands in its membership. During all that time the acts of both parties to the contract have proceeded on the view that deckhands were not covered by the provisions of the contract. At the time of entering into this contract, your union did not include these men and in consequence no provision was made affecting their relations with the company.

There are many reasons why these men should not be included in a contract made with a carmen's union. They are not railroad men in any sense of the term; they are not required to possess any of the qualifications of railroad men; they are not required to know anything respecting railroading. There is no more reason why deckhands on a ferryboat should be included in a carmen's union than there is to include sailors on a deep-sea vessel within the membership of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. It must be apparent to you that had demand been made upon the then officials of the railway at the time this contract was being prepared, that deckhands should be included in its provisions, they would have refused to surrender the right to require on the ferryboats of the company an immediate and implicit obedience to orders. In the operation of these boats carrying great numbers of passengers and requiring the utmost skill and care on the part of officers and men, if safety is to be insured, no question of obedience to orders can be permitted to come between the captain and his crew.

This somewhat extended discussion of the nature of the contract is included here in order that the position of the company with respect to your proposal may be made clear.

IS NOT GRIEVANCE.

What you propose to arbitrate is in no sense a grievance. It is a demand which contemplates an extension of the authority of your union, far beyond the limits of the present contract. That you are seeking to amend the agreement in such a way as to include within its scope all of the employes of the company, regardless of the nature and conditions of their work, is made plain by the following excerpts from the stenographic report of the conference between certain members of your committee and officers of the company on the morning of September 28th:

"Mr. Bowbeer—The policy of the Amalgamated Association is to take in all employes that are not claimed by other crafts. If we have not seen fit to extend and embrace these other employes prior to this time it has just been a matter of opinion of the members of the organization, but some months ago a matter was brought to the attention of the organization that the shopmen were not organized and that the deckhands on the boats were not organized, and that clerks and ticket-takers were not organized, and the order was given by the division to see if we could not get these men into the organization, which has been undertaken."

"Mr. Weeks—And so you expect to get the clerks and stenographers and telephone operators in, too?"

"Mr. Bowbeer—That certainly would be our intention to take in every employe, that is the policy of the Amalgamated Association, to take every employe that is not claimed by some other organization as craftsmen in that other organization."

MEANS NEW AGREEMENT.

Your demand, therefore, is not for an interpretation of the existing agreement, but for a new agreement that shall include under its terms all classes of employes, stenographers, clerks, deckhands, telephone operators and others. This matter is of such far-reaching consequence that the officers of the company cannot consent to abdicate their authority in favor of any outside arbitration committee or any one else not familiar with the property and the problems connected with its management.

The position occupied by the present board of directors of the company is such as to place upon them a greater responsibility than that which usually rests upon corporation officers. They were induced by the financial problems of this company to lend their services in the administration of its affairs. They have the welfare of the east bay cities at heart and are anxious to so readjust the affairs of the company as to permit it to afford the transportation facilities essential to the continued growth of the communities.

As such trustees they feel that it is reasonable to ask you, the employes of this company and residents of the communities through which it operates, who through a constantly increasing wage scale are enjoying the greatest benefits from its earnings to give them your assistance in their task and the same loyal support in the future that you have in the past. This matter is too serious to be lightly dealt with, and we believe your good judgment will restrain any hasty action that would involve the company, yourselves and the community at large in the calamity of a strike, with its attendant inconvenience, loss and distress.

Yours very truly,
SAN FRANCISCO-OAKLAND TERMINAL RAILWAYS,
G. K. WEEKS, President.

standing the fact that the British forces were four times stronger than ours.

"On the Irak front our advanced detachments on September 28 surprised a hostile force which landed on the bank of the Tigris, north of Korna, under the protection of gunboats. We inflicted heavy losses on them."

Announcement was made in the House of Commons on Wednesday that the British had defeated the Turks, who were said to be in full retreat toward Bagdad.

WAR SITUATION IS CRUCIAL

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The situation on the eastern front is still regarded in London as of the greatest immediate importance, notwithstanding the new offensive in the west. To transfer the center of gravity of the war to the western front is the task now before the French and British.

The menacing attitude of Bulgaria doubtless is having a marked bearing on the activity of the Allies in France and Belgium, for increasing pressure on the German lines would exert a decided influence on plans of the Austrians and Germans to concentrate a heavy force on the Serbian frontier, should they commit themselves to the fresh campaign in the Balkans with the assistance of Bulgaria. That nation now occupied, as Foreign Secretary Grey expressed it, yesterday the position Turkey held during those weeks of uncertainty before she cast her lot open with the central powers.

URGE INSTANT ATTACK.

Some sections of the British press are urging Greece and the Allies to strike quickly the instant it is determined that diplomacy is no longer able to avert a crisis.

"To wait until Bulgaria actually moves," says the Manchester Guardian, "is to surrender the strategic initiative to her.

"Between an Austro-German attack on Serbia and a Bulgarian attack there is no practical difference. For the Allies the moment of decision has come. As soon as they are convinced Bulgaria is determined to make war they should dispatch an ultimatum to her and give her the choice of peace or war.

WOULD LINK CAPITALS.

"Should Bulgaria accomplish the Germanic design of linking Berlin with Constantinople, a very grave change will have come over the complexion of the war in this zone, a region where a far-reaching result might be achieved by the Allies with relative speed and economy. The strategical initiative must not be frittered away by faith in meaningless hopes or fear of resolute action."

Special dispatches from Petrograd all speak of the improvement of the Russian position, although there has been no noteworthy change on the eastern front for some days.

With the exception of some ground lost, the British are clinging tenaciously to the positions wrested from the Germans. The series of engagements on the French front in the last few days has not altered conditions appreciably.

SOLDIERS TELL OF THE BATTLE

Terrific Fight at Champagne

FRENCH CHARGE TRENCHES

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—From the accounts given by wounded soldiers and others who have returned from the front the story of the French charge which marked the critical point in the new offensive movement is being gradually pieced together. One point on which there is general agreement is the great speed with which the movement was executed.

A colonial infantryman who was wounded in the fighting between Souain and Suippes, in the Champagne, says:

FRENCH CHARGE TRENCHES.

"Our captain said to us at the moment for the charge, 'You'll have to run hard, for we are in the first wave of men,' and we did run. When we came to the first trench we leaped over it with a stab at the occupants. One could hear nothing but the hoarse breathing of one's neighbors and the roar of the guns. Bullets whistled about everybody's ears from one side, evidently from machine guns.

"Our captain shouted: 'Stop at that redoubt.' We were just in time. Three machine guns were pumping away at us and several others were being brought out of a tunnel. We bayoneted them back and front.

"'You've got to be quick in a charge like that. A second lost means death.'"

Lieutenant C—— of the Colonial infantry, who was wounded in the Artois district, protests at stories that Germans surrendered without resisting.

"It is only at the last moment, when they realize that their lives cannot stop us, that they ground their arms and throw up their hands," the lieutenant said. "Even then most of the men don't give in, but fight on with trench knives and revolvers.

"It was in one of these encounters that I was wounded. I was fighting with two Germans.

"I killed one of them, who had sliced off my arm with six blows, a sergeant behind me killed the other."

GERMANS RELIEVE AUSTRIAN FORCES

Battalion Destroyed While Attempting to Cross Danube at Samendria.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—A dispatch received from the Serbian frontier announces that German troops have relieved the Austrian forces on the first line along the bank of the Danube, according to the Petit Parisien's Bucharest correspondent.

"A German battalion which tried to cross the river at Semendria last Saturday was destroyed," the correspondent says. "A detachment coming to its help in a barge was drowned. Several different attempts at various places to cross the river were repulsed with heavy losses.

"Bulgarian soldiers are deserting in large numbers and taking refuge in Rumania. Eight hundred arrived Thursday at Calafat. Most of them belonged to the cavalry regiment at Widin. A majority of the men saved their equipment. They declare that the Bulgarian women are doing their utmost to prevent the men from joining the colors, and that the soldiers will throw down their arms on the first occasion they meet the Russians. They add that the gulf between the people and the government is increasing, and that M. Stambuliwski, the leader of the Agrarians, has presented a new petition to King Ferdinand."

ISSUES STATEMENT ON CHILDREN LABOR LAW

Superintendent A. C. Barker of the school department has caused to be prepared a statement of the conditions under which children will be permitted to work, as prescribed by the new law which has just gone into effect. There has been some confusion concerning this among parents and also among employers.

According to the law which went into effect on August 5 of this year, there are three classes of permits which may be issued to children to work, as follows:

1. A child who is fifteen years of age and who has completed the equivalent of the seventh grade grammar school work, and who is not physically disabled.

2. A child who has graduated from the public school, or its equivalent, and is past the age of fourteen years, may be granted a graduate's permit if he is physically able to work.

3. A child who for various reasons, such as a widowed mother without other means of support, an orphan who has to make his own living, or any condition in which it becomes absolutely necessary for a child to earn his own living, and provided he is physically able to do so, may be given a special permit to work after he is fourteen years old.

Children who are fourteen years or over may get "After School Working Permits," which will entitle them to work on Saturdays and after school.

On the reverse side of the School Attendance Card will be found the requirements that every child must comply with before he can obtain a permit of any kind.

Health and Success

Depend Largely Upon the Food You Eat.

Health and Success invariably go hand in hand in the struggle of life. The competition is too keen in these modern times to permit of the survival of any but the fittest. You cannot be fit if you are not well, and you cannot be well if you do not eat right.

Many an otherwise capable man or woman has been hopelessly handicapped in the battle of life by an improper selection of food—which sent them out into the world day after day enervated and listless, and utterly unable to do themselves justice.

It is essential, therefore, that the food be light, yet strengthening—easy to digest but full of energy-producing qualities. Whole wheat meets these requirements fully, and nothing of this kind seems better than a prepared food known as "FORCE," which can be obtained at all good grocers.

Try "FORCE" for your breakfast the next few days, and see what a difference a perfect food makes in your health and capacity.—Advertisement.

Holds Conference With Thirty-nine Delegates in Colorado Fuel Co. Plant.

By Associated Press.

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 2.—About thirty delegates to the coal camps superintendents from sixteen miles and a half dozen company officials met John D. Rockefeller Jr. and President G. F. Welborn, at a meeting of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company officers today.

Among the miners' delegates were seven from Fremont County, all of whom declared themselves members of the United Mine Workers of America and former strikers.

Practically all the other delegates were non-union men most of them having worked for the company during the strike.

Rockefeller in opening the address to the meeting, said: "This is a red letter day in my life. This is the first time I have ever had an opportunity to speak to the delegates of the miners and the officers of the company together. This is a day which I shall remember to my dying day."

"Two weeks ago in a meeting of this kind we would have met as strangers. Since then I have visited the coal camps of Southern Colorado. I have gone into your homes and met your wives and children. So now I feel that we meet not as strangers, but as friends."

Rockefeller then outlined his idea of a corporation, saying it was made up of four parties, stockholders, directors, officers and employes.

"The interests of neither one of these four parties can be neglected without disaster to the whole company," he said.

"The piling is in a bad condition," said Mayor Davie. "If a disaster should occur there, the city would be blamed."

MONOPOLY APPARENT IN YOSEMITE DEAL, SAY CURRY'S FRIENDS

Mark Daniels Gives Blustering Interview, in Which He Threatens to Close Yosemite Park to the Public

Stephen T. Mather, assistant secretary of the interior in charge of national parks, is on his way to Washington, D. C., to have an iron clad contract drawn up by the Attorney-General giving the Desmond Park Service Company an exclusive hotel privilege in Yosemite for twenty years, with a possible codicil giving the company supremacy power over all the concessions in the park. David C. Curry, proprietor for the past 17 years of Camp Curry, in Yosemite, has also left San Francisco for Washington to make a fight against the contract being entered into, and to lay his case before Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane. Captain Curry fears that he is going to be put out of business, and he is ready to take his fight to congress or to the courts if he learns that there is any redress to be had from either of these sources.

Mark Daniels, superintendent and landscape engineer of national parks, stated today that he thinks it will require 60 or 90 days before the contract can be formally entered into, and in the meanwhile Curry plans to prosecute his fight with the assistance of a large army of friends whom he has interested in his cause.

The threat is made that if Curry occasions too much trouble by stirring antagonisms and controversies, Yosemite will be closed by Secretary Lane to all hotel and camp concessionaires, and only camping parties will be permitted. This would mean that the no one of moderate means could visit the park next year.

CHANGE IS COMING.

Whatever happens, a great change is due in the management of affairs at Yosemite Valley, and the old "go-as-you-please days" will be no more. Curry and his friends believe that the result will be an air-tight monopoly for the benefit of D. J. Desmond, head of the Desmond Park Service Company, and the catering to exclusive tourist trade in the valley. He even goes so far as to intimate that Desmond, Assistant Secretary Mather and Superintendent Daniels have been governed by selfish, personal motives in negotiating for the closing of the 20-year hotel privilege contract.

Curry and Desmond came to blows over the matter last Saturday, and the feeling between Curry and Daniels is not particularly amicable. Daniels declares, however, that he gets along with Curry better than any previous park superintendent.

"When I know Curry is wrong and that he knows it too," said Daniels, "I tell him he's a d——n liar without mincing any words. When he thinks I am wrong, he comes and tells me so in a manner that leaves no doubt in my mind."

Daniels admitted that a plan had been under consideration to place all the camps and concessions under the direction of Desmond, with an arrangement by which Desmond should pay fifty per cent net to the government, while each subordinate concession must pay Desmond 50 per cent net for the superintendence performed by him. The plan was abandoned when it was shown that this would make it possible for Desmond to run his own place at a loss, while making the subordinate concessionaires pay the difference. Daniels stated that some form of organization, bringing all the concessions under one head, must be worked out, or the concession privileges in the valley might be dispensed with altogether.

Daniels frankly admits that the plan of handling the park in future, if he has his way, is to be along the lines of a governmentally controlled monopoly Desmond is to have the monopoly.

Desmond has no permit at present. He is in possession of a letter from Secretary Lane in which the specific promise is made that he will be given this 20-year concession as soon as the details of the contract can be definitely agreed upon and the contract drawn up.

"Is this an exclusive privilege for a hotel in Yosemite Valley?" Superintendent Daniels was asked.

"No, it is not an exclusive privilege," answered Daniels.

"Then if another company applied for a permit to conduct a hotel, that would be granted?"

"No," answered Daniels. "We believe one hotel is enough in Yosemite Valley."

"Then it is a practical monopoly?"

"Yes. The tendency with regard to publicly owned property is toward governmentally controlled monopoly," said Daniels. "That is the policy along which the state railroad commission is working. It has been found to give the best results in service to the public.

The government regulates the rates and the conditions of service, and that brings about a condition in which the company holding the franchise or permit gains a fair return upon its investment, but no more than a fair return.

"The trouble with Curry is that if he had to be cut down to a fair return, he would lose half his profits."

"What is the method of getting competition in the letting of such a contract as this for a 20-year exclusive privilege? Did you call for bids?"

NO BIDS CALLED FOR.

"The government has found that it is inadvisable to call for bids on a proposition of this kind," Daniels replied. "The highest bidder for such a privilege might be the last man whom the government would wish to let the contract to.

"I received offers from three persons. We investigated them thoroughly, as to their ability to carry out the plans of this department, as to their financial responsibility, and as to their general standing. All three were satisfactory. But Desmond offered the highest percentage. He was not, however, the one I recommended.

"Was Curry asked to present a proposition?

"Curry was not invited to make a proposal," Daniels explained. "This work is beyond his capacity. He is a good man in his line. He has done much for Yosemite Valley. He has advertised it well. But he has his limitations, and they unfit him to undertake a proposition of this character. In some ways he has done more harm to the valley than good. He is a fighter, and he is always stirring things up. That sort of thing does harm. He makes people go away dissatisfied. These men must get together and co-operate, or nothing can be accomplished."

"Who were the other two bidders?"

"I should prefer not to give their names," Daniels answered. "They are men of excellent standing in the community, and it might be considered to reflect in some way upon them that they were not given the privilege."

"Only one man could get it," it was suggested, "and you say that Desmond offered the best percentage. If I understand you, it was clearly because he made the best offer that he was successful. He thought he could make a profit while offering the government a better percentage, while the others possibly figured more conservatively."

OFFERS 50 PER CENT.

"That is the case," said Daniels. "But I did not wish there to be any misunderstanding. Desmond offered to return to the government 50 per cent of his net profits. One of the others offered 33 per cent, and the other only 25.

"The two others who submitted proposals, which are in letters filed with the secretary, were Harris Weinstock and Gfive-ms ml-DeducatdSt.u cmfw cmf cm C. A. Hawkins, chairman of the finance committee of the Merchants' National Bank."

"Curry intimates that there is something wrong in this contract to be entered into with Desmond, that the secretary, his assistant, Mr. Mather, and you might have ulterior motives in the matter of favoring Desmond. How about that?"

"That is nonsensical," Daniels declared. "In the first place, Mr. Mather is a man of national reputation. He has contributed his services to the public in many ways. He worked out the solution to the traction problem for the city of Chicago, doing pioneer work in presenting an intelligent plan for granting a franchise whereby the municipality would gain an adequate return. His standing would make such a suggestion absurd. I am losing money on this job.

"But even more than that, the contract will be one of such a character that the government will retain absolute control. Let me explain to you the general terms of the contract.

"Desmond agrees to pay the government 50 per cent net, but this is based on the returns after writing off depreciations, maintenance, and operating expense and interest on the investment. The manner in which these items are to be established will be specifically set forth in the contract, so that the holder of the privilege will not be able to pad his payroll, make an unjust allowance for depreciation, or reduce the net showing in any other illegitimate manner.

TO REGULATE PRICES.

"The government reserves the exclusive right to regulate all prices charged at the hotel for all classes of service from year to year. The books, by the terms of the agreement, may be kept by a government expert, or may be kept by the company, if the secretary of the interior so decides, but must be open to inspection at all times.

"With these facts in the possession of the government, and the right to fix rates for service, we can reduce the rates to the public to the minimum that will give the concessionaire a fair return upon his investment.

"I told Desmond that we shall expect him to get the rate down to two figures. He has promised that if it is physically possible, this will be done. It may be that to do it, he will have to fix it at 99 cents.

"This will of course affect these other camps. But we intend to popularize Yosemite, and to give good accommodations. Desmond is the man who can do it. He has an interest in some ten hotels. He is one of the most experienced men in catering for great crowds in the United States. He organized the feeding of the fire and earthquake refugees, and was highly complimented for his work, and he handled the catering for the force on the Los Angeles aqueduct. If any man can give service and get the rates down, he can."

SAYS SERVICE WAS POOR.

That the people of the East have deliberately avoided the Yosemite because of inadequate and antiquated hotel accommodations, and that this state has been the loser by from five to ten million dollars annually as a result, is the declaration of Daniels. It is Daniels' opinion that 200,000 people would be led to view the wonders of Yosemite every year could they be assured of the luxuries of a modern hotel during their stay in the valley.

The old Sentinel hotel, which was formerly a government barn, is to be torn down after the present season closes, and the new hostelry will be erected just across the river. Whether or not the various camps now operated under grants from year to year will be allowed to remain in the valley has not been definitely determined, according to Daniels.

"California has lost millions of dollars and we have been deprived of hundreds of thousands of tourists in the Yosemite by the lack of a more local," declared Daniels today. "Californians do not mind sleeping in a tent or putting up with poor attendance when they go seeking a vacation, but easterners feel different. They are not always willing to 'rough it,' and the report has gone abroad that that is just what they will have to do if they visit the Yosemite valley. This is the only reason we have not been getting the crowds. Montana, with its comparatively small population, drew more people to Glacier National park last year than we had at Yosemite, and a greater number entered one gate at Yellowstone this Expositon year, than visited our own great valley. The Sentinel hotel is a barn. It was pressed into service when the old hotel burned. It will be destroyed. The new hotel, which it is now proposed to build, will be constructed either of stone or plaster with the latest improvements. It will be essentially fire-proof. The building is to contain from 100 to 125 rooms. The plans have already been submitted, but must finally be passed upon by the secretary."

SPECIAL TRAIN PARTIES TO COME, 1000 STRONG

Nearly 1000 people will compose the special train parties which will travel via the Chicago and Northwestern railway and the Union Pacific railroad to their annuol convention to be held in San Francisco, October 5-9.

The Chicago delegation special train left the new passenger terminal of the Chicago and Northwestern railway at 10 p. m. Thursday, September 30.

It consisted of five fully equipped special trains to carry all the members, which is the largest movement controlled by one organization making the trip to the Pacific coast this season.

This party is being personally escorted by representatives of the department of tours of the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwestern line, and under the direction of S. A. Hutchinson, manager.

POLICE AID SEARCH FOR MISSING MISS HASBERG

The police of the bay region are assisting in the search being made for Miss Helen Hasberg, 17 years of age, of Sacramento, who disappeared mysteriously while on her way from Sacramento to Oakland Thursday. The girl was planning to visit friends here and to go to the Exposition. She left Sacramento on Train No. 45, due Thursday morning, but failed to arrive.

The Sacramento police have also been notified and are assisting in the investigation, as are the state railroad police. It is feared the girl may have fallen into the hands of designing persons on the train.

Miss Hasberg is described as 5 feet 4½ inches in height, weighing 98 pounds, of medium complexion, and when last seen wore a white coat, black hat and black shoes, laced on the side.

TURNS IN BED; INJURED.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—While turning over in bed, at his home, in Schwenksville, ex-Governor Pennypacker fractured his right arm. The former governor was reading in bed, and when he changed his position there was a snap, followed by a stinging pain. After an examination by Dr. H. Croskey Alen, of Schwenksville, Mr. Pennypacker came to the Pennsylvania hospital, this city.

MUNITION STRIKE ENDS.

By Associated Press.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 2.—The three weeks' strike of cartridge workers at the plant of the United States Cartridge Company ended last night when the strikers voted to return to work pending arbitration of the question of wages by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration.

HAS BLOOD FOR ARMY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Dr. James J. Hogan of 1801 Jones street, San Francisco, the inventor of a substitute for human blood that has been successfully used in transfusion cases, has returned from Germany on the American liner St. Paul. He was invited to visit the military hospitals and demonstrate his discovery to the army surgeons.

SPECIAL HARVEST SERVICES.

Special harvest services will be held tomorrow at the Salvation Army citadel, 533 Ninth street. Band music and songs will be features. Colonel Lee will lead the service at 8 p. m. Adjutant and Mrs. McClelland, the new commanders, have sent out a general invitation to the meeting.

GETS SLAIN MAN'S COIN.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—Charles Mueller, a brother, living in San Francisco, was made the chief legatee in the will of Colonel Robert W. Mueller, who, with his wife, was killed mysteriously at their summer home on Puckaway lake, a week ago.

LIBRARIANS MEET IN QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

Inaugurating quarterly conferences librarians in charge of twenty-seven branch libraries throughout Alameda county met at the public library yesterday with Miss Mary Barnby, the county librarian. The quarterly meetings are for the purpose of discussing books and methods.

Two new departments of the county system are the deposit at the Alameda Girls' Training Home and one in a private home in Crow canyon.

The librarians of the Oakland branches also held a meeting at the public library today. Mrs. Alice G. Whitbeck, Contra Costa librarian, spoke to them on "Children's Books."

Bids for the Melrose branch library will be opened October 5. The building will be a story and a half concrete affair and will cost $35,000.

ALASKAN RUNS AMUCK AND ENDS FOUR LIVES

By Associated Press.

DAWSON, Yukon Territory, Oct. 2.—Alexander Geogoff, a section hand employed by the White Pass and Yukon railroad, three miles south of White Horse, ran amuck yesterday and killed four men. The dead are:

Patrick Winslow, section foreman; Thomas Bokontch, George Lane and Henry Cook, all section employes.

WILL ELECT SUCCESSOR.

Members of the Franklin School Parent-Teachers' Association will hold their regular meeting in the school next Thursday to elect a successor to their president, Mrs. S. F. Rutter, who recently tendered her resignation. Mrs. Rutter was president for one entire term and was recently re-elected to the office. Much of the credit for the success of the organization is said to be due to the leadership of Mrs. Rutter.

VILLA'S FALL IN MEXICO AT HAND

End of Revolutionary Movement Expected by Washington Officials.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—That the fall of the Villa revolutionary movement is near is believed in official circles here today. Further word is awaited of the reported journey of several Villa chiefs to Vera Cruz, commissioned, it is said, to arrange the surrender of many Villistas.

"It is stated," said an announcement from the Carranza agency, "that they are traveling incognito because Villa is ignorant of their intention and of this recent action of his subordinates and secrecy must be preserved in order to avoid assassination of such of them as still remain within his reach."

The Carranza agency gave out also what purported to be an intercepted telegram from the Villa consul at Tia Juana, Lower California, to Enrique C. Llorente, Villa's Washington representative, saying that conditions in the territory being abandoned by Villa "were growing worse every day," and that General Villa intended "to proceed westward into districts hitherto crowded by the fighting and where there are crops in abundance."

A cablegram from the Carranza minister of foreign affairs to the agency here with reference to conditions in Mexico City said:

"Normal light and power conditions have been restored here and all street railway lines and manufacturing industries using electricity have resumed operations.

"The food situation is becoming more nearly normal each day. Large quantities of all sorts of supplies, including beef cattle, are arriving regularly, and prices are lowering as a consequence.

"The sidetracks of many railway stations near the capital are crowded with cars laden with supplies awaiting haulage to the city. The restaurants of the city are presenting a better and more varied bill of fare, and at much lower prices even than in Vera Cruz. Freight and passenger traffic between this city and Vera Cruz and other points is being regularly maintained."

GENERAL TRANSFERRED.

By Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 2.—The transfer of General E. P. Nafarrate, the Carranza commander at Matamoras, from this border, a change which American officers here consider highly important in helping to restore peace on the international boundary, was announced by General Nafarrate today himself. He said that General Lopez, now with the Carranza army near Torreon, is expected to succeed him at Matamoros.

WITH MUNITIONS TO COME CRISIS

Great Maneuver Battle for Which World Waits May Come Very Soon.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Times correspondent with the British headquarters in France reports that the torrential rains and cold, biting winds of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—Marchlike weather—were unfortunate for both sides, but especially for the attackers, because they prevented reconnoissances, made all aircraft work difficult, depressed the men and interferred with the artillery observation work, while the spongy earth lessened the effect of the shell fire.

Regarding the German defense, the correspondent says:

"Some people talk as if there existed an endless series of German positions, stretching right away to the Rhine. This, of course, is unbelievable. We are ignorant of their number, but it may be said that it is strictly limited, since fortified positions are not the work of a magician's wand, but of arduous labor.

"The enemy is suffering heavily in guns and men and even if he gets plenty of reinforcements he is suffering a strain of the most harassing kind of the war and his resistance power weakens with the loss of each fresh position. If men and munitions are forthcoming to the allies the autumn may still see the maneuver battle on a grand scale for which the world has been waiting."

HIGH OFFICERS KILLED.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Among the deaths at the front announced by the war office are those of Lord Petre, a lieutenant in the Coldstream Guard, who succumbed to wounds received in the recent fighting in France, and Lieutenant the Hon. Maurice Nelson Hood, eldest son of Viscount Bridport, who was killed in the Dardanelles. Lord Petre was 25 years old. Lieutenant Hood was born in 1881.

Allies to Agree On Prize System

Commission Empowered to Act With U. S.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2, 1:22 p. m.—The Globe says it is ascertained that Baron Reading, head of the Anglo-French Commission, "has been empowered to agree at New York to some international tribunal to override the existing system of prize courts."

This statement is made in the Globe's comment on the question Sir Arthur Markham has given notice he will put in the House of Commons whether Foreign Secretary Grey will adhere to the statement recently made that freedom of the seas may be a reasonable subject of discussion after the war.

The Globe vigorously attacks all such proposals as calculated to limit Great Britain's sea power.

McCARTHY WITHDRAWS IN FAVOR OF GINTY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—William H. McCarthy has withdrawn from the race for assessor. He made this known yesterday in a signed statement in which he expressed the hope that his supporters would vote for Ginty.

At the preliminary election John Ginty lacked only 535 votes of being elected. His plurality over McCarthy was 25,090.

Following is a portion of the announcement of his withdrawal, issued yesterday by McCarthy:

"To the Voters of San Francisco: Under the provisions of the direct primary law, my name must appear as a candidate at the general election for the office of Assessor. The law should be revised particularly in this respect: One election should be sufficient. It unfairly prescribes that though a man may attain a decisive plurality, he must run again in order to receive a majority of the votes cast.

"Against the desire of many of my friends, I now desire my intention of making no further effort in this campaign and ask those who supported me to make Mr. Ginty's election unanimous.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

An American flag will be presented to the Sunday school of St. Peter's church tomorrow morning at 10:15 o'clock by the members of the Lyon Women's Relief Corps, No. 6, auxiliaries to the Grand Army of the Republic. A special service will be held and addresses given by the rector, Rev. Edgar F. Gee, and Comrade Joseph H. Lawrence. Regular services will be held at 9, 11:15 and 7:30 o'clock.

HAPPY PLACED ON PROBATION TERM

Appears in Court After Recent Conviction on Failure to Provide Charge.

Frank D. Happy, the electrician whose marital woes occupied the attention of the local courts for several months, was placed on two months' probation by Judge W. M. Conley, sitting in the criminal department today. Happy was recently found guilty of failure to provide for his wife, Margaret, who recently divorced him on cruelty charges, and their minor children.

Happy, through his appearance in court this morning, justified Judge Conley's confidence in him. Two weeks ago, after a jury had convicted Happy, Judge Conley released him on a small bond, instructing him to appear in court this morning for final sentence in his case. District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and deputies in the office demurred at this action, saying that it was violating precedent to release a prisoner following his conviction on a criminal charge.

The Happy divorce case occupied the attention of the courts for several months. Mrs. Happy accused her spouse of various forms of cruelty. He contested the action and it dragged through the courts for many weary sessions before Mrs. Happy was finally granted the divorce decree and the custody of the children. Happy was then accused of failing to pay the money ordered by the court for the support of the children, and his arrest on a failure to provide charge resulted.

CAFE CHARMER VANISHES FROM SWAIN WITH PURSE

Hanley Fisher, who lodges at the Pine rooming house, Seventh and Pine streets, met a young woman of attractive appearance and charming manners at the Mint cafe last night, and her trusting manner led him to repose great confidence in her honesty. He reported to the police today that when he awoke this morning he experienced a feeling of loss of faith in mankind. The young woman and his purse, containing $140, had disappeared.

Francis Sasaki, 423 Seventh street, reported to the police that his room was entered and jewelry stolen. Joseph Krocy, 821 Grove street, reported the theft of $25 from his room.

IOWANS HOLD PICNIC.

The annual picnic held by former residents of Iowa took place today at Mosswood Park. Hundreds of loyal Iowans from all over Alameda county and from across the bay celebrated with games, music, dancing and talks. Samuel M. Shortridge was orator of the day. The attendance at the outing was a record.

'COLLEGE HERO' TO BE STUPENDOUS SHOW

BENEFIT HAS SOCIETY ON QUI VIVE

Great Musical Spectacle to Be Given Three Nights in Oakland.

Everything is in readiness for the production of "The College Hero," the big musical spectacle, which will be given for three nights, beginning next Monday, October 4, and to be repeated Wednesday and Friday nights, October 6 and 8, in the Municipal Auditorium Opera House. Interest is at a high pitch throughout the entire eastbay region and many of the society people of San Francisco will also attend and help to swell the receipts. The production is being given for the benefit of the building fund of the Oakland New Century Club Settlement Association.

Elaborate preparations have been made for "The College Hero," and every detail connected with its production has been carefully worked out. It is predicted that it will be the most perfect performance of its kind ever given in the bay cities, and is expected to set a new precedent. More than 500 young people, including many well-known maids, younger matrons and students of the eastbay high schools and the University of California, have been rehearsing daily for the last month in the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland. Because of the great number in the cast the lounge-room and northwest room of the hotel have also been placed at the disposal of the young people. They have received the severest kind of training by well-known dramatic coaches brought to Oakland by the board of directors of the New Century Club. Not ony have they been thoroughly coached in their lines, but they have also received courses in dancing, stage presence and physical culture.

REPLETE WITH FEATURES.

"The College Hero" will present an elaborate display of scenery, costumes and electrical effects. It has been rewritten and revised for the last ten years, and is now recognized as the best-adapted play for amateurs on the stage. There are 20 principal parts and as many big choruses. A feature of the play consists of 25 dancing and singing groups in costume, among them being the following: Bathing girls, basket-ball girls, alumni, bell boys, waiters, French maids, Meta Fi sorority, Grata Fi fraternity, jockey girls, guests, football players, preparatory schoolgirls, tennis girls, golf girls, banjo dancing girls, cabaret singers, Bi Delta sorority, Meta Di fraternity, sophomores, dancing girls, freshmen, seniors, juniors and gymnasium girls.

Included in the cast are many well-known amateur players, among them being Frederick G. Harrison, who will play the role of Richard Fiske, the college hero, son of Senator Fiske. Included among the singers and musicians to take part are Mrs. Stella Coughlin Jelica, Mrs. Bernice Van Gelder Weingarten, Mrs. H. C. Noo, Miss Roxana Weihe, Miss Helen Sutphen, Miss Helen Hambly, Miss Lucy Van de Mark and many others. Among the star features will be the playing on the piano of Elizabeth Short, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Short. Little Elizabeth will play selections from Schubert, Chopin and Schumann, and will also give two of her own compositions, "The Merrymakers of the Portola" and "The Chimes," written when she was four years old. She has been pronounced a musical prodigy by the critics, and a great career is predicted for her. Miss Gladys Gerrish will give a dancing act. She recently appeared with Miss Margaret Anglin at the Greek theater and has taken part in amateur plays in the bay cities. Miss Dorothy Fawcett and Jack M. Wesley will dance the fox trot. Important roles will be filled by James B. Muir, Carlton D. Dethlefsen and Mrs. George H. Coolidge.

GAY COLLEGE SCENES.

"The College Hero" is replete with gay scenes of college life, college yells, songs and choruses. The action is built up around the annual football game with a rival college, and victory is celebrated with the cheering of more than 200 college students on the stage. This finale is one of the most gripping now shown on the stage, and is so effective that the audience is expected to join in. Act two, depicting a restaurant scene, where the students and their friends go to make merry, following the football contest, is full of whirlwind movement, and several hours of action is crowded into the space of an hour.

The sale of tickets has been very heavy. To insure the success of the big benefit the merchants of the city and others have co-operated liberally. Many handsome prizes have been offered by the businessmen to the members of the cast selling the most tickets, and a chance on an automobile, donated by the Chevrolet people, is being given with every ticket purchased. The city has been placarded with posters advertising the play, and "College Hero" specials were advertised by the leading stores. "College Hero" kisses, a confection, the recipe of which is the secret of a number of the society girls taking part in the play, were placed on sale at the Pig 'n Whistle.

The augmented orchestra for the play will be led by August Hinrichs, well-known director. He has scoured the bay cities for the best musicians, and their work will be in keeping with the high-class performance of the members of the cast.

The members of the New Century Club, who are giving the play to raise a debt from their clubhouse at Fifth and Peralta streets, have invited the public to attend. They are assured of a finished production, the most spectacular ever given in Oakland.

SAYS WAR WILL END IN SPRING

Prince Andre Poniatowski, on Visit Here, Tells of French Preparations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—"France has placed orders for supplies in increasing amounts up to the end of 1916, but I do not expect the war to last later than next spring."

Prince Andre Poniatowski, who is here for a visit of three days to his sister-in-law, Mrs. William H. Crocker, spoke guardedly last night of the prospects of France in war, and the fighting, as he had seen it only six weeks ago at Souchez.

Rumor has it that Poniatowski came to America and to San Francisco to aid in placing the Anglo-French loan, but of this the Prince refuses to talk, claiming that it would be an impropriety for an officer of the French army, and not only has he served himself as "Liaison Officer"—a title that requires the explanation that he saw to it that the English right wing and the French wing moved in proper unison—but his two sons are "at the front," Stanislaus with the machine guns, and Casimir with the big guns.

WERE BUT AMATEURS.

"Qualities have been demanded of France that she did not formerly possess," he says, "endurance, persistance and patience in the face of defeat. Now we have learned. Looking back it seems incredible that we should have withstood the attack of the professionals, for we were amateurs. Now we are professionals, too. What we learned in the seventy-two days fighting at Souchez and Arras we are now applying in the Champagne, and at other points of the front. I knew of the plans for this offensive before I left France, and I am waiting now to see if the rest of the plan is carried out.

SOUCHEZ A MEMORY.

"They say they have taken Souchez, but there is no Souchez. I looked over the place where it was, and it is as flat as this floor. Not a stone left."

Of the spirit of the French people Poniatowski says:

"It is splendid! At first we did not know what it would be, this great war. Now we know, and we know that we can stand it. There is no more uncertainty. We are no longer amateurs. It is glorious sport. At the front there is singing. Behind the line the theaters are open and it is gay. But away from the fighting, that is where one finds the sadness."

Although he declined to speak of the loan, Poniatowski tacitly admitted that a large amount of the bonds would be taken here in San Francisco. Who the purchasers are may not be known. The bankers will merely execute the orders "as bankers" as they say, and still be perfectly neutral.

"The allies are only just reaching a state of readiness," Poniatowski says. "In two or three months the amount of ammunition available will be stupendous. And if I could tell you what is being done in the aviation department it would be scarcely believable. We know now what it means, this great war, and we are happy."

OIL OPERATOR JUMPS FROM S. F. BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—With a laugh still on his lips after bidding goodby to Dr. J. Henry Barbat, with whom he had been treating for paresis, Joseph Sutcliffe, wealthy mining and oil operator, 2197 Divisadero street, calmly walked to the window of the physician's reception room, on the sixth floor of the Lathrop building, 275 Post street, yesterday afternoon, and hurled himself to his death. Sutcliffe's leap was witnessed by a crowd of horrified women shoppers.

Sutcliffe was 37 years old, and was well known by oil men throughout the country. He came from a prominent New Orleans, La., family. His father, W. W. Sutcliffe, is the owner of a large plantation near that city, and a brother, William Sutcliffe, is an official of the German-American Bank in New Orleans.

CHARLES CLIVE BAYLEY CONSUL AT NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The appointment of Charles Clive Bayley as British consul-general at New York was announced.

Charles Clive Bayley, who has been consul-general at Moscow since 1913, has previously been stationed in New York, having been British consul in that city from 1907 to 1909, afterward going to Warsaw and holding the post of consul there until appointed to the higher post at Moscow. He succeeds as consul-general in New York, Sir Courtenay Walter Bennett, who has been consul-general since 1907.

110,000 ACRES TO BE OPENED AS HOMESTEADS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Secretary Lane today announced the opening of 110,000 acres of land within the former Fort Berthold Indian reservation, North Dakota, to surface homestead entry. Registrations may be made at Minot, Bismarck and Plaza, N. D., beginning October 18 and ending October 30.

LOSS IN MOSCOW RIOT, $19,250,000

Report of City Submitted to Dumba Show Further Damage Entailed.

By Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Oct. 2.—The three months that have elapsed since the riots in Moscow of June 9-12, has not lessened the impression made upon the public mind. A final report of the city administration has now been submitted to the Duma. In person or property several hundred individuals were injured. Among those injured were 113 German or Austrian subjects, 189 Russians with foreign names or subjects of neutral or allied government, and nine Russians with Russian names. There were sixty-one incendiary fires. The property damages as estimated by the city authorities amounted to $19,250,000. In addition, losses of indefinite amounts, not yet reported or estimated, were sustained by 122 business firms and fifty-nine householders. The government is to be questioned as to its intentions with respect to indemnifying those who have suffered through mob action.

NO BREAD RIOT.

There has been no evidence of the hand of any hitherto known political leaders in the outbreak. It was not a bread riot. There is no hunger in Russia. Crops have been more than normal. There is work for everybody and the government is supporting the families of the soldiers at the front.

The explanation of the rioting probably is to be found in the growth during the last fifteen years of a hand to mouth urban population, now without connection with the villages, which formerly exercised a steadying influence. On the other hand, this population is still without urban traditions or the influence of trade unions or guilds.

This is the first account in such detail of Russian internal troubles during the last few months. Owing to the strictness of the Russian censorship, little has been known beyond the fact that there have been disorders of considerable importance.

CENTENARIAN INJURED.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth Phipps Hastings, of this borough, who celebrated her 102d birthday last March, fell in her room and broke one of her legs below the knee. Notwithstanding her age and her accident, she is in fine spirits and expects to have the member restored to its former usefulness in a few weeks.

CENTURY CLUB MERITS BIG BENEFIT

"College Hero" Will Be Tribute to Valiant Work of Children's Champions.

The Oakland New Century Club, which for more than twenty years has worked valiantly for the children of West Oakland, in the belief that it is better and cheaper to make a good citizen than to reform a bad one, will benefit by the musical hurrah, "The College Hero," to be given at the Civic Auditorium Opera House on the evenings of October 4, 6 and 8.

Service is the keynote of this club, and its efforts toward making useful, self-respectful citizens deserve the appreciation and help of every member of society.

From out of the records of a club whose aims are purely practical, one can hardly hope to gather garlands of poesy, yet the humblest act may be glorified by the spirit that compels it. The Oakland New Century Club has seen in its work for the children a vision of what the world will be when every little innocent child may have the care that will nurture, instead of crush the Divine image in which each one is created.

AIM OF ACTIVITIES.

The activities of this club were designed to stimulate and develop the virtues which a community like West Oakland most needs—industry, perseverance, patience, dexterity, economy and thrift. Classes in domestic science were maintained for ten years, until the public schools installed such work. In fact, it was largely through the example of their club and to the demonstration it made to the Oakland board of education that cooking, sewing and manual training were introduced into the Oakland public schools. A kindergarten, supported for some years by private funds, and for more than fifteen years maintained by the Oakland New Century Club, has been recently taken over by the board of education, the club donating its kindergarten equipment and the use of one of the brightest, cheeriest rooms in the city of Oakland.

LOVE OF HUMANITY.

The president of the Oakland New Century Club, Mrs. Robert Watt, in one of her early reports, said: "We realize that deeper meaning of philanthropy, which signifies not charity or the giving of alms, but love of humanity." The work of the club has been largely for the child and will continue to be its chief aim so long as there is a child to work for, knowing that there is little in heredity that cannot be overcome by training and example.

Boys' and girls' clubs devoted mostly to basket ball, gymnasium work and amusement, meet every evening in the commodius clubrooms. It is through these that the club hopes to influence the home life of the vast numbers who are coming to us from every nation to become a part of our future citizenship.

Home education for the parents ignorant of American ideals is required, and to this end the Oakland New Century Club is working to obtain for West Oakland a home teacher, as provided for by the last state legislature.

DAY NURSERY DREAM.

A day nursery is another dream which the club hopes to soon see realized. A place where the mothers of the neighborhood who work in the canneries or railroad yard may leave their babies, and where, unconsciously, perhaps, the mothers may imbibe lessons of cleanliness, hygiene and proper feeding.

A maternity cottage, too, is sadly needed in this locality, a free clinic and a playground for the little tots. But as yet these are things to be worked for, hoped for in the near future in this congested, triangular space, girded by railroad tracks, where twenty-one nationalities contribute to the population. It is the district south of Seventh street, near Oakland Point, remote from parks, playgrounds and churches, but where saloons abound.

WILSON'S "FRIEND" TAKEN INTO CUSTODY AT FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—A mysterious exposition visitor who has been frequenting the grounds for the past few weeks, flashing big rolls of money and posing as an intimate friend of President Woodrow Wilson to whom he telegraphed daily, was taken into custody yesterday by the police, pending an investigation of his sanity. The stranger gave first the name of J. C. Dalansky, but later gave the name of Joe Dolan.

Dalansky, or Dolan, first came to the attention of the exposition guards and detectives Thursday, when he sent a thousand word telegram to President Wilson, couched in endearing terms about J. P. Morgan and his son.

INVENTION EXPECTED TO CAST VOICE OVER WORLD

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The invention of a device with which it is hoped to prevent static interefrence with wireless communication was announced today by Professor Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University. Professor Pupin said his invention eliminates entirely the difficulties constantly interfering with wireless messages over a long distance. The application of his device, Professor Pupin said, also will make it possible to transmit the human voice an unlimited distance without the slightest interference from unfavorable electrical conditions.

The invention, Professor Pupin said, is an improvement on the present aerial antennae.

S. S. HARVARD AND S. S. YALE RESUME SERVICE

The S. S. Yale and Harvard have resumed their regular schedule between Los Angeles and San Diego, and owing to their superior service are carrying capacity passenger lists. A trip on these elegant passenger ships to the southland gives the traveling public an enjoyable voyage, as they travel at the speed of an express train, and the passenger receives the service that can only be afforded by the most up to date hotel with freedom from smoke, dirt and noise, and gives to the patrons at this time of the year a cool, exhilerating and bracing sea trip. There are seven ships in the merchant marine of the world that can make 24 knots and over, and the Yale and Harvard are two of the seven.

BERKELEY GOSSIP of STUDENTS AND RESIDENTS IN UNIVERSITY TOWN AND SOCIAL & PERSONAL HAPPENINGS of DAY in the ISLAND CITY ALAMEDA

$100,000 FOR HOSPITAL BEDS

Anonymous Friend of University Bequeaths Fortune for Sufferers.

BERKELEY, Oct. 2—That a hundred thousand dollars has been given to endow free beds in the University hospital in San Francisco, in memory of Dr. C. W. and Mrs. Sarah E. Fox, was announced today by the University of California. The donor has asked that his name be not made known.

Four times over, the university points out, has this donor given in this one gift, for here is its four-fold purpose:

The sick poor will be cared for with the entire income of this $100,000 fund.

Yet every dollar of the income is an outright aid to education, for these Fox memorial beds are an indispensable part of the university's equipment for training physicians of the highest scientific standards—young men and women who spend seven years in the university, their course ending with a final required year as an interne in the hospital.

And the whole income goes to aid medical research, for the University hospital is an indispensable part of the equipment of the George Williams Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, an endowed department of the University of California medical school, which has $50,000 a year of income from endowment to spend on discovering the causes of illness and finding new ways to cure or prevent disease.

And, fourthly, the income of the Fox Memorial Fund is a sort of emergency scholarship, for the donor has directed that needy medical students shall have the preference over all other applicants in the use of these free Fox memorial beds.

So care of the sick poor, medical education, medical research, and relief for students in distress are all equally furthered by this four-times-over use of a single income.

FOX MEMORIAL BEDS.

The Fox memorial beds are already caring for a number of sick people in the present University hospital, on the superb site given years ago by Adolph Sutro for the Affiliated Colleges, high up on Parnassus avenue, in San Francisco, looking north over Golden Gate park toward the Golden Gate and the mountains on the Marin shore. About a year hence, however, the Fox memorial beds will be transferred to the new University hospital, the steel frame of which is now being erected just west of the present medical school group. The cost of this new building, $615,000, has been supplied through the generosity of a large number of different friends of medical education. This new fire-proof hospital will contain 215 beds, one-fourth each devoted to medicine, surgery, diseases of children, and diseases of women.

A vast work for the relief of suffering is being done by the university through the dispensary in the present University hospital building. Twice as many cases are now cared for every day as two years ago. The yearly treatments and consultations now exceed 70,000 and will soon reach 100,000. In such numbers do the sick poor flock there for healing that a new dispensary building is urgently needed. Among other needs of the University of California medical school to equip it adequately for the great public task the state of California has laid upon it, of training the highest class of physicians, surgeons, and discoverers in the medical sciences, are:

MEDICAL ENDOWMENTS.

Endowments for medical professorships. Two million dollars to endow the University hospital.

A laboratory building for pathology and bacteriology, and another for anatomy.

A nurses' home, to accommodate the 130 nurses needed for the University hospital, where a thoroughly modern training course is being given for the profession of nursing, with special preparation for administrative positions in hospitals.

A central heating and power plant for the whole medical school group.

And, eventually, a special pavilion for contagious diseases, a dormitory for medical students, and a psychopathic hospital and a tuberculosis hospital, with special endowment for each.

The gifts generous individuals have given to the University of California for medical education and research already represent a total value of between three and four million dollars. The university feels certain that future years will see provided endowment and equipment adequate for a great modern medical school. With the single exception of agriculture, medicine is the most expensive form of education yet invented. But the university declares that education has no more important public duty than that of training men and women to keep the world well and to stop the present wicked and needless waste of life and happiness through preventable disease.

BUMMELL? CHATTER? YOU LEARN 'EM AT COLLEGE

BERKELEY, Oct. 2. — With "Bummell," "Chatter" and jinks of various other sorts and purposes, the University of California woman is coming to achieve among her associates a rare reputation for discursiveness. Hard on the heels of announcements for the "Bummell," which the Associated Women students have named their big masquerade of the year, come the preparation for the "Chatter" which the sophomore women will hold later this month.

As with the "Bummell," the "Chatter" is to be strictly for feminine persons only. In the hands of a committee of which Miss Catherine Woolsey is chairman, stunts of various exciting sorts are in the planning. Other committees are arranging for posters, refreshments and finances. The date is to be announced later.

The "Bummell" will be held tonight at Harmon gymnasium, the doors of which will be tightly barred and locked against masculine intrusion. And this year, to believe the girls in charge, the transoms will be better watched than they were at the masquerade of a year ago.

Miss Sepha Pischel is chairman of arrangements for the "Bummell." The proceeds will be used to help finance women's athletics, and the primary purpose of the affair is the entertainment of the women of the freshman class.

FAILS TO APPEAR.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2. — Ah Wing, a Chinese, failed to appear in court on a charge of visiting a gambling place and his $10 bail was forfeited by Judge L. R. Weinmann. Wing was arrested in a raid conducted by Chief of Police John Conrad and Detective George Brown.

ALAMEDA BELLE ENJOYS LIFE IN FAR NORTH

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—Miss Gladys Brooks, who went to Alaska earlier in the year has found the life there so much to her taste that she is loth to return to her home city. Miss Brooks is at Juneau with friends, and in spite of the distance from the larger centers there is a continuous round of gaieties. Teas, dinners, luncheons, and card parties, with the most popular dances, have kept the attractive Alameda girl busy. Miss Brooks will return home before the holidays.

ALAMEDA PAGEANT HIS UNIQUE AIM

Great Fete Tonight Will Inaugurate New Idea in School Development.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—Everything is in readiness for the outdoor pageant to be given this evenin by the English department of the Alameda High school in McKinley Park, Buena Vista avenue and Walnut street. Arthur Agard, head of the department, has directed the preparations and he will present to the spectators somethin unqique in dramatics and will inaugurate a new idea in school development.

Alamedans should foster this project, as it will mean much for the city. Agard hit upon a new idea for presenting the accomplishments of students and they will entertain the public with productions that will long be remembered.

Bernard Shaw's "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," is to have its premiere presentation on the Pacific Coast. Agard has the courage of his convictions that his pupils can offer this play just as well as anyone else and the rehearsals justify his opinion.

McKinley Park should be thronged this evening by the residents of the city. There will be plenty of seats for all and the setting will be ideal.

BERNHARD NATHAN GIFT TO AID JEWISH STUDENTS

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—Students of Jewish parentage are to have particular consideration in the yearly award of a new endowed scholarship in the University of California.

This is the Bernhard Nathan Scholarship, to endow which $5000 has been bequeathed by Bernhard Nathan, the pioneer California merchant, who died recently in Dresden, Germany, at the age of 82.

It was in the fifties that Mr. Nathan, a native of Gluckstadt, Germany, first came to California. He established himself in San Francisco in a crockery business which was the beginning of the present Nathan-Dohrmann Company, now a great firm with branches in many Pacific coast cities and in the Hawaiian islands. In 1853, Mr. Nathan returned to his native land to open European offices for his company.

In the thirty-two years since then, Mr. Nathan had made his home in Dresden, save that he spent 1899 and 1900 in San Francisco. During his lifetime he joined with the late F. W. Dohrmann, long a regent of the university, in the establishment of a relief and pension fund for their employes, and in many other undertakings which were a model of modern ideas in the relations of employer and employe. Throughout his lifetime he contributed generously to many public causes. His bequests to California educational and beneficent institutions amount to $50,000, and he bequeathed a hundred thousand marks to similar institutions in Germany.

HILLSIDE CLUB WILL HOLD DAHLIA DISPLAY

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—The Hillside Club of Berkeley will give a dahlia show at the clubhouse, on Cedar street, near Arch, on Sunday and Monday, October 17 and 18, at which more than 1000 varieties of this flower will be exhibited under the direction of Carl S. Quick, whose dahlia nursery at 1508 Le Roy avenue, contains 600 named varieties. A. D. Lockwood will assist in arranging the exhibition.

The Hillside Club plans to give each year choice displays of the best products of the community in flower culture, and this will be one of the attractive events of the season. Among the new varieties developed by Mr. Quick are several brilliant creations in flaming red and startling yellow. The latter is called "California," in honor of the university. Another aspiring specimen is named "The Campanile" because it shoots far up above its fellows.

The exhibition will be free to the public, and all who are interested in floriculture are cordially invited. Berkeley is reputed to be a favorite home of the dahlia, the cool, moist mornings being admirably suited to the perfect development of these blossoms. It is expected that the Hillside's dahlia show will attract visitors from Oakland, San Francisco, and other 'round-the-bay cities.

ROTARY CLUB WILL MEET IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—Responding to an invitation from the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, a meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club will be held in Berkeley on Thursday, the fourteenth instant. A luncheon will be served for members of both organizations and their friends at the Hotel Shattuck, at which two or three speakers will be heard. The speaking will begin as soon as the participants sit down, which will be at 12:30 o'clock sharp, and the entire affair will last exactly an hour. Then at 1:30 o'clock the gavel of President O. V. Lawrence of the Rotary club will fall, and proceedings will close.

All citizens who are insteresied in public affairs will be welcome, but it is necessary to make reservations in advance. The suggestion that a Rotary Club would be a good thing for Berkeley has been broached by business men of this city, and will be further considered in the near future. The Rotarians are national in their organizations, and many cities smaller than Berkeley are represented in their ranks.

ESPERANTISTS TO HOLD PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—Esperantists of this and neighboring cities have arranged a meeting at which the beneficial features of the international speech are to be expounded, to be held at the Berkeley high school auditorium Tuesday evening. Judge J. D. Flenner of Idaho, "America's greatest Bile interpreter," is to be the chief speaker.

Judge Flenner is an adept in Esperanto and will deliver an address on the value of the language to different users.

Esperanto songs and music will be given by local members of the society. A one-act Esperanto sketch will be played. A group of high school girls from Redwood City, where Esperanto is studied in the schools, and who made a favorable impression at the recent Esperanto congress at the Exposition, will appear in a specialty. Enrollments in the Esperanto Society will be received.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES AT UNIVERSITY FARM

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—With an increase of 15 per cent in attendance, the University Farm School at Davis has begun the work of another year. Already, 203 young men have enrolled for the three-year course in practical farm subjects, and within a few days the attendance is expected to exceed 300. Of last fall's first-year students at Davis, the average age was twenty years and one month.

It is evident also that there is to be a large increase in the enrollment for the annual short courses in general agriculture, poultry husbandry, animal husbandry, dairy manufactures, and horticulture, for practical farmers and their wives, to be held at the University Farm from October 4 to November 12. The average age of those enrolled for last year's short courses was twenty-five.

STORK IS ARRIVAL.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Fields will be interested to know of the arrival of a little son in the Fields family.

ALAMEDA TO TEST ASPHALT TOPPING

Macadam on Santa Clara Avenue to Be Covered, City Council Decides.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—In order that a test of an asphalt top on the local macadam streets can be made, members of the city council at a meeting of the committee of the whole last evening, decided that the city enter into a contract for the covering of Santa Clara avenue, between the east line of Ninth street and the west line of St. Charles street. The Ransome-Crummey company bid for the work and offered to lay the experimental street top for one and one-half cents a square foot. The work will proceed if this proposition proves satisfactory to Mayor F. H. Bartlett.

The council recently advertised for bids for an asphalt top for Santa Clara avenue, between the west line of Ninth street and the east line of St. Charles street, thus including the crossings. It was found that this amount of space would cost more than the $600 allowed by the council. Mayor Bartlett refused to sign the contract because of the excess amount.

Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden declared at the committee meeting last evening that the proceedings should either be declared void or a portion of the work done, omitting the crossings. He said that he is watering the street that has been placed in condition for the top of asphalt and that this is costing considerable money. He said that if the contract could not be entered into that he would like to oil the surface. The committee, upon the advice of the city attorney, then agreed that the city enter into the contract for the work, omitting the crossings. Mayor Bartlett will be asked to sign the contract.

Residents in the neighborhood of Buena Vista avenue and Webster street declared that a junk sign and business at that location is a nuisance and asked the council to eliminate it. The city attorney was requested to investigate the complaint and file a report.

City Clerk A. H. Wright of San Diego sent an invitation to the council to send a delegate from this city to the convention to be held in that city October 14, 15 and 16. The invitation was filed.

A gratuitous license was granted Tom Lee for an express business.

The city auditor was granted ten days' extension of time to extend his assessment rolls, the result of the delay in fixing the tax rate. He was also allowed to employ the necessary extra help.

LEGAL LIGHTS OF FUTURE TO FEAST

BERKELEY, Oct. 2. — Men and women students in the college of law at the University of California will banquet this evening, the women for the first time in the history of the college. The men are to hold their affair at the Hotel Oakland, and the women at the Hotel Shattuck in this city. Large number of reservations has been made at each hostelry for the evening's feasts.

Judge W. W. Morrow of the United States court of appeals is to be the chief speaker at the men's banquet. Robert Fitzgerald, president of the California Bar association, will follow him. Other speakers will include Lyman Grimes, a recent graduate of the university and now on the legal staff of the United Railroads in San Francisco, and Herman Phleger, a graduate in 1912.

A program of specialties is also arranged for the men's affair. The 1915 quartet will offer several numbers, and songs will also be given by L. H. Brigham, a senior in the university. Two other seniors, Miss Jackson and D. F. Maddox, will entertain with songs and chatter.

In the form of subpenas the women in law have issued invitations for their feast. Decorations and speeches will conform in some manner to legal procedure. Miss Margaret Ogden, a graduate of the university in the 1911 class, and now engaged in the practice of law in San Francisco, will serve as toastmistress. Several alumni and students will be among those to respond.

The women's banquet is planned to promote co-operation among the score of women registered in the college of jurisprudence and to stimulate the interest of the pre-legal women. Wives of faculty members have been included in the list of invited guests.

SOCIETY ASKS AID.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2. — A request has been issued by the Alameda County Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis taht all Alamedans desirous of aiding in the widespread campaign being carried out by the organization communicate with headquarters, Oakland 2460. Those who have enrolled as field workers and those woh desire to lend their help are asked to call this number as soon as possible. They will be given instructions as to what should be done.

An Experienced Mother.

Women who have answered the highest calling are anxious to help and influence the expectant mother, so she can avoid suffering. For many years experienced mothers have relied upon Mother's Friend, obtained at any drug store, because this splendid external remedy adds to the physical comfort of every expectant mother. It makes the muscles flexible and takes away all strain on the cords and ligaments and actually relieves the tension of nerves and tendons, that so often cause nausea, morning sickness and twitching of the limbs. Mother's Friend is highly recommended.

U. C. Co-Eds to Hold Track Meet

Women to Attempt to Shatter Records

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—Once again the "pat-pat" of the dainty feet of the University women athletes will be heard, when on October 16 the women's annual track meet is to be held on Hearst Field. This affair is becoming more popular each year and the number of events as well as entrants has been enlarged at each meet.

All young women entering the meet are compelled as part of their training to take long hikes back into the hills starting from Hearst Hall at 9 o'clock Saturday mornings and walking in the direction of Wildcat Canyon. Another hike to New China Beach, San Francisco, has been planned for Saturday, the 9th.

The program of events will include such races as the 50 and 100-yard dashes, the high jump, pole-vault and hurdles. Attempts will be made at the time to shatter the women's Pacific Coast records.

FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. Z. S. LANGHORNE

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2. — With a simple service yesterday at home, followed by a solemn requiem high mass at St. Josph's church, the late Mrs. Zita Spencer Langhorn was laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery at Mountain View. The services were conducted by the Rev. Father P. E. Doyle. The friends paid their tribute of flowers of every hue, which covered and surrounded the casket and were present both at the home and church to sorrow with the bereaved members of the family. The pallbearers were the fraternity brothers of her eldest son, Herbert Langhorne, a student at the University of California, who bore the remains to the grave.

CALL HALT ON STREET VANDALS

New Ordinance Will Prevent a Repetition of Disaster at Glen Ave. Bridge.

BERKELEY, Oct. 2. — Because of various complaints of the cutting up of roads and destruction of other thoroughfare features by heavy trucking, Commissioner C. T. Robson is hurrying to complete the ordinance by which he hopes to curb these evils. He expects to have the ordinance ready for submission to the council next week.

A recent complaint with the council is from D. L. Jurgck, who calls attention to the destruction of the Glen avenue bridge by a five ton truck carrying seven tons of dead weight, which went through the bridge. Jurgck characterized it as shameful that the "convenience of a very few people should be so destructive and costly to the city."

Commissioner Robson also has reports of various complaints [illegible] Tunnel road over which heavy loads of gravel are being hauled. V. Bovo has complained to the council of the neglect of property owners on Peralta avenue to clean up their sidewalk areas according to city ordinance. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

It is reported to the council that Telegraph avenue is being put into shape for the winter from Bancroft way to Woolsey street, where all the rough and worn spots are being repaired. The street car company has not yet improved its roadbed on this thoroughfare. On Grove street, however, the company has gangs of men at work making permanent improvements.

SOCCER LEAGUE GAME.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—The Alameda team of the California Soccer league will tomorrow afternoon play the Argonauts, the game to take place at Croll's grounds, starting at 2:30 o'clock. Frank Travers, captain of the Alamedas last year, was recently hit by an automobile in Los Angeles and his physician holds out small chances for his recovery.

AMONG the most important of the social dates that the Exposition has brought to this side of the bay this year will be the luncheon to be given the first week in November by the Alameda County Auxiliary of the Woman's Board.

The luncheon will be given on the occasion of the convention of the International Council of Women, which will be held in San Francisco. One day of the convention will be assigned to Oakland, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. A. C. Posey has been the very successful president this year.

This is one of the most remarkable conventions which will be held on the coast, or in fact in the United States this season, for the International Congress antedates by some years the federation of women's clubs. The international president is Lady Aberdeen, who is coming to the coast to preside. She is proabbly one of the best known women in the world, one of the leaders in that movement for the betterment of women which swept over the world before the war. She holds the degree of LL.D. from Queen's University, Canada. The women at the head of affairs have made a most sensible announcement: "For obvious reasons peace, war, and party politics will be eliminated from the program."

Lady Aberdeen is very charming—a fine type of woman. She has done a great deal of good work in Great Britain, where she is revered and loved.

Coming to the coast with Lady Aberdeen will be the Princess Patricia, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada. She will probably represent the Canadian Council of Women.

The Princess Patricia is very fond of American women, and she is affectionately called in Canada the "Princess Pat." Her mother has been ill for many months, and the lovely Princess Pat has taken her place as first lady in the land of Canada.

She is popular with every one. One of the finest regiments in Canada was named in her honor—a splendid regiment of stalwart Canadians. They made a magnificent record for bravery, and they were almost annihilated in a superbly courageous charge against the enemy in the north of France.

A third very popular woman has been asked to come to California, Miss Margaret Wilson, the daughter of President Wilson.

It must be said of the high official circle of Washington that it represents among the women more culture of a high order than has ever been known in any other administration. Most of the women are talented, and they are more than that, they are fully imbued with the spirit of the times and they know the advance thought of the hour among women.

Miss Margaret Wilson does a great deal for women in many ways, and is a strong factor for their advancement.

Another prominent woman whom it is hoped will be at the notable luncheon in November will be Miss Agnes Wilson, daughter of the secretary of labor—the well-known member of the president's cabinet.

Miss Wilson has no mother, so she is the hostess for her father in all social entertaining which he is obliged to do in Washington. But that is not her "joy and pride." She rejoices that she is her father's secretary—the first woman to ever act in the capacity of secretary to a cabinet official on the floor of the House. And when she bravely took her place Speaker Clark descended from the platform and warmly congratulated her. It is women like Miss Agnes Wilson who bravely lead the way. All these years in which her father is secretary of labor are years of study for Miss Wilson. She has unusual opportunities because of her position. When the day comes that her father is no longer in the president's cabinet Miss Wilson will be equipped to take up her big work for women. She has many brothers, but the household seems to revolve around the sister and daughter—the practical women—who still have "the vision." And it is true, not only in the old days, but now:

"Where there is no vision, the people perish."

Miss Wilson is very proud of the fact that only a few years ago her father was a miner in the coal mines of Pennsylvania. And from the coal mines to a seat in the president's cabinet is an achievement of which any man and his daughter may well be proud.

Miss Wilson is interested in the Chicago Hull House movement, and the cause of womanhood will no doubt owe much in the future to her well considered plans.

The luncheon for these well-known women will be given at the Hotel Oakland, with Mrs. A. C. Posey as the chairman of the day.

The guests of honor will no doubt be given a drive through our foothills, and there will probably be afternoon tea for them in one of our most beautiful and most prominent homes.

This luncheon is for all the county, since the Alameda Auxiliary represents the county, and the chairmen therein have done exceedingly good work. Among the most energetic of the chairmen have been Mrs. Charles R. Lloyd of Berkeley, and Mrs. Philip Teller of Alameda.

Mrs. Hale Walker Barrett, who represents the Immigration Department of the government, will be one of the leaders in the convention. Senator James D. Phelan will be among those who will entertain Lady Aberdeen, who sailed from England this week, and who will arrive on the coast in November. The California Club will give a reception for her, and of course, the Woman's Board will accord her every possible courtesy.

✿ ✿ ✿

WESTERN SOCIAL WORKERS TO MEET.

Another important convention of the year will be that of the Western Social Workers, which will be held in our city, the meetings beginning October 6.

On October 9, Mrs. Hearst will entertain the many delegates at a barbecue luncheon at the Hacienda, and the day will be a most enjoyable one, for the luncheons at the Hacienda are among the most important social dates of our Exposition year.

There will also be a luncheon at the Oakland, and other social dates of definite interest are being planned.

Among the members of the reception committee are:

Mrs. P. A. Hearst, Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. Isaac Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Hon. and Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. [illegible] Parker, Mrs. [illegible] Connett, Hon. and Mrs. Alston, Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. William Creed, Mr. and Mrs. Wigginton Creed

✿ ✿ ✿

SOCIAL LIFE AT WHITE HOUSE AGAIN.

The social world brightens as the days of autumn drift by. The White House leads the way, with the announcement that there will be more activity there, now that the period of mourning for the late Mrs. Wilson is over. The president is now going to the theater, and he was a recent guest at a tea given by his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, at their summer home, Cornish, New Hampshire.

The social season in Washington this year will include the formal receptions and dinners for the army and navy, the diplomatic corps, and there will be the other social events which tradition decrees. The winter promises to be gayer than at any other time of President Wilson's administration.

It is said, however, that the continuance of the European war will put a damper on the gayety of the capital so far as the diplomatic corps is concerned. Arrangements have to be made to keep members of the corps apart. Residential society in Washington has coped with this difficulty for more than a year, and has been fairly successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth (Alice Roosevelt), will be again in Washington this season. They have leased a large residence there, close to the home they occupied during Mr. Longworth's former term as representative in Congress. He was re-elected to this seat.

Mrs. Longworth was extensively entertained during her stay in San Francisco. She is more charming than of old. Her manner is not so aggressive, and she shows much more regard for the conventionalities of social life.

New York has decided to hold its Horse Show this year, and that will mean the return to town of many well-known families. Social dates are being arranged for the debutantes, and there are being planned the usual junior assemblies and junior cotillions.

San Francisco is still busy with Exposition affairs, but on our side of the bay there are many dates of social interest—many more than there were last season.

Among the recent dates were the card party given by Mrs. George Hammer and the reception given by Miss Edith Benjamin.

Mrs. P. E. Bowles is entertaining today at a garden fete, at her home, "The Pines," and Mrs. Frank John Woodward has cards out for an "At Home" for next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Laymance have sent cards out for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace Laymance, and the social dates of the Home Club are also of interest. And the Fashion Show is calling every one to the Oakland this afternoon and evening.

✿ ✿ ✿

SUN SMILES ON GARDEN FETE.

"The Pines" is an ideal place for a garden fete, and Fate is very good to Mrs. Bowles in sending her such a fine day. Usually when a garden fete is attempted around the bay, it rains, or a heavy fog takes that special time to roll in from the ocean. But this week the weather has been ideal, adding to the interest of the out-door hours at "The Pines."

Years ago, the beautiful gardens surrounding the Bowles' home were planted, and shrubs were brought from all over the world. Many of them were promptly at home in the foothills of Claremont, and now the grounds surrounding the home of the Bowles are of a wonderful degree of picturesqueness. Throughout the foothills many people are beginning to realize the value of the pine as an ornamental tree, and it is being planted now to make a grove, which strikes a note of verdure all the year round. And it grows remarkably well with the eucalyptus. It finds a wonderful expression in "The Pines," where it is the keynote of the landscape effects.

In days like these, the young girls look specially charming—in lovely lingerie gowns and in the fascinating sports coats, which strike vivid notes of coloring at afternoon affairs. Easterners have one criticism to make of the dressing of the women of our coast. They say the tones are too dark—that not enough muslins and chiffons are worn. But for this, there has always been a good reason. The weather is too cold, and July is one of the coldest of the months around the bay. This afternoon, however, the young girls were lovely studies, and even the older matrons were gowned in lavenders, blues, and grays, adding to the colorful effect of the fete.

Mrs. Bowles has spent a great deal of time since the Exposition began across the bay, as she is the treasurer of the Woman's Board. Her guest list included besides her Oakland friends, a large contingent from San Francisco and Burlingame, and many prominent families from around the bay were represented at the fete this afternoon.

Mrs. Bowles is always assisted in large entertainments at "The Pines" by her mother, Mrs. George McNear, and by her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Johnson Jr., whose home is across the bay.

Refreshments were served in al fresco fashion, on the wide veranda, and delightful music added to the effectiveness of a very finely planned garden party.

✿ ✿ ✿

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. George McNear Sr., is one of the most prominent society leaders in Oakland, where the family has been identified with the city's social history for many years. She is a most charming and gracious woman, who has given much of her time to charitable interests and is lending her support for the success of the Baby Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Civic Auditorium.

Miss Lorna Williamson is the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Williamson of Piedmont, and is one of the belles of the younger set who will appear in the Fashion Show of the Ladies' Relief Society at the Oakland this evening. Miss Williamson will be one of the group to wear sports costumes in the display.

✿ ✿ ✿

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Mrs. George Hammer's bridge afternoon was given at the Country Club, and was planned in honor of Mrs. Shirley Houghton (Jean Adair), the pretty bride from the South land, who came to make her home with us this year.

The Hammers sold their home on Lee street a few months ago, and they are to build again, plans having been made for a most attractive home at Piedmont.

Mrs. Hammer's guests were for the most part young matrons, who greatly enjoyed the game of auction planned for them by their hostess, who is one of the most thoughtful and most generous of the well-known matrons on this side of the bay.

Among the very attractive autumn costumes worn at the card party were those of Mrs. Murray Orrick, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. A. S. Macdonald, Miss Bernice Macdonald, Mrs. Irving Burrell, Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Harry East, Miller, Mrs. William H. Morrison,

SIMPLICITY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell.)

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

SIMPLICITY is the law of all beauty, because it is the closest approach to nature.

There is a certain modish abaseness about women that causes them to follow life in packs, and gives them the appearance of having been cast in one mold. All the subtle refinements in dress, manner and thought which lure us away from the natural type end in chaotic degeneration.

Men follow more closely the laws of simplicity and the precepts of their own natures. Whether this female clinging to custom is from habit or from cowardice, from the force of example, or the force of deference, I do not attempt to decide. It is too curious a phenomenon, when placed side by side with other things, for the mere outsider in the domain of philosophy to determine.

Our self-respect for personal needs is the pillar of fire, which, if we faithfully follow it, shall make us what we are, instead of fashioning us after a neighbor's ideas.

But most women have let that guiding fire die down to its ashes, while their brothers, fathers, husbands and sons were following independent ways of self-government.

Few women are sufficiently self-respecting to dress, act, think, eat and speak as best suits themselves. Where is the self-respect of the women who adhere to the conventions in selecting a companion and a career, of those who lack courage to govern their diet by their special needs, fearing the taunts of their associates, and of those who spread their secret griefs abroad, by whine and frown and facial thundercloud, carrying to the world details of their physical aches and heart troubles?

The respect of self that compels us to cultivate what we are, is a God-given quality.

The man who does not wear his diamond pin in the presence of his father, a girl who smuggles a new style hat into the house unknown to her mother, the woman who conforms her life, against her own better judgment, to that of her neighbor, has not an atom of self-respect.

Self-consciousness preserves youth and buoyancy. Self-absorption leads to the success that builds up a glorious record and leaves the effulgence of a light subtly radiated to those who follow in our path.

In order to be our best and to give that best to others, deference to self is indispensable. No beauty body, thought or habit can be developed while we seek to hide our tastes, or our aversions, or to doubt their truth.

It is every one's duty to cultivate his or her identity. Be yourself—but be your best self!

In the matter of the self-respect which enables men to live more truly to themselves, women know little. There is no law that can apply to all people producing equally good results, for either the cultivation of the mind or body. There are as many variations of treatment as there are variations of temperaments.

There is but one law that must be regarded as fixed. Routines of any kind which run counter to temperament must not be insisted upon if one wants to develop along the lines of the least resistance with respect to every system supposed to promote beauty of body, mind and soul. This simplicity is what women are constantly forgetting, and that forgetfulness is the cause of nine-tenths of the bad looks and unhappiness of the world.

Answers to Queries

HAZEL EYES.—Melt together in a water bath one-half ounce of white wax, one-half ounce of spermaceti, one ounce of lanolin, two ounces of sweet almond oil, one ounce of cocoanut oil. Take off the fire and beat until cold, adding, little by little, two ounces of orange flower water to which five drops of tincture of benzoin have been added. Be sure to beat ingredients constantly until quite cold. Beating is the secret of fine cream. This skin food is recommended by numerous beauty specialists, but if you make it yourself see that the ingredients are weighed with care and are absolutely pure.

EVA.—Take eight ounces of distilled water and add to it one ounce of a 20 per cent solution of boric acid and ten drops of spirits of camphor. If the camphor smarts, dilute the mixture with pure water. Use this wash daily in an eye cup.

MRS. FRANK WOODWARD IS TO RECEIVE.

One of the large receptions of the coming week will be that given by Mrs. Frank John Woodward, who has sent out cards for an "At Home" on next Thursday. The reception is in honor of her daughter, Mrs. James Hamilton Todd Jr. (Gwendolen Woodward), the very charming young bride, whose wedding took place a few weeks ago, at the family home in Berkeley.

The James Todds have a most charming home in Queen Anne style, near that of the bride's parents. Both of the young people are exceedingly popular in college and school circles of Berkeley.

The family list of the Woodwards is a long one. Mrs. Woodward is one of the leading members of the Town and Gown Club, and for years she has been a member of the Ebell Club. She is also one of the best known of the patronesses of the exclusive dancing club of Berkeley.

The Woodward home, at the base of the foothills, is most attractive, and Mrs. Woodward has made it a most charming center, not only for her own friends, but for those of her children. The "At Home" will afford an opportunity for many people to meet the attractive young bride, and to offer her the good wishes which lie always in every one's heart for the young matron just beginning a new life in a new home.

CLUBS AND CHARITIES COME TO FRONT.

Clubs and charities come straight to the foreground in quite a wonderful fashion in the social life of the hour.

In the vanguard comes the Fashion Show, which has created such a stir this year. The costumes ought not to be described beforehand, but they are truly wonderful, and the young girls and young matrons are making attractive and beautiful pictures.

All the dinner tables are engaged for this evening, and the tea at the Oakland this afternoon was a very brilliant affair.

For not only did the Fashion Show represent lovely gowns, but very attractive costumes were everywhere in evidence. Among the prominent people present this afternoon were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Mrs. Isaac Requa | Mrs. Charles Rodolph |
| Mrs. Clarence Wetmore | Mrs. George Rodolph |
| Mrs. A. C. Posey | Mrs. Lester Greene |
| Mrs. John B. Mhoon | Mrs. George Hammer |
| Mrs. Clinton Walker | Mrs. Wigginton Creed |
| Mrs. William Creed | Mrs. George Baker |
| Mrs. C. C. Clay | Mrs. Cleveland Baker |
| Mrs. Harry East Miller | Mrs. Robert H. Collyer |
| Mrs. T. W. Cushing | Mrs. Frederick Curtis |
| Miss Marian Everson | Mrs. Sam P. Wakefield |
| Miles Dottie Everson | Mrs. T. C. Coogan |
| Mrs. Henry Wetherbee | Mrs. Edward Walsh |
| Mrs. Robert Hill | Mrs. E. B. Beck |
| Mrs. Charles R. Allen | Miss Edith Beck |
| Mrs. Warren S. Palmer | Mrs. Thomas Crellin |
| Mrs. H. C. Capwell | Mrs. Arthur Apellin |
| Mrs. E. B. Braden | Mrs. Edward Hall |
| Mrs. George Greenwood | Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook |
| Mrs. Harry Knowles | Mrs. J. Walter Scott |
| Mrs. Minor Goodall | Miss Adele Scott |
| Mrs. W. E. Sharon | Mrs. M. J. Laymance |
| Mrs. Harry Farr | Miss Grace Laymance |
| Mrs. Mygatt | Miss Edith Benjamin |
| Mrs. A. D. Thomson | Mrs. J. R. Stephens |
| Mrs. L. S. Keegan | Mrs. John F. Smith |
| Mrs. George Rothganger | Mrs. F. M. Smith |
| Mrs. Frank Mott | Mrs. Andrew Moseley |
| Mrs. Leon Clark | Misses Moseley |
| Mrs. Victor Metcalf | Mrs. Andrew Simpson |
| Mrs. Charles R. Lovell | Mrs. Guy C. Earl |
| Mrs. Mailler Searles | Mrs. G. W. Harrison |
| Mrs. Frank Spring | Miss Theresa Russell |

Dancing will follow the Fashion Show this evening, and the affair has proven a great success socially and financially.

PLAYERS CLUB ENTERTAIN GUESTS.

Complimentary to Miss Margaret Anglin and William H. Crane, two of its honorary members, The Players Club entertained at an after-theater supper last Thursday evening. The affair was informal and was held in a private dining-room of the Tait-Zinkand cafe. Miss Anglin and Mr. Crane have both taken a keen interest in the work being done by the club in the trans-bay region. At the recent production of "Nero," in the Greek theater, by The Players Club, Miss Anglin not only lent the club valuable properties and equipment, but attended rehearsals and personally assisted the players with their lines.

Besides Miss Anglin and Mr. Crane, those present at the supper were James Shesgren, manager for Miss Anglin; Howard Hull, representative for Miss Anglin; Professor William Dallam Armes and Professor William A. Setchell of the musical and dramatic committee of the University of California, and from The Players Club, Dion Holm, Reginald Travers, G. W. Ryder, William S. Rainey, James K. Fisk and Charles E. Lutz, and Gladstone Wilson from the University of California.

John Drew, president of The Players Club of New York and also honorary member of the San Francisco Players Club, was also entertained by the club during his recent engagement in San Francisco.

✿ ✿ ✿

RECEPTION FOR DOROTHY FYFE.

One of the most delightful receptions of the year was that given by Miss Edith Benjamin, who entertained in honor of her brother's fiancee, Miss Dorothy Fyfe.

The engagement of Miss Fyfe and Edward Hewlett Benjamin Jr. was announced early in the summer, and their wedding will take place in the coming holiday time.

The Benjamin home on Linden street is very attractive, and, with its many spacious rooms, admirably adapted for entertaining. The decorations added to its fine effect, and the drawing-room, where the young hostess received her guests, was a most charming study in pink, carried out in an admirable arrangement of pink roses.

The dining-room was done in yellow, and music added to the bright scene.

Miss Benjamin's mother was the late Mrs. Edward Benjamin, who came of one of the well-known pioneer families of Alameda county. She was a fine musician, from whom her daughter inherited her fine musical talent. Mrs. Benjamin was for many years a member of the Ebell Club, and many of her old-time friends there were guests at the reception given by her daughter this week.

Miss Benjamin was very attractive in white, and a group of pretty and interesting girls assisted her in receiving and entertaining her guests.

Among the guests invited to the reception were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Mr. and Mrs. Warren Palmer | Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Owen |
| Miss Alice Palmer | Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sempham |
| Mrs. A. C. Posey | Mrs. E. D Yorker |
| Misses Posey | Miss Yorker |
| Miss Bon | Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodbury |
| Miss Edoff | Miss Sarah Horton |
| Misses Bassett | Miss Nellie Jones |
| Mrs. Laura Bassett | Miss Charlotte Center |
| Mr. and Mrs. George Pardee | Miss Mabel Gray |
| Miss Pennman | Mrs. Gordon Stolp |
| Misses Pardee | Misses Everson |
| Mrs. Fyfe | Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Denison. |
| Miss Nancy Fyfe | |
| Mrs. Arthur Thomson | |

Many of the guests were members of the Ebell Club, and there were also many well-known musicians among the friends entertained by Miss Benjamin. The latter is a graduate of the Horton school, and her classmates there, as well as many of the alumni of the school, were entertained by the happy and hospitable young hostess.

COLLEGE HERO AID TO CHARITY.

The next philanthropy to appeal in a social way is "The College Hero," for which Mrs. Robert Watt stands sponsor. It is for the aid of the settlement work in West Oakland, that unique philanthropy which has for years been establishing a fine record.

Mrs. Robert Watt's home was for many years on Madison street, and was one of the most prominent homes in the Lakeside district. Almost a score of years ago Mrs. Watt was assisted in beginning her work by her daughters, Mrs. C. O. G. Miller (Janet Watt) and Mrs. Donald Y. Campbell (Elizabeth Watt).

Mrs. Watt planned the first "rummage sales" known here, and members of the smart sets have for years contributed to them, and these sales have meant the unique clubhouse with its hall, where dances may be given, and its gymnasium. The "Settlement" has meant a great deal in the lives of the young people in its neighborhood. It has brought joy to them, and good measurements; so all who can will be glad to contribute a little or much, as the case may be, to its success.

The following patronesses are lending their efforts to the success of "The College Hero":

| | |
|---|---|
| Miss J. C. Haight | Mrs. E. H. Marwedell |
| Miss Elsie Marwedell | Mrs. Fred Magee |
| Miss Ethel Moore | Mrs. H. C. Morris |
| Miss Ethel Adams | Mrs. A. S. McDonald |
| Mrs. Edson Adams | Mrs. George McNear |
| Mrs. S. F. Alexander | Mrs. William Letts Oliver |
| Mrs. Allen Babcock | Mrs. Albert Palmer |
| Mrs. P. E. Bowles | Mrs. G. W. Percy |
| Mrs. Thomas Crellin | Mrs. Bernard Ransom |
| Mrs. Clinton Day | Mrs. Mark Requa |
| Mrs. William de Fremery | Mrs. Emma Rathgeb |
| Mrs. L. Ghirardelli | Mrs. A. T. Ralston |
| Mrs. George Greenwood | Mrs. A. Schilling |
| Mrs. Charles Hostetter | Mrs. H. C. Taft |
| Mrs. M. W. Kales | Mrs. I. J. Valentine |
| Mrs. Sam Bell McKee | Mrs. George Wheaton |
| Mrs. Harry East Miller | Mrs. J. T. Wright |
| Mrs. James Moffitt | Mrs. R. M. Walsh |
| Mrs. A. A. Moore | Mrs. R. A. Wellman |
| Mrs. Henry Michaels | Mrs. Henry Wetherbee |

As the name indicates, it is a college romance, and there are all college glees, choruses, solos and dances, the chorus alone numbering 200 girls. This will be the first philanthropy to appear in the auditorium, and there is no doubt but what it will score remarkably well. Mrs. Watt has the able assistance of her first vice-president, Mrs. John Newton Porter.

PROMINENT PEOPLE COME AND GO.

There are interesting news notes of the movements of prominent people. Among the attractive young matrons across the bay this autumn has been Mrs. Peter Martin, who made a business trip to the coast. Mrs. Martin is more beautiful than ever. An air of refinement, of distinction, of good breeding, adds greatly to a magnetic personality.

Her sister, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, formerly Miss Blanche Oelrichs, married a multi-millionaire of Philadelphia, and has been one of the most beautiful women at Newport this summer.

Mrs. Martin is still in deep mourning, and it adds greatly to what has been called "the slim slenderness" of her statuesque pose. She is leaving in the near future for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wakefield are coming back to San Francisco from the Orient, and they are planning to make their home across the bay. They were married in Honolulu some weeks ago. The Wakefield home was for many years in Harrison street, in this city, and Frank Wakefield is a younger brother of Dr. Sam Bell Wakefield, the well-known physician.

Mrs. Frank Wakefield was formerly Mrs. Edith Spreckels, and she is well known around the bay. She has also a great deal of artistic ability, and has done some very good things in the line of sculpture.

Mrs. Fletcher Ryer and her daughter, Miss Doris Ryer, well known in social circles around the bay, have left Newport and are at the Ritz Carlton in New York. Miss Ryer made her debut at Newport this year, and the Ryers, owing to the efforts of Mrs. Herman Oelrichs were well received by the exclusive circle of the Newport colony this year. It is very difficult for strangers to obtain a social foothold in Newport, because many of "the cottagers" have been going there for years, and the social circle is well established.

However, Mrs. Oelrichs and her sister, Mrs. Vanderbilt, are leaders, and are prominent enough socially to lend valuable aid. They are old-time friends of the De Youngs, and Miss Phyllis de Young spent an interesting summer as the guest of the Ryers.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear Jr. have bought a home in Jackson street, in San Francisco, and they are very busy these days in the plans for its remodeling. They hope to be in their home for the Christmas holidays, when plans will be made for the coming out of Miss Einnim McNear. She is a very charming girl, with a sweet face and a flower-like complexion. She has been educated abroad, and at the Spence school in New York. Her cousin, Miss Leslie Miller, is also to come out this season, and, as they have many relations, there will be a round of social entertainment in their honor.

Richard Pennoyer, who has been in Siam, on the diplomatic corps there, has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. Virginia Pennoyer, in Berkeley. He has been assigned to duty on the American embassy in London, and he left for Europe last Saturday. Mrs. Pennoyer intended to accompany her son, but, owing to the unsettled conditions abroad, she will remain in Berkeley.

Mrs. Folger has with her a great deal her very sweet and charming young niece, Miss Alice Clare Smith, the eldest daughter of the John Francis Smiths. Miss Smith graduated this year from the convent at Menlo, where two cousins, the Misses Folger, and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Smith, are still at school.

Mrs. Oscar F. Long and her daughter, Miss Amy Long, are spending some days in New York. Next week they are going to Washington, where Miss Amy Long will be in school for the coming year.

In New York Miss Elizabeth Adams was the hostess at a very delightful luncheon, her guests being the young girls who are to be together this year at Miss Bennett's school, at Tarrytown, on the Hudson. Among the guests were Miss Amy Requa, Miss Vere Adams and Miss Harriet Walsh of this city.

Mrs. Mark Requa, who went to New York with her daughter, will return to her Piedmont home in a few days.

Mrs. John Charles Adams is also in New York, having chaperoned her attractive daughter east. The latter will also be at Tarrytown, on the Hudson this year.

Many of the young girls are safely in school now, for the last year of formal studies, and next season they will join the ranks of the pretty debutantes who do so much to brighten the early social season.

THE MEDDLER.

Society

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Moore of New York, the latter of whom was Miss Edith Pullitzer, have leased the William Griffith place, "Mira Vista," in Montecito, and took possession of it this week. Mrs. Moore is a connection by marriage of the Frederick Vanderbilts who will occupy "Bellosguardo," the William Miller Graham place during the winter. Her brother, Mr. Ralph Pullitzer married a daughter of the Seward Webbs of New York and Mrs. Webb was a Vanderbilt.

Mira Vista is considered one of the most perfect Italian villas in California. Last spring, Mrs. Henshaw had an Italian artist offer suggestions for its improvement and an Italian architect planned the additions that were made. The garden is very lovely with a view of the sea that gives the place its name. The Moores will spend the winter there.

✿ ✿ ✿

GARDEN PARTY OF "THE PINES."

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bowles entertained about 150 of their Oakland and Piedmont friends very delightfully at "The Pines" this afternoon. The affair was a garden party and the beautiful grounds of the Bowles' home with the lake and broad lawns, were filled with groups of light gowned women and their escorts. A number of small boys and girls of the very young set of society had been included in the invitation list and their presence added much to the informal gayety of the afternoon that was characterized by a most cordial hospitality. There was no receiving line, but Mrs. George McNear Sr., assisted in entertaining the guests.

✿ ✿ ✿

MRS. WOODWORTH TO ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. Selim Woodworth will be hostess at the next meeting of the Army and Navy club of Berkeley on Friday afternoon, October 8. Mrs. Frank Vossler, wife of Lieutenant Vossler of the navy, entertained the club last Friday at the first meeting for the season. Among the members who are prominent women of the service set living in Berkeley, are Mrs. John T. Nance, Mrs. Charles Fremont Pond, Mrs. Ora Perkins, Mrs. Edwin O. C. Ord, and others.

✿ ✿ ✿

WEDDING IN BERKELEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris Smythe of Columbus, Ohio, have sent out invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Grace Parmele Smythe, to Berkeley Barrington Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Blake of Berkeley, which will take place at the First Unitarian church in Berkeley on Wednesday evening, October 13. Miss Smythe is a very charming girl who graduated last year from an eastern finishing school, and it was while she was at school that she met Mr. Blake, who was then a student at Harvard. He is a graduate of the Harvard Law School and is at present practicing law in San Francisco. Miss Smythe has been visiting Mrs. Lionel Duschak in Berkeley, and her parents will come to California for the wedding. The young couple will occupy a pretty home in Buena Vista way, Berkeley, after the honeymoon.

✿ ✿ ✿

MISS LATHROP A DEBUTANTE.

Society on both sides of the bay is interested in the debut of Miss Hermina Lathrop, niece of the late Mrs. Leland Stanford, who will be formerly presented to society this season at a large reception given by her mother, Mrs. Charles Lathrop, at the Fairmont. Miss Lathrop is one of the great heiresses of California, her father, the late Mr. Lathrop, who was a trustee of Stanford university, having inherited a generous share of the Stanford millions. She is a pretty girl who graduated last spring from one of the finishing schools in New York. Miss Lathrop and her mother are still at the family home in Menlo Park, but will be in San Francisco for several months of the winter.

✿ ✿ ✿

HOME WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Helen Shaw and Malven Waldron of Sacramento will take place on Wednesday evening, October 6, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shaw of Piedmont. It will be a small affair with only relatives present. Little Miss Frances Hilborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hilborn of Suisun, and a cousin of the bride, will be flower girl, and there will be no other attendants. Rev. Alexander Allen will read the marriage service. Miss Shaw is a graduate of Miss Head's school in Berkeley, where she was a classmate of Miss Ruth Houston, who will be married to Erle Hill in November. Mr. Waldron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Waldron of Sacramento, and is at present connected with the Bank of Suisun. After a honeymoon in the South, the young couple will occupy an attractive new residence built for them in Suisun.

BENEDICTS TO DANCE.

The Benedicts will give a dance this evening at the Twentieth Century Club in Berkeley. The annual election of officers will precede the dance, and there is much interest among the members in its outcome. Thomas Hoffman Williams has been president in the past year, with C. F. Welland, vice-president. Some of the prominent members are Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Pletzen, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Seaton, Mr. and Mrs. George Ormond Smith, Professor and Mrs. C. E. Derleth, and Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Foster.

✿ ✿ ✿

WINTER IN THE EAST.

Mrs. Walter J. Wilson has gone East, and will spend the winter with friends and relatives in Buffalo and Boston. Her son, Neill Wilson, is planning a trip to the Orient, and may make a tour of the world before his return.

✿ ✿ ✿

IN OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kingsbury Porter (Esther Church) have returned from their honeymoon at Carmel, and are occupying an apartment in Oakland. Early next year they plan to build a home in Berkeley.

✿ ✿ ✿

YACHTING PARTY.

Miss Edith Benjamin will be hostess at a yachting party on Sunday, entertaining fifteen friends on a cruise about the bay.

✿ ✿ ✿

ATTRACTIVE DEBUTANTES.

Miss Marian and Miss Ethel Maroney, who graduated last year from Miss Head's school, in Berkeley, made their debut this afternoon at a large reception given by their aunt, Mrs. Harry Rice Bostwick in San Francisco. They are daughters of Frank Maroney and nieces of Mrs. Charles Gilman Norris of New York (Kathleen Norris) and Joseph Thompson. Mrs. Bostwick had sent out several hundred invitations for the affair, and there was a large receiving party.

✿ ✿ ✿

SAIL FOR CHINA.

Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Bercovitz sailed today for China, where they will make their home in Shanghai. Mrs. Bercovitz was Miss Elva Higgins of Berkeley before her marriage early in the summer. The honeymoon was spent in Southern California, and for the past few weeks, Dr. and Mrs. Bercovitz have been guests at the Higgins residence in the college town.

✿ ✿ ✿

VISITING MRS. LARKEY.

Mrs. M. A. Larkey is entertaining as her house guest her daughter, Mrs. John Tregloan of Tonopah. Mrs. Tregloan will remain several weeks enjoying the Exposition.

✿ ✿ ✿

MEET AT COUNTRY CLUB.

The attractive environment of the Mt. Diablo Country Club has been chosen for the meeting of the Five Hundred Club this evening. Among those who will motor out for an evening at the card tables are Dr. and Mrs. Henry Mehrmann, Mr. and Mrs. William Schrock, Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Abe P. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Laymance, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Sill, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rice.

✿ ✿ ✿

BOX PARTIES AT BALL.

A number of box parties will be given at the ball to follow the Baby Hospital bazaar at the Municipal Auditorium this month. It will be one of the largest and the most brilliant balls of the season, and most of society will be present. Among those who have taken boxes for the evening are Mrs. Duncan McDuffie, Mrs. Samuel Marks, Mrs. Frank Stringham, Mrs. W. B. Seabury, Mrs. W. A. Shockley, Mrs. Bruce Cornwall, Mrs. William Ede, Mrs. Charles R. Lloyd, Mrs. Herbert H. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Nahl, Mrs. Porter Garnett, Mrs. Frank K. Mott.

GARIS BEDTIME STORIES

Sammie Little Tail and Uncle Wiggily's Hat

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the nice old rabbit gentleman, put on his tall silk hat and started out for a hop, skip and a jump through the woods and over the hills.

"Where are you going?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Oh, just to see if I can find another adventure," answered Mr. Longears.

"Well, I hope you don't have one like yesterday," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, "where the skillery-scalery alligator, with the lumps on his tail, and the bad fox tried to get you by putting molasses in your automobile."

"No!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, with a look over his shoulder to make sure no mosquitoes were chasing him. "I don't care for adventures like that. I just want a nice, easy, quiet one today, like losing a lollypop, and finding an ice cream cone."

"Oh, I don't believe you'll have that kind of an adventure," spoke the muskrat lady with a laugh as she squeezed some lemon juice in the eye of a potato to make it stop squinting at the rice pudding.

But, if you please, just wait and see what sort of an adventure Uncle Wiggily has, with his tall hat.

The rabbit gentleman went on and on, doing only a little hopping, skipping and jumping now because of his rheumatism. He was walking slowly through the green wood, when, all at once, he came to the burrow, or underground house, where lived Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy. Sammie was out in front, with some pieces of wood, a box, a hammer and nails, and he was pounding away at a great rate.

"Hello, Sammie!" called Uncle Wiggily in his jolly voice. "What are you making now?"

"I'm making a boat, Uncle Wiggily," Samuel answered, "and when it is finished I wish you would come with me for a ride in it on the duck pond ocean."

"Ha! Hum!" exclaimed the rabbit. "Are you sure your boat will be safe, Sammie, so I won't drown?"

"Oh, sure it will be safe!" exclaimed the boy rabbit. "You'll see!"

Then Sammie hammered and pounded some more until his boat was almost finished.

"All I need to do now is to stop up some of the nail holes in my boat, so the matter won't come in, and we'll be all ready for a ride on the pond," said Sammie to Uncle Wiggily. "Will you come?"

"Yes, I guess I will," promised Mr. Longears. "I may as well have an adventure that way as any other."

Putting his tall hat more firmly on his head, so it would not blow off and take his ears with it, Uncle Wiggily helped Sammie carry the boat down to the duck pond ocean. The bat looked just like a big box from the grocery store, except it had seats in it, that Sammie had made, and some pieces of board shaped like little wooden sand shovels.

"Those are the paddles to paddle our boat across the pond with," Sammie explained to Uncle Wiggily.

"Very good," the rabbit gentleman answered. "But I see holes in your boat, where water can leak through. And if enough water leaks in the boat will be sunk, and we shall sink."

"Oh, I'll stop up the holes," said Sammie. "I ought to have some putty, like the painter uses, to do it, but I guess I can make bread crumbs do as well."

Running in his underground house, or bungalow-burrow, Sammie came back with some bread crumbs. These he and Uncle Wiggily stuffed in the holes of the boat so you could no longer see them.

"Now for a ride on the duck pond ocean!" cried the rabbit boy. "Hurray!"

"And now, perhaps, for an adventure for me!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Hurroo!"

The grocery box boat was put in the water, and with the wooden paddle Sammie began paddling about. And he went over the water, and all Uncle Wiggily sitting in the boat.

"Don't you like it?" asked the little rabbit boy.

"Oh, yes, it is fun," Uncle Wiggily said, and he held on to his tall silk hat, that looked like a pail without a handle to it. Uncle Wiggily did not want his hat to blow away and get wet.

Then, all of a sudden, as the rabbit gentleman and Sammie were having a nice sail in Sammie's home-made boat, there came swimming under it some goldfish. The goldfish looked up at the bottom of Sammie's boat (which the rain could easily do, on account of being in the water under it), and, seeing the bread crumbs, stuffed in the holes, the goldfish said:

"Ah ha! There is something good for us to eat! Nice bread crumbs! We'll eat them!"

And they did, pulling the soft crumbs out of the holes in the bottom of Sammie's boat. The fish liked the bread crumbs very much.

But, of course, when you stop up a hole so water cannot come in, and then when the hole is unstopped, something is going to happen. It was that way with Sammie's boat. When the goldfish ate the bread-crumb stoppers the water came in through the open holes, and the first thing Uncle Wiggily knew his hind paws were getting wet. He looked down on the bottom of the boat, and he saw a puddle of water there.

"Why, Sammie!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "Your boat is leaking."

"So it is!" exclaimed Sammie. "But I don't see how it could do that. I stopped up all the holes!"

Just then the rabbit gentleman saw a goldfish come out from under the boat with the last of the bread crumbs in its mouth.

"Oh, Sammie!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I see what happened. The goldfish ate the bread, unstopped the holes and now we shall sink!"

And it did look so, for the water began coming faster and faster. Soon it was up to Uncle Wiggily's knees and almost to Sammie's shin.

"Sammie!" cried the rabbit gentleman, "can't you paddle to shore?"

"I am paddling as fast as I can," Sammie said, "but the water is coming in faster than I can paddle. Oh, dear, what shall we do?"

"We must dip the water out," said Uncle Wiggily. "If we only had a pail I could dip the water out while you paddled, and we would not sink until we got to shore, when it wouldn't matter."

"Alas, I have no pail!" sighed Sammie.

"If we only had a tin cup, or a dipper," Uncle Wiggily went on, "that would do as well."

"Alas, I have neither of those," Sammie sighed sadly again.

"Then we shall sink and be drowned!" sorrowfully spoke Uncle Wiggily, "for the water is getting deeper and deeper!"

"Ha! I have it!" suddenly cried Sammie. "Your tall silk hat! That is as good as a pail, and it will hold water. It's a good thing you wore it! Dip the water out of our boat with your tall hat, Uncle Wiggily, and we can keep afloat long enough to save ourselves. Bail out the boat with your hat!"

"Alas! My new tall silk hat!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "It will be spoiled." But he took it from his head and dipped all the water out of the boat. Of course, a little more leaked in, but not enough to hurt, and soon Sammie and Uncle Wiggily were safe ashore, even if the rabbit gentleman's hat did have to be ironed to make it look like new.

So Uncle Wiggily had his adventure after all, and in case the cellar door hook doesn't hide in the kitchen keyhole, where the doorknob can't find it to play somersault with, I'll tell you next week about Susie Littletail and Uncle Wiggily's crutch.

Women in the News

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 2.—Seated about the dinner table where the women of the Presbyterian church had Mr. Bryan as their guest yesterday after his address to the efficiency convention, Bryan fidgeted with his watch until the hands reached 2 o'clock. Then he spoke as follows:

"I would like to have my friends here drink a toast with me. I would drink to the one who has borne the greatest of my burdens and who deserves the most of the praise—to my wife. Just thirty-one years ago at this minute I was married."

The toast was drunk in grape juice. A telegram of congratulations was sent Mrs. Bryan.

MILADY TO PAY TALCUM TAX

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 2.—Federal Judge Rellstab today decided that talcum powder used for toilet purposes is a cosmetic and that the seizure of a quantity of the article by the government was rightfully made.

The seizure was upon the property of E. R. Squibb & Son of New York to determine whether under schedule B of the emergency stamp tax act of October 22, 1914, talcum powder should bear the stamp tax as a cosmetic.

United States District Attorney Davis said at least $500,000 in revenue was involved in the test suit.

MISS ANGELLOTTI HIT WITH BOTTLE

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 2.—Miss Marion Polk Angellotti, the novelist and daughter of Chief Justice Frank M. Angellotti, was the victim of a mysterious attack near San Rafael yesterday.

Miss Angellotti was driving her automobile toward her home in San Rafael when another car, containing two men, passed close to her. As the machine passed one of the men threw a bottle directly at Miss Angellotti.

The bottle smashed through the glass wind shield and the flying pieces cut deeply into Miss Angellotti's face. In spite of the pain and the blood which sprang from the wounds, half blinding her, Miss Angellotti kept her presence of mind, retained control of her car and drove into San Rafael, where she notified the sheriff before seeking medical attention.

As historical novelist Miss Angellotti has won distinction.

GIRL HIKERS END LONG TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Three pretty girls started to walk from Chicago to the San Francisco exposition last March. Two of them arrived here, freckled, sunburned, healthy and happy yesterday. The third fell by the way side. She got married a few weeks after starting on the long hike.

Miss Ruth E. Harsley, who said she managed a cafeteria in Chicago, and who is not yet 21 years old, and Miss Maude S. Bridson, a former school teacher, are the two attractive hikers who strolled into the city yesterday. They plan to stop at the Palace.

The girls made copious notes on their long walks to the Pacific Coast, and plan to write a book. They said that tramps and hoboes whom they met along the road treated them courteously.

WAR IN THE YOSEMITE.

It is a matter of common knowledge that discord reigns in the Yosemite National Park. Rival hotel keepers have come to blows. Captain Curry, who is one of the features of the Yosemite and who is favorably known to thousands of people in California and elsewhere, says he was brutally assaulted by a man named Desmond, who claims to have all the privileges and concessions in the park worth controlling. Desmond is apparently a protege of Mark Daniels, superintendent of national parks, and according to the blustering interview with Mr. Daniels, printed in another part of this paper, it is proposed to give him a monopoly of hotel keeping, merchandising and transportation in the valley. This is to be done without decent regard for the rights and vested interests of those who have been expending their time, money and effort for the convenience of visitors to the Yosemite Valley for the last fifteen years. No proposition to buy out Mr. Sell, who operates the Sentinel Hotel and Camp Ahwahnee, has been made; nor has Mr. Daniels or his protege offered compensation to Mr. Curry. Their plan seems to embrace the very unlovely purpose of squeezing out Messrs. Sell and Curry for the purpose of allowing Desmond and his backers to have exclusive privileges in all hotel and other concessions. Mr. Daniels' interview is conspicuously lacking in candor and comprehensiveness. We are reliably informed that Desmond has told the hotel keepers who are now established in the park that they may have 6 per cent on their investment, that they must operate under his concessions and that all earnings in excess of 6 per cent are to go to him, he having no investment whatever. Expressed in plain terms, this is an unjust and confiscatory proposition. In order to put pressure upon present hotel men in the valley Mr. Daniels declares that unless Desmond's terms are accepted the valley will be closed by the government during the year 1916. This, of course, is impertinent and unwarranted bluff on the part of Brother Daniels. He will not close the valley and neither will the Secretary of the Interior. If they did they would both be violently detached from the public service by a justifiable outburst of public indignation.

The people who are conducting hotels and camps in the Yosemite Valley have been operating under very hard conditions. They tried for years to obtain reasonable concessions from the government, which would allow them to invest considerable sums of money in permanent structures. The government refused to give them enough time to make their building proposition a bankable one. They established themselves in the valley in good faith, however, and upon the urgent solicitation of the government itself. They have done nothing to forfeit their rights and while they are willing to sell out at a reasonable figure they think the government is in pretty small and sordid business when it seeks to force unprofitable conditions upon them—conditions which take no account of their endeavors and losses in the past.

We take this opportunity to suggest to some of the eminent business men who are occupying Cabinet positions in Washington that it is not the function of government to become engaged in small commercial operations.

The people of this country are not money-mad, as some of the prominent members of the administration at Washington seem to think. The well-meaning people of the United States prefer to have the government deal honestly and justly with all men, rather than have it make profits at the expense of honor and fair dealing. So far as the Yosemite Valley is concerned, we are sure that those who have visited it and those who hope to visit it will prefer to have existing arrangements continue for a time rather than have the government perform a discreditable act and in the end change the character of the wholly reputable and excellent places of entertainment to "wide open" liquor guzzling resorts, which seems to be contemplated by Messrs. Daniels and Desmond.

AUSTRIA'S NOVEL CONTENTION.

The government of Austria-Hungary has on the way, it is reported, a reply to the note of the Washington government of August 12th last relative to the manufacture of ammunition in the United States which ultimately finds its way to the ranks of Austria's enemies. The note as telegraphed from Amsterdam advances a novel proposal, namely, that neutral nations should permit the manufacture and export to a belligerent of only a "normal" amount of war munitions. It does not indicate, however, what is to be considered "normal" production. An extract from the reply reads:

According to paragraphs 2 and 3 of the preamble of The Hague Convention No. 13 of 1907 and supplemented by the general principles of neutrality the Austro-Hungarian government considers the concentration of so much American energy on one aim, namely the delivery of war material whereby, although not intentional, it in fact, effective support is rendered one of the belligerent parties is a "fait nouveau" (new departure) which conflates the reference of the United States to supposed precedents.

The dual government is further of the opinion that the excessive export of war material is not admissible even if it is exported to countries of both belligerent parties. The above mentioned fait nouveau should be sufficient reason for altering the existing practice of the United States in regard to its observance of neutrality.

Secretary Lansing in his note of August 12th, gave every indication of having said the last word on the subject of the right of the people of a neutral country to make and export munitions. The opinion that the "excessive" export of war is not admissible, even if exported to countries of both belligerent parties, has no sounder basis than the previously expressed opinion that ammunition making and selling was a violation of neutrality. If Archibald had not failed in his mission and Ambassador Dumba's note advising the Austrian foreign minister that the American attitude on the question was unalterable perhaps this reply would not have been written.

WHERE IS THE GOAT?

We have before us a unique letter. A reader writes that he is a visitor to the Coast and has been looking around a bit with the idea of selecting a permanent home in some California city. He tells us he has driven all over Oakland and likes it "first rate," excepting for one thing. He could find neither in the city or its environs any goats.

Strange we had never before thought of goats as an attraction in a residential city. Our correspondent does not tell us where he has his permanent home at present, but it might easily be in one of hundreds of Eastern cities where the placid, avaricious, grimly humorous and harmless "billy-goat" has ingratiated itself into the affections of the human population. In New York City there is a section which the goat calls his "home," a small section, it is true, and one to which the millionaires have forced him by homesteading his original domicile in Central Park, but nevertheless a home to which the New York business man on holiday bent and in reminiscent mood may go and commune with himself. So it is in Washington, the Nation's capital; in Chicago, in Boston and all the small towns between.

In San Francisco the Easterner finds the kindred spirit on the crest of Telegraph Hill or in South San Francisco, and on occasions we have seen strangers making pilgrimage to these spots late in the afternoon and wondered why. We have seen them gaily sprint from cobblestone to cobblestone up to the hills in South San Francisco, visit some wooden cottage where the wash was hanging high and search anxiously until they located the goat. After watching him and his indifference for ten or twenty minutes they have retraced their steps, satiated, refreshed, and enjoyed their evening in the "heart of the city" fairly well.

So it is that this letter of which we speak reveals to us the presence of a soul in hunger and distress. We have observed his kind and know that nothing will do him any good but the sight of a goat. Perhaps we have been unobserving to a degree, or perhaps we have been too busy with the other attractions of Oakland. At any rate we do not just recall the peculiar "goat" district of the city. If some one will tell us where it may be found, if any goats abide with us, we shall cheerfully pass the information on to our inquiring friend. If not, we will have to advise him to locate on the bleak hilltops of San Francisco.

AN IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION.

Consul General George E. Anderson at Hong Kong, China, has committed the offense of telling an unpleasant truth, and we shall not be surprised to hear that the administration at Washington is considering plans to establish a censorship over consular reports to delete them of statements not in sympathy with administration schemes. In his report to the State Department, Mr. Anderson says that American trade in the Far East is being disastrously affected by the shortage of freight tonnage. The report also states—something we have known for a long time—that Japanese shipping lines, which virtually control the Pacific trade, will continue to discriminate in favor of Japanese shippers in apportioning space in steamers.

Then Mr. Anderson says the most uncertain element in the entire situation is the question of whether or not the Pacific Mail steamships will be withdrawn from the trans-Pacific run. There is no uncertainty about this matter now. Some of the ships already have been withdrawn and the remainder will pass out of the Pacific trade within the next few weeks. Mr. Anderson's estimate of the results of this forced withdrawal is, therefore, timely. He says:

"The removal of these vessels from the transpacific run will precipitate a situation of the gravest sort, involving a stoppage of practically all of the new business in the Far East obtained by the American manufacturers since the beginning of the war, as well as interfering in a most critical way with American manufacturers securing certain raw materials in this part of the world. The shortage of tonnage for the fall and winter trade even with these vessels in service will be acute and serious, and will profoundly affect all Far Eastern trade. Without these vessels the situation will become simply impossible."

There is the situation. It is "impossible." The members of Congress who voted for the seaman's bill and President Wilson, who signed it, are the guilty and responsible persons.

THE PEACE CONGRESS.

More than one hundred and fifty of the leading clergymen in the cities bordering San Francisco bay are cooperating with the International Peace Congress to make Sunday, October 10, when the work of the congress begins a great "Peace Sunday" by having special sermons or taking other action to help on the campaign for peace.

A large number of the clergymen have already definitely planned to deliver a special sermon that day at the morning or evening services. In the evening there will be a gigantic interdenominational meeting at the Tabernacle on Van Ness avenue, at which Archbishop Hanna, Rabbi Martin A. Meyer, the Rev. H. B. Johnson, D.D., of the Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. James Macdonald of Toronto, a Presbyterian clergyman, and others, including Dr. Frederick Lynch of the Congregational church and secretary of the Church Peace Union, will take part.

The sessions of the congress will open on Sunday afternoon, October 10, in the Greek Theater, Berkeley. When Governor Johnson and Mayor Irving of Berkeley will welcome the delegates on behalf of the state and the city. Chancellor David Starr Jordan will deliver the principal address on "The Way to Lasting Peace," and other important addresses will be made by Dr. Frederick Lynch, Dr. James A. Macdonald of Toronto, Canada, and the Rev. Matt S. Hughes, D.D., of Pasadena.

THE WIRELESS

Kin of the flaming thunderbolt,
Child of the storm-swept sky,
I leap and race through the roads of space,
Voice of the Sea am I.
No winding channels guide my flight,
No threads my sinews chain,
For I take my flight on the wings of light,
The Mercury of the main.

Over the crests of the writhing sea,
Under the clouds, low hung,
I flash my way through the spume and spray
Giving the lightning tongue.
I laugh while the tempest yields me way,
I scatter the driving rain,
And the sluggard wind lags far behind
The Mercury of the main.

Where the masts of the churning ships point up
To the stars through the silent dark,
I take my quest, North, East or West,
Sped by the spitting spark.
And I scour the waves and I search the land
Till the destined goal I gain
And hearts that sign are gladdened by
The Mercury of the main.

When Neptune scourges his sullen waves
With the lash of the tempest's breath,
And the brave ships shake and the captains quake
And the engines race with Death,
'Tis to me they turn in their tortured fear,
And seldom they turn in vain;
For succor flies, to the trumpet cries
Of the Mercury of the main.

Kin of the flaming thunderbolt,
Child of the storm-swept sky,
I leap and race through the roads of space,
Voice of the Sea am I;
For the newer gods of the newer years,
Gods with the Titan's brain,
Have made of fire and their high desire,
A Mercury of the main.

OIL TO PREVENT FOG.

The Hydrographic Bulletin for August, 1915, published by the United States Hydrographic Office, Washington, D. C., announces that at the suggestion of the officer in charge of the Branch Hydrographic Office, New Orleans, attention is called to the possible value of oil as a preventive of fog. It is reported that experiments have been made in France with variable success to prevent the fogs in river valleys, the best results being obtained by employing vegetable oils. This covered the surface with a thin film of oil which kept the air from coming in direct contact with the warmer water and thus hindered the condensation of the water vapor. "It may well be," says the Bulletin, "that a ship which has to stop or anchor off a fog-bound coast can create a clear zone around her by distributing storm oil for a time. The Hydrographic Office would be glad to hear from those who make the experiment and from any who may already have had experience in this line. Careful note should be made of all the conditions, such as the character of the fog, temperature of air, temperature of sea water at surface, state of the sea, direction and force of the wind, method of employing oil, kind and amount of oil used, and how much headway, if any, the ship had; then report whether the oil appeared to spread well, how long it was applied, and what effect it had on the fog."

A BLACKHAND LETTER.

Imagine our surprise Monday morning when upon opening the door of the Record office we discovered a discolored and badly folded note lying on the floor with the regulation skull and crossbones staring up at us. This is what we read:

"You Record mans:

"We tella you dis. We needa de mon so you putta two dollar unda da stumpa by Meester Choi'y house dis a nite. You no putta da mon unda da stump—poof—we blow up de paper. TONY."

At the bottom of the letter was more crossbones, skulls and coffins. What did we do? What could we do? We simply wrote Tony Black Hand a note and poosted it on the front door of the office:

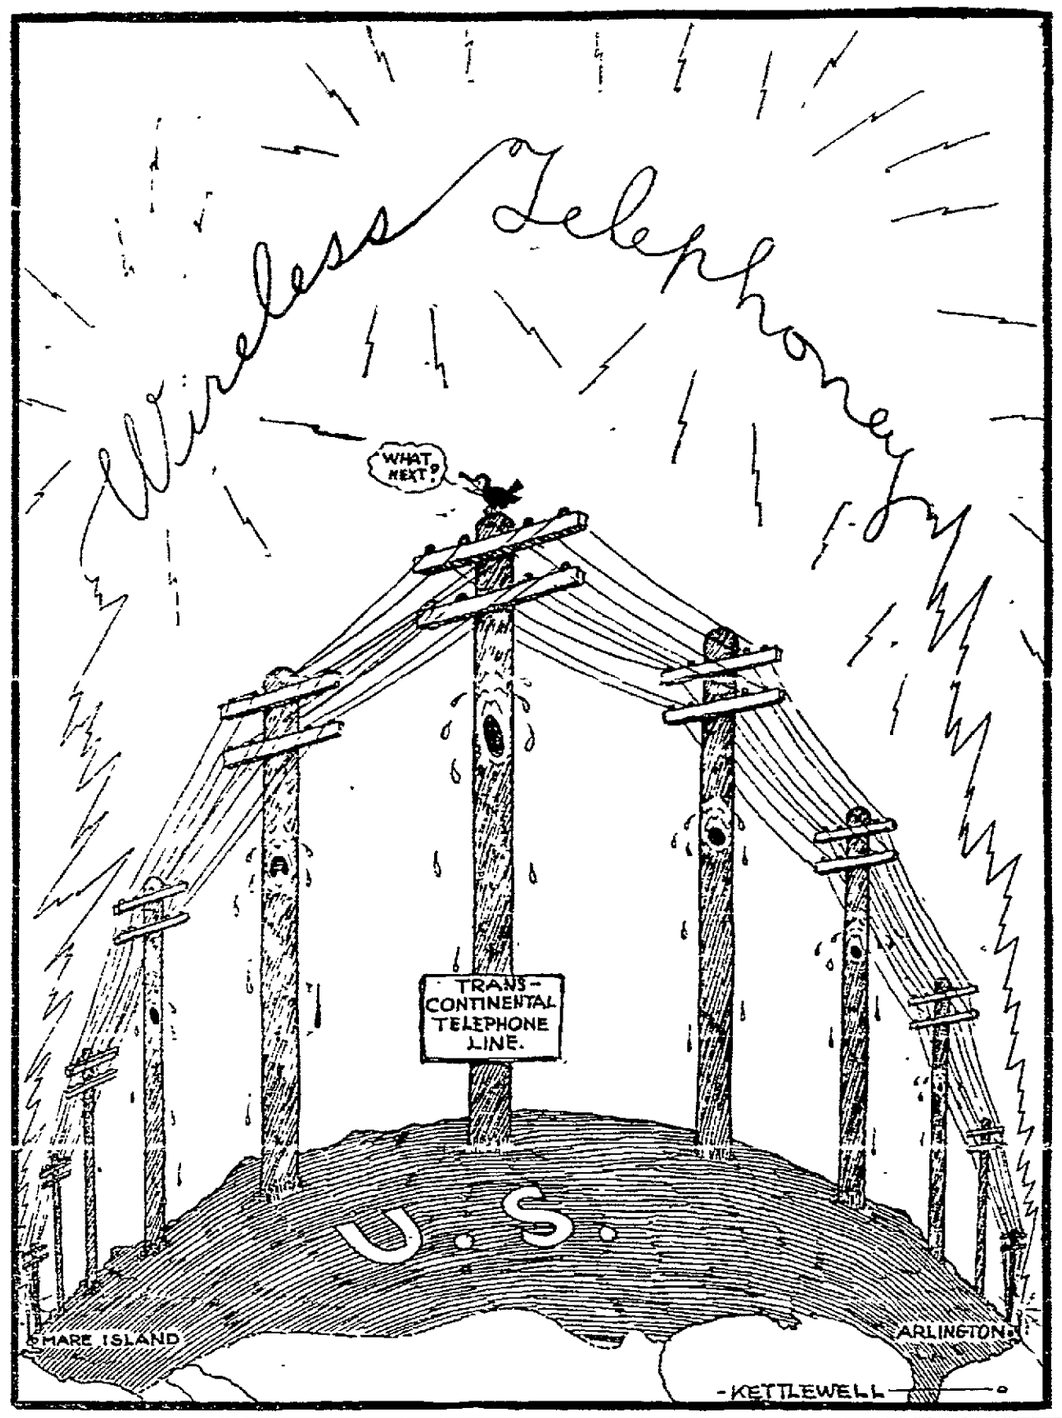

"Tony:

"This is to inform you that we haven't got two dollars and if we did have such good luck we wouldn't 'putta unda de stumpa.' Now Tony while we are sorry for you this time we like your style of business—it is better than the newspaper game—at least it brings quicker results. Now if you don't like us then—poof—'blow up de paper' and it won't be the first time it 'blowed up' either."—The Bunkie Record.

"THE LOST CHILD."

Strolling down Third street, contentedly gazing in the windows, Baby Taylor, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Taylor of Third and K streets, sauntered into the arms of Policeman Savage. The little tot was lost, although she had not begun to think so. A telephone call to the police station was received and patrolmen were watching for the lost lamb. She was taken to the police station and there the little one sat munching candy when an excited mother rushed in and caught the child to her breast.—San Bernardino News.

OUTDONE!

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. J. H. Dunn of this city is organizing a hospital corps to be composed of members of Companies A, F and G, Fifth Infantry, N. G. C., located in this city and Alameda. The undertaking is sanctioned by the company and regimental officers and is generally considered as a much needed departure.

The chapel of the Unitarian church was well filled last evening on the occasion of the recital arranged by friends for Mrs. Adeline Jones-Cram. Mrs. Cram was assisted by Mrs. Olive Reed-Bachelder, contralto; Mrs. Carrie Brown-Dexter, soprano; Miss Maud Day, reader; Richard Milliken, reader and Miss Lulu Snider, accompanist.

A committee has been appointed from the Christian Endeavor Union to make arrangements for a reception to be given Rev. and Mrs. William Rader by that organization before their departure from Oakland. The following gentlemen have the affair in charge: E. C. Gilbert, R. M. Brown, A. J. McMurty, B. L. Spence and W. Bibby.

Dr. E. J. Boyes, accompanied by his wife and son, Master Bedford Boyes, left this morning for a sojourn at Santa Catalina Island. Dr. Boyes is convalescing from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

F. M. Smith and family, also Miss Violet Ransome, with W. H. Chickering and wife, left on the Campania for Europe Saturday. Mrs. M. J. Thompson is with the party. F. M. Smith and family will remain in Europe several months.

Mrs. C. A. Brun left yesterday for Portland, Ore., where her husband is connected in business.

A Ringer.

Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the American Red Cross, said on his return from Belgium to a reporter:

"If peace is to come, each side must do its share. Advances must be made. Like the girl, you know.

"A young millionaire said to a beautiful girl on a moonlit beach between two dances:

Don't you like that Shakesperean quotation:

" 'The friends thou hast and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel.' "

" 'Beautiful,' she said, 'Beautiful. But wouldn't hoops of gold be better?' "—Philadelphia Bulletin.

There Was a Doubt.

One afternoon a stranger debarked from a train at a hustling town in the West and headed up the street. Finally he met a party that looked like a native.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, halting the likely-looking party. "Are you a resident of this town?"

"Yes, sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "Been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?"

"I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?"

"Well," reflectively answered the native, "I think we have, but we can't prove it on him."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Reason for Industry.

"You have turned very industrious lately, Tim," said one Tipperary man to another.

"That I have, bedad," replied the other. "I was up before the magistrate last week for assaulting Cassidy, and the magistrate said that if I came back on the same charge he would fine be £2."

"Did he?" said the first speaker. "And you're working hard so as to keep your hands off Cassidy?"

"Don't believe it," said the industrious man. "I'm working hard to save up the 40 shillings."—Tit Bits.

It Depended.

Visitor—What's that new structure on the hill there?

Farmer—Well, if I find a tenant for it, it's a bungalow; if I don't it's a barn.—Passing Show.

NOTABLE PERSONS.

Kraguyevatz, where Crown Prince Alexander and the Serbian army staff have headquarters, was bombarded yesterday by Austro-German airships. The Crown Prince was uninjured.

Luther Burbank's latest creation to be announced is a white flax. Many years ago growers of Europe and this country asked Burbank to work upon the production of a white flax. After years of experimenting he has triumphed.

Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, at the St. Joseph, Mo., Democratic state banquet last night, reviewed the legislative record of the Democratic party and expressed confidence in the verdict of the voters in the election of 1916.

E. M. Barthold, agricultural expert, formerly of New York and now of Brazil, who has been touring the agricultural and horticultural districts of California, left for the east yesterday.

WIRELESS IN THE FAR EAST.

The opening of the Japanese Marconi wireless plant at Funabashi, near Yokohama, with messages to the Marconi station at Koko head, Hawaii, extended the Marconi service nearly two-thirds the way around the globe. If the war had not interfered with the creation of the British imperial chain, it might have been possible by this time, says the Boston Transcript, to relay a message by wireless all the way around the world. The first message from the new station in Japan was received in New York. It traveled in the air 3355 miles from Japan to Hawaii and then 2087 miles from Hawaii to San Francisco. A station at Petrograd is now in constant communication with the Marconi plant at Carnarvon, Wales. From Clifden, Ireland, messages are sent across the Atlantic to Cape Glace. The new plant at Belmar, N. J., has sent messages across the United States to the station on Bolinas bay, a few miles from San Francisco, although the Marconi company uses wire communication in its transcontinental service. San Francisco has been in wireless communication for nearly a year with the station at Koko head on Oahu island in Hawaii, and recently messages have been exchanged between Koko head and the station at Funabashi, Japan. Wireless communication from Japan extends to Vladivostock, Russia, and to various points in China and the Orient.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAY OPERATION FAILURE

The Tribune recently commented upon the failure of the Canadian government in railway construction. Mr. Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age Gazette, in a letter to the New York Evening Post, points out Canada's failure in railway ownership and operation in the following terms:

"Canada has had forty-seven years' experience in the government ownership and actual operation of railways. This ought to afford a first-class indication as to what is likely to happen in the operation of the National Transcontinental.

Canada has owned and operated the Intercolonial Railway since 1867, and the Prince Edward Island Railway since 1873. This government railway system—1734 miles—has been of sufficient mileage to afford opportunity for the development of its own prosperity as well as that of the country it serves. It is not so great as to be unwieldy.

"The Prince Edward Island Railway has never earned enough to pay its bare operating expenses in any year of the forty-two years since the government took it over and assumed its operation. It has no taxes to pay. Including cost of road and equipment, deficits from operation and unearned interest, it has cost the government $33,000,000, or $118,000 per mile. But because of its limited territory and because the island needs its service, its history is perhaps not a strong argument on either side.

"It is different with the Intercolonial. This road of 1455 miles serves New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and a part of Quebec. Except a section of Ontario, this is the most densely populated part of the Dominion. The territory has been settled longer and is more intensely cultivated than the other provinces. In products of agriculture, mines, forests, fisheries, and manufactures, these provinces constitute an important section of the Dominion. The Intercolonial, until recent years, had a practical monopoly of the territory. Its density of traffic, both passenger and freight, has averaged higher than the average of the roads in the United States except those north of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi.

"Notwithstanding these favorable conditions, the Intercolonial since 1867 has cost the taxpayers of the Dominion of Canada $345,000,000, or $237,000 per mile. This includes cost of road and equipment, deficits from operation and unearned interest at 4 per cent on the investment. The government's operation covers forty-seven years. In twenty years the Intercolonial has earned small amounts in excess of operating expenses. In the twenty-seven other years it has failed by large amounts to earn its bare operating expenses. For the whole period of government ownership and operation, its net earnings have amounted to $2,595,000 and its operating deficits to over $11,000,000—a total deficit from operation of $8,500,000. It pays no taxes. In only one of the twenty years in which its earnings from operation exceeded its operating expenses was the amount of net earnings large enough to have paid taxes had they been assessed at the rate roads just over the line in Maine pay. Six or eight years' taxes, if they had been assessed, would have eaten up all the net earnings it has ever made.

"In Maine the conditions are in many respects similar to those in Intercolonial territory. The Maine Central and Bangor & Arrostook, taken together, have a little greater mileage than the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways. In 1914 the Maine Central paid over $600,000 in taxes. The Bangor & Aroostook paid a less amount. The two privately owned roads earned in that year $4,500,000 net in addition. The government railways just over an imaginary line made a deficit of $255,000, without paying any taxes at all. On the contrary, the taxpayers of the Dominion made up this deficit and invested over $6,000,000 more in construction account on the two roads."

Curtis Allen Returns After Imprisonment in the Far East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Jailed seven times as a spy in the Far East, Curtis W. Allen, a twenty-year-old American youth employed by a Canadian lumber firm, is back in San Francisco today after eleven months' travel between Hongkong and Calcutta, under constant surveillance of the British secret police and most of the time in British military prisons. Once preparations were made for his execution.

Allen's experience with British colonial authorities in Honghong, Burma, the Malay peninsula and India run like a tale of the Spanish inquisition. His story is a tale of arrests, constant shadowing, imprisonment on suspicion, "third degree" sessions, bullying and solitary confinement by the military police to prove him a German spy.

"They tried everything short of physical violence to prove their first mistake," said Allen today. "They denied me a trial, manufactured incriminating evidence and permitted me to see the American consul only once after I had been in prison more than two months."

ARREST AT BURMA.

Allen left San Francisco for the province of Punjab, India, in December to buy hardwood lumber concessions for the India, Burma and Malay Peninsula Timber Company of New Westminster, B. C. He was born in Anacortes, Wash., where his parents are pioneer residents.

"Without a word of warning I was arrested on my arrival in Burma as a German spy," said Allen. "My American passport, signed by Secretary of State Bryan, and my Canadian credentials, they said, were forged or stolen.

"They would give me no explanation of why I was supected other than that 'I looked like a German.' I had a 'German face,' so I was a spy.

"'Why, your very clothes are of German cut,' they said.

"Within a week, I was stricken with typhoid fever from the dirty water and the poor food of the prison. I was removed to the general hospital for treatment, where five Burmese police and one inspector kept constant guard over me. I was sixty-three days in the hospital.

AGAIN IN CALCUTTA.

"Finally I was allowd to go to Rangoon to present my case to American Consul Morehead. The British had already seen him and had shown him a mass of false evidence supposed to have been taken from my trunk. They had plied him so with untruths that he hardly believed me. Here I was again arrested and jailed.

"Later I made my way to Calcutta, intending to go into interior India for my employers. I was arrested immediately on my arrival. The charge was the same—I was a German spy.

"I was deported from Calcutta, sent to Rangoon and rearrested. I spent a week in the Rangoon prison and was then deported to Hongkong.

NO TRIAL GIVEN.

"Not once during the whole time was there any pretense of giving me a trial. The ship on which I returned to Hongkong stopped at Singapore and Penang. In each port I was arrested as soon as the vessel docked, put in prison and kept there until the boat departed.

"At Hongkong I was taken into custody again and put in a concentration camp. I was imprisoned here for three weeks.

"At Burma they were ready to hang me in public and, in fact, actually started preparations. They are spy-mad in Burma, the Malay peninsula and India.

"In Hongkong an American, who was praising the Germans in a saloon, was arrested and convicted—of something—and sentenced to nine months in jail."

Allen returned to San Francisco on the steamer China without his baggage. His employers have not heard from him since he left here last December. He sent them a cablegram from Burma, but it was held up by the British "because there was no reason why it should be sent."

Nervous Auto Bandits Make Bungling Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The jitney bandits are at work again. This morning James G. Maxwell of 2456 Greenwich street, was held up by four men in an automobile, who jumped out and confronted him with a brace of revolvers. All were masked and demanded his money. He held up his hands, but the nervousness of the robbers may be realized when it is known that they did not search the inside pockets of their victim's vest. In it, Maxwell carried over $100.

Finding no money, the four men jumped back into their machine after warning Maxwell to stand still for five minutes under pain of death. The hold up occurred at the corner of Scott and Vallejo.

TO TRAIN FOR WAR

U. S. NAVY PLAYS WAR GAME

FLEET WILL 'ATTACK' COAST

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 2.—Fourteen of the United States' greatest fighting ships are today at anchor in Hampton Roads, coaling and provisioning preparatory to participation in the most extensive war game ever attempted by the navy.

Among the ships are the Arkansas, New Hampshire, Louisiana, New Jersey, Rhode Island, New York, Texas, Utah, Florida, Michigan, South Carolina and Celtic. The battleship Wyoming and two colliers are up Chesapeake Bay engaged in experimental practice. The Wyoming is trying her big guns off Tangiers Sound.

The war game will begin at midnight October 5, and will continue fifteen days. The fleet now in the roads is expected to sail Sunday or Monday.

Each ship will sail under sealed orders, the same as in time of actual war.

The fleet will be divided into two parts. One will be known as the invaders and the others as the defenders so as to gain entrance to an American port.

The ships will be strewn out along the coast from Florida to the coast of Maine. The battleship Wyoming will be flagship of the invading forces.

VALLEY ROUTE IN GOOD SHAPE

SAN JUAN GRADE IS STILL CLOSED

Valley Route South: Leave Oakland via Broadway to Twelfth street, turn right and continue to Thirteenth avenue, turn left one block to East Fourteenth street, thence to Twenty-third avenue, turn left to Foothill Boulevard, turn right and continue to Hayward, turn left on Dublin Boulevard to Santa Rita; turn right to Pleasanton, thence to Livermore (construction between Santa Rita and Livermore). Altamont Pass to Tracy, State Highway to Manteca; Modesto, Merced, Madera, Fresno, Kingsburg, thence via oiled gravel road to Visalia, Exeter, Porterville, Terra Bella, Ducor. Turn west at Ducor to Earlimart, thence south to Delano, all in good condition, thence over highway to Bakersfield. Coast Route South: Via Foothill boulevard to Hayward, Niles, Centerville, Irvington, Warm Springs, Milpitas, San Jose, Morgan Hill, Gilroy. Parties desiring to go to Del Monte, follow highway to Sargent and San Juan, thence over old San Juan grade, which is rough, to Salinas and Del Monte. Parties going directly south, turn left just south of Gilroy onto Bolsa road to Hollister, thence directly south to Hollister to Tres Pinos, Paicines, Mulberry, Cook (side trip to Pinnacles National Monument), Bitterwater. Parties can either turn right at pumping station and follow to King City, thence over Jolon Grade to Bradley and San Miguel, or follow south from Bitterwater to Lonoak, Peachtree, Grant Ranch, Lutner Ranch, Valleton to San Miguel. Latter road much better as Jolon Grade is badly cut up and very dusty. Bradley to county line, good gravel road; thence over highway to just this side of Paso Robles; gravel road to Paso Robles and very rough dirt road to Templeton and Atascadero; just below Atascadero, State Highway is encountered to San Luis Obispo and to within one mile of Arroyo Grande, thence good dirt road to Santa Maria; highway to Orcutt; then four miles rough dirt road to Blake, then highway to Los Alamos, and good dirt road to Los Olivos. From Los Olivos will be found rough dirt road to foot of San Marcos Pass, then up 5 miles and down 7 miles narrow, crooked road in fair condition to Goleta, thence over highway to Santa Barbara. From Santa Barbara to Ventura, all highway, thence over 14 miles good dirt road to El Rio, and highway via Conejo Grade, Newbury Park, Calabasas to Los Angeles.

Coast Route to Oregon: East bay motorists taking coast route north should go to Point Richmond, thence via ferry to Point San Quentin, thence to San Rafael. Boat leaves Point Richmond, 8:15, 10:15 (12:15 on Sunday only), 3:45, 5:45 p. m. (also 1:45 daily except Sunday, and 7:20 on Sunday only). San Francisco motorists take ferry to Sausalito. Sausalito special auto boats daily at 7 a. m., except Sunday; Saturday, 1:30 p. m.; Sunday, 8:30 and 9:00 a. m. Returning special Sunday boats, 6:10, 7:45, 9:20 p. m. Sausalito to San Rafael, new road through Sausalito and north completed except one short detour. San Rafael to Petaluma, three detours for construction, rough; thence to Santa Rosa. Santa Rosa to Healdsburg, state highway. Healsburg to Cloverdale, McCray's and Hopland, good. From Hopland to Ukiah, main road very poor, under construction. Turn right at Hopland and take inside road to Ukiah in good condition. Ukiah to Willits, highway. Willits north via Laytonville, Harris, Blocksburg, fair to rough. Blocksburg to Bridgeville and Eureka, good. Eureka to Crescent City, good road but quite crooked. Crescent City to Grants Pass over Siskivou mountains in good condition on California side, but poor on Oregon side, motorists advised that they cannot make good time after leaving Willits, but road bed fair. Road rolling and crooked. Ukiah to Mendocino, Fort Bragg, Westport and along ocean to Kenny, Thorn, Petrolia and Eureka, good.

Pacific Highway North: Leave Oakland via Broadway to Twelfth street, turn right and continue on Twelfth street to Thirteenth avenue; turn left one block to East Fourteenth street, thence to Twenty-third avenue, turn left to Foothill Boulevard; thence to Dublin Canyon to Pleasanton and Livermore, thence over Altamont Pass to Tracy, continue on State Highway to Stockton and Sacramento, with exception of 3 miles construction near Galt, rough and dusty. From Sacramento completed State Highway to Roseville and Lincoln, thence over 9 miles dirt road to Wheatland highway to Marysville, Marysville to Yuba City, Gridley, Biggs, Nelson, Durham to Chico, good. From Chico via direct road to Vina, Los Molinas and Red Bluff. Short stretch of construction between Red Bluff and Redding, rough, balance good. Redding north, via Kennet, narrow and crooked, Baird road under construction, but passable, thence to Eureka, good. Yreka over Siskiyou mountains on new grade, very good to Medford and Grants Pass. Road through Oregon and Washington, good.

To Santa Cruz and Del Monte: Best route to Del Monte is via Hayward, Niles, Irvington, Warm Springs, Milpitas to San Jose, Gilroy, San Juan, thence over San Juan grade which has been repaired and in fair condition, to Salinas. Route to Santa Cruz via Big Basin in fair condition, being sprinkled. Ocean Shore boulevard from Colma to Halfmoon Bay nearly completed. Open in about 10 days. From Halfmoon to San Gregoria will be completed in about two weeks. New highway from Belmont to Crystal Springs completed. Best route to Crystal Springs is via highway to Belmont, thence over new boulevard to the lakes. Road from San Mateo cut up from hauling. Redwood City to Woodside, La Honda and San Gregoria or Pescadero, good.

North from Vallejo: Road between Benicia and Cordelia open and in fair condition excepting about two miles, very rough. Cordelia to Fairfield, Vacaville, Dixon, Davis, Woodland, good; thence to Arbuckle, Williams, Maxwell, Willows, in fair condition with detours for construction work. Orland to Corning, highway; thence to Red Bluff via Upper Corning road, good. (Davis to Sacramento, fair. Woodland to Sacramento, fair).

Best Route to Crystal Springs: Via highway to Belmont, thence over new boulevard to the lakes. Road from San Mateo badly damaged by hauling.

To La Honda: Redwood City to Woodside, good. New grade from Woodside to La Honda not completed. New road from La Honda down San Gregoria creek, which connects with road to Pescadero about completed. Pescadero south to Santa Cruz, passable, but not advisable, rough.

Contra Costa County Roads: Tunnel road, Berkeley to Walnut Creek, closed. Route to Martinez via Richmond, San Pablo, Pinole, Port Costa, open and in fair condition with detour route for construction between San Pablo and Pinole, which is posted. Marsh Creek road, Concord to Byron, poor.

Best Route to Byron Hot Springs: Via Foothill Boulevard to Hayward; thence via Dublin Canyon road to Santa Rita, detour to Pleasanton and thence to Livermore. Altamont Pass to the Byron road.

To Lake Tahoe: Roads in fair condition but season getting late. Snow in mountains at present time, especially south of Tahoe to Mono Lake.

To Lake County: Best route from Benicia to Vallejo. Napa (construction west of Napa on Shellville road) thence north via St. Helena, Calistoga, Middletown to Lakeport and Lake county points, in good condition.

I. D. E. S. BALL TO BE SOCIAL EVENT

With decorations installed, details arranged and a number of novel features planned, all is ready for the big ball of the I. D. E. S. convention, to be held tonight at Foresters' Hall. The ball is the big feature entertainment in connection with the twenty-third annual session of the supreme council of the order, being held in Oakland. The business sessions continued today, the delegates, coming from all parts of the state, hearing various details of the progress of the society. The I. D. E. S. is a Portuguese benevolent and fraternal society, founded at Mission San Jose twenty-three years ago, and since then has extended to all parts of California.

The ball tonight will be given by the joint committees of the local councils in honor of the supreme officers and delegates to the session. Supreme President J. S. Costa will lead the grand march.

The automobile ride, to have been taken tomorrow by the visitors, has been postponed, owing to press of other business, and some other social affair may be substituted for it at a later date in the convention. The council will meet in business session again next week, and Monday night will see public installation of officers at the headquarters of the convention in Foresters' Hall.

TONG WAR AGAIN FEARED BY POLICE

The outbreak of a tong war in the Chinese sections of Oakland and San Francisco is feared by the police, as it has been learned that several of the tong leaders of the Suey Sings and the Hop Sings have gone into hiding. This is usually the preliminary of an outbreak of gunfighting, and the police details in Chinatown have been doubled by order of Chief W. F. Woods. Every effort is being made to guard against an outbreak.

It is feared that if hostilities occur the Suey Sings may be aided by the Bing Kong tong, known as the most vicious gunmen of the Chinese secret societies. The Bing Kongs would be aligned against their traditional enemies, the Hop Sings. The Hop Sings are one of the oldest and most influential of the tongs.

The cause of present uneasiness in the Chinese district has not been ascertained by the police. The Chinese who might know about it have gone into temporary retirement, awaiting possible developments, and the others are reticent, as they fear reprisals.

The police have learned that Jew Moy, who is said to be a Bink Kong, has secluded himself during the past twenty-four hours. "Ernest" Sam Kee has also "gone to the country" for a few days. His whereabouts is not known to his friends.

Orders have been issued that all Chinese found about the streets late at night shall be searched for concealed weapons, and that Chinese acting in a suspicious manner shall be searched to see that they are not armed.

RESERVES TO SPONSOR SCHOOL

J. Arthur Elston Talks to Citizens on Need of Preparation.

"ANDY IS NUTS"

Preparedness of the United States to meet aggression of hostile nations without the onus of a tremendous military regime or taxation, by having the citizens organize for training in soldiering with a modicum of help from the government, a suggestion presented by Congressman J. Arthur Elston, is embodied in the aims of the First Regiment of California National Reserves, an enthusiastic meeting of which he addressed last evening.

Formed largely by men who have already had years of practical experience in the Spanish-American war, the Philippine and other campaigns, the First Reserve Regiment has been mustered for the purpose of fitting its members to act as officers of a full infantry regiment in the event of war. They will conduct a school each week. There will be no training camps or drills. It is planned to have aviation and machine gun sections in the regiment.

The regiment will co-operate with the regular army and national guard. A communication has been sent to army headquarters asking that officers attend the meetings of the new organization at regular periods.

Major H. B. Orwig, retired, colonel in command of the First California Reserve Regiment, explained the reason for its formation at a meeting in the Grand Army headquarters in the City Hall last night when a get-together banquet was held and new members enrolled.

"The members of our organization are patriotic citizens with practical military experience whose business affiliations do not justify them joining the national guard or undergoing training in camps," said Colonel Orwig. "They are enthused with a desire to do something for their country and will prepare themselves to furnish a full regiment of officers in time of need. They will also assist the national guard wherever possible in the way of recruiting and otherwise."

"The people of this country are complacently engaged in feathering their own nests; or, to adopt another simile, getting all their four feet in the trough to the exclusion of other interests than their own, a state of affairs which will have to be remedied if the nation is to be in a state of preparedness."

ELSTON SPEAKS.

"People must be ready to make sacrifices of self-interest such as this organization is doing," remarked Congressman Elston, who was speaker of the evening.

"The tremendous crisis which has plunged other countries into war has come and there is now a propaganda of preparedness going round this country, but the people, careless of its import, and relying on organizations which do take an interest in the nation's welfare, are going ahead as usual with their eyes only on the dollar.

"The millennium has not come, as many pacificists would have us believe. Neither men nor nations are yet governed by the altruistic, and it behooves the men of this country to get ready for what may come. To prevent a tremendous military regime a desire for personal preparedness for soldiering must be instilled into our citizens. Let them prepare in the old voluntary way with government co-operation and a modicum of government assistance in the way of equipment."

Referring to other phases of preparedness for war Congressman Elston said: "The army and navy should be free of political influences which have caused navy yards and arsenals to be situated in other than strategic positions. Armament manufacturing firms in this country, instead of charging us more for our war material than they do foreign countries, must be imbued with more patriotism if the country's armament is to be built up at a reasonable cost."

TO MEET TOMORROW.

The next meeting of the regiment will be held tomorrow, when steps will be taken to form a regular school of book training in the duties of officers.

Following is the present complement of the regiment:

Colonel, H. B. Orwig; lieutenant colonel, William S. Scott; majors, J. K. Roark, J. T. Magill, A. L. Louder; adjutant, C. F. Wessel; quartermaster, J. J. Humbert; commissary, J. G. Kearney; captain surgeons, Dr. W. S. Cheeny, D. S. P. Terry; captains, D. Clark, C. C. Garfield, E. F. Austin, J. C. Mielke, C. B. Munson, George Wren; battalion adjutants, M. J. A. McDonald, C. L. # POLICE FIGHT DUEL WITH BANDITS

Autos Dash Madly Through S. F. Streets While Occupants Battle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2. — A chase through the South-of-Market district in automobiles, in which a fusillade of shots were fired, aroused thousands of citizens early this morning, following an attempt to hold up the California Restaurant at 390 Third street. The bandits, who were aided by a high-power touring car, succeeded in outdistancing the rather cumbersome automobile patrol of the southern station and made their escape. In all, two score shots were fired before the machine disappeared in the darkness in the heart of the Mission district.

CALLS FOR HELP.

G. Collis, night cook and waiter in the California Restaurant, was alone at 3 o'clock this morning, when two men entered and sat down at a table and ordered oyster cocktails. He went behind the counter and turned to prepare the beverage when the two men jumped up and covered him with guns. They ordered him to turn over the contents of the cash register. Collis feigned to comply, but, instead, dropped to the floor, wriggled behind a box under the counter and yelled for help. This unnerved the robbers, who ran out down to the corner of Harrison street, where a confederate waited for them in an automobile.

Meantime, Collis' cries were heard by Policeman James Rooney and Morse Patrolman Murphy. They rushed in, learned the cause of the trouble and saw the fleeing bandits climb into their machine. There was some difficulty in starting it, and the officers were almost at the corner before it began to move off. They ran in pursuit along Harrison to Fourth street, firing their revolvers. Eight shots were poured into the machine, and the bandits, standing up in the tonneau, fired six shots in return.

POLICEMEN PURSUE.

The southern police station is located on Fourth street, a half block north of Harrison, and the shots could be plainly heard. The auto patrol was started out in charge of Policemen Meyer and Gaillord. They picked up Rooney and Murphy and started to follow.

The pavement along Harrison street is not of the best, and twice they came within revolver shot of the fugitive car. Each time the fusillade continued, but finally, when smoother highways were encountered, the light touring car gained on the heavy patrol wagon, and, nearly three miles from the scene, the pursuit had finally to be given up. A good description of the bandits is in the hands of the police.

Stabbed to Death by Fellow Countryman

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—A. Pantages, who is no relation to the theatrical magnate of the same name, died at the Central Emergency Hospital early this morning as the result of a fight at Folsom and Rich streets shortly after midnight, in which he was stabbed by a fellow countryman, George Adminopulos. The latter is under arrest and will be charged with murder.

Pantages, who lives at 370 Third street, is a Greek. He met Adminopulos while on his way to his home this morning, and the two stopped to talk. The men quarreled, and hot words were exchanged, after which it is claimed that Adminopulos drew a knife and stabbed Pantages, the blade penetrating his flesh between his ribs.

An operation on Pantages by Dr. Alanson Weeks at 4 o'clock this morning was of no avail.

Turks Give Armenians Right to Emigrate to U. S. and Be Citizens

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Turkey has consented to the emigration of all Armenians who actually will become naturalized American citizens on their arrival in this country, Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople has arranged with the Turkish government for the free departure of all Armenians for whose intention to become naturalized Americans he can couche.

An appeal will be made by the foreign missions for money to make possible the transportation and change of allegiance of such Armenians. It is understood that Turkey will permit the Armenians to come to the United States, although it will not allow them to take up their residence in Europe. A number of former Turkish citizens are now under arms in the strip of Armenian Turkey near Van, now held by the Russians, and the Turks fear that if other Armenians are allowed to go to adjacent territory they would also enlist with Turkey's enemies.

UNITED FIGHT IS PLAN OF PARTIES

Planning a general organization of all political parties to carry on their campaign as a unit against the so-called non-partisan bill, to be voted on as a referendum measure October 26, the joint committee of the Republican and Democratic county central committees last night issued a general call to all political organizations to co-operate in the fight.

A meeting of delegates from every party and all persons interested will be held at the office of Judge William J. Hayes, in the Union Savings Bank Building, next Wednesday night. At this time campaign work will be outlined, mass meetings planned and final action taken toward a concerted defense of every political party against the move fathered by Governor Johnson.

Last night's meeting was of a committee from the Alameda County Republican Central Committee, the Democratic central committee and the Jefferson Club taking place in the offices of the secretary of the latter organization. About eighteen leaders of the two parties gathered to discuss the situation.

Plans for at least one mass meeting in the campaign are under way, and other projects will be considered at the general meeting.

"This next meeting is for every political party," said Peter J. Crosby, chairman of the Republican committee, "and we expect to get a general representation. The secretary will write to the secretary of every central committee. We want every party. We want every party to have a voice in the proceedings. It will be a case of one for all. A united action will show the best of the strength of the parties of the county and we will fight to the last ditch."

W. B. Bunker presided at last night's meeting, which briefly considered the situation and ordered the letters issued at once.

Mrs. Spencer Weds Sen. C. M. Belshaw

Senator Charles M. Belshaw, widely known in political circles throughout the state, and Mrs. Maude E. Spencer of 159 Lake street, Oakland, were married in San Francisco yesterday at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-ninth avenue and Calument street. Rev. C. L. Miel, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

After the ceremony thirty guests attended the wedding breakfast at the St. Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Belshaw left on the afternoon train for San Diego, where they will remain during their honeymoon. After two weeks at the southern exposition they will return to Belshaw's home in Antioch.

FERRYBOATS ENDANGERED BY FOG

Commuter Travel Delayed by a Heavy Mist Pouring Through Golden Gate.

A dense fog which shipped suddenly through the gate this morning tied up ferry service for over an hour and seriously interfered with the commuter travel between the bay cities. It was some time before the Southern Pacific and Key boats were running on regular schedule after being caught by the sudden coming of the mist. The ferry boats re-routed on fog time and during that period a number of narrow escapes were reported.

The Southern Pacific ferry Alameda, bound for Oakland, about 8 o'clock ran so close to a Key Route ferry that an accident was thought to be certain. The sides of the vessels all but scraped.

Running on slow time and drifting with the tide the bay seemed chock full of ferry boats and other craft when the mists settled down. Never has there been such a din of whistles, early commuters say, since the day the Exposition opened. Until the tangle had been straightened a delay in starting the fog schedule service caused many commuters to wait at the moles or at the Ferry Building for an hour.

At 6 o'clock this morning the sky was clear. A half hour later the bay was obscured and by 7 o'clock the mists had spread out over the bay cities. Street cars in Oakland ran on slow time, jitney buses proceeded with caution and traffic was held up many times when horses fell on the slippery pavements.

In the outlying sections of the city and in Berkeley the mist was later in gathering, but by 8 o'clock the entire bay sections were enveloped in the first real fog of the winter season.

Andy Smith, Schaeffer's First Assistant, Was Made Michigan Hero by Yost, and He Hasn't Forgotten His Football Skill

Washington rooters who think the California squad is going north with a knowledge of the gridiron game derived from correspondence schools and short-horn courses for coaches have a bad hunch. They have made the mistake of overlooking a bulking homeopath whose name is Andy Smith and whose title is assistant to Coach Jimmy Schaeffer.

Take him all around, this person Smith is what you might call sophisticated. Back at Michigan, whence Smith hails, they think it takes a Maulbetsch to perforate a line. That's because they have a Maulbetsch. Had they been there in the painful past that period when "point a minute" elevens were but a pleasant memory, they would have modified their judgment. Then a fairly feeble halfback could get away for a creditable yardage if he was wise enough to get back of Andy Smith.

Fielding H. Yost is famous for many things, including a rigged stogie, an old felt hat, a southern dialect, lot of pep and moderate understanding of football. But he never won more just fame than in 1909, when in three days he made a center out of Andy Smith and sent him in to outplay the ...eastern center of Pennsylvania's team.

Yost was having a tough time that fall trying to plug the hole at the center of his line and things were all to the bad. Smith was at tackle and doing nobly there, but that wasn't center. The team started east, three days before the big game, about as cheerful as an embalmers' convention. That was a few minutes before Yost ran afoul of an idea.

"Smith," he drawled, "did you ever play center?"

"Never passed a pigskin in my life," said Andy.

"Well, you're going to play center Saturday," said the coach. And while the New York Central train rattled across Ontario and the east, Yost made a center out of Andy Smith. Andy afterward said that he never straightened his back from the time he left Ann Arbor till he reached Philadelphia. He couldn't stand straight in the daytime because "Hurry Up" had him crouched in the aisle of the parlor car learning to pass the ball. He couldn't lie straight at night because he was longer than the sleeper berths.

When that train stopped at a station, 10 seconds or 30 minutes, out went Messrs. Yost and Smith on the platform, and there the passing was practiced again.

Here space is left for dramatic imagination. It won't go astray. It was Draper, wasn't it—or was it Dwyer? Those names always were getting mixed in newspaper men's minds. They were both great linemen. Which ever it was at center for Penn, he was a mighty man, a champion college wrestler and pride of the east in his position. But somehow he seemed to be tired in that ...game. He spent most of his time lying on his back under the grizzly from the west. After the come-all-ye was over eastern critics pooh-poohed Yost and the Michigan writers when they insisted that Smith was a novitiate at center. All right. You can't tell an easterner anything that he doesn't want to know.

Andy wasn't long in the ranks at Michigan—the football ranks, of course. There were two reasons. One was that he came with advanced standing from out in Missouri or thereabouts. The other was an unfortunate technical taint of professionalism. Smith was something of a wrestler, for an amateur. One time he attended a fair out in his home state. There was a sign in front of a big tent, advising the countryside that a fine fat purse awaited the cornhusker who could stay three minutes with the wrestler exhibited within. Said wrestler was Frank Gotch.

Andy Smith took one look at the sign and had the money all spent. He dropped in and is said to have had time to spit on his hands. Then they carried him out. But the country hulk, with no idea of collegiate competition, was thereby a professional. He had competed for money—which he never saw. Michigan put him on the coaching squad when it learned this.

When he went to Michigan his naivette was early in evidence. He appeared on the gridiron in a gorgeous purple and yellow striped sweater, said very little, but suddenly began to play torpedo with the timber in the varsity line. Curtis Redden, greatest of Michigan ends, and a few other old timers who were aiding Yost, began to gape. For two or three days he raised the deuce with Yost's best intentions, aiding ... victory. Then he disappeared.

A student and Yost were gabbing on State street one day and along came Andy.

"Where yo' been?" demanded the coach.

"Taint no use," said Smith, "I might jest as well quit now. I guess I ain't eligible."

"What yo' been up to?" asked the coach, with a grizzical grin. Yost had heard that before, and seen his hopes go aglimmering.

"Well," Andy replied, "I played a year with Kansas City Homeopathic college, and my picture's in the guide book. You can easy tell it's me."

Sure enough, he had. But that didn't make him ineligible. He spent his year of residence, as required, during which time he was the awe of the varsity and the hero of the scrubs. Then he made his fame.

No, Washington, it's not a green bunch that's waiting down at Berkeley. There are several things the California boys will learn from Andy Smith.

Take a tip!

Fremont Ruggers Defeat Oakland High 6 to 5

Fremont High School's old-time "pep" and school spirit was awakened at Eighteenth and Wood streets yesterday afternoon when the Green and Gold ruggers of Fremont High defeated the Oakland High School fifteen by a score of 6 to 5. A plucky charge by the Fremonters with only three minutes to go placed Shippe, the hard-working Fremont front ranker, over the line with the try that won the game.

The backfields of both teams were away off color. It was a forward battle between the two teams. Fremont was handicapped by the absence of their two star forwards, Captain Manhart and Belgrano.

The first score of the game came in the middle of the first half, when Bud Gardner took a pass from one who had gathered the ball out of a loose play. He ran about twenty yards for the score. Price failed to convert. The rest of the half found both teams fighting hard. Price's long boots to touch saved many a yard for Fremont. The ball was in Fremont's territory most of the time and thrice Oakland forced the ball over the line, only to have a Fremonter fall on it.

Oakland started the first half by rushing Fremont down the field. On the thirty-yard line they were given a free kick. Howell's boot dropped about five feet at the left of the goal posts. A Fremonter was putting up his hands to grab the ball when Hall jumped on top of him, took the ball out of his hands and sprawled over the line. Howell converted easily and Oakland High went into the lead by a 5 to 3 score.

With only three minutes to go with the ball in the center of the field, the Fremonters bucked up and ran the ball down to the ten-yard line. A scrum and the ball was on the five-yard line. Referee Hayes called another scrum here. Oakland hooked the ball, it escaped the half and went out to one of the Oakland backs who booted the ball right into the Fremont scrum which was just being unpacked. With the ball fed to them, they gave another shove and Shippe scored.

The line ups:

Oakland—Howell, Crowley, Nielson, Watt, Beverley, Anderson brothers, O. Atwater, forwards; C. Atwater, half; Hall, Heyns, fives; Henderson, Glickbarg, Withoft, three-quarters; B. Atwater, full.

Fremont—Shippe, Roberts, Jackson, Parker, Esterbrook, Stewart, Arlett, Hanson, forwards; Woland, half; Hopkins, Drew, fives; Gardner, Quick, Gillelan, Orchison, Gefney, three-quarters; Price, full.

FOOTBALL GOSSIP

BERKELEY, Oct. 2. — The Olympic Club football team will take the field against California's varsity today for the last time this season. Although the winged O men have been defeated by California on the two previous occasions they are still confident of victory. The University Freshmen will meet St. Mary's in the preliminary contest.

Some radical changes have been made in the Varsity lineup for today's game. The old backfield will again be seen in action with Canfield and Brooks at halves; Momson full and Montgomery playing quarterback. Gianelli and Gibbs, both backfield men, have been placed at end by Coach Schaeffer. Liversedge, the giant center, is out of the game for the present with a wrenched back and Smith will be seen in that position. "Buck" Saunders is showing up the best of any man on the line at the present time and his place at left tackle is practically a certainty.

Coach Mini of the Freshmen has given his backfield and ends a rest this week and expects to send them into the game Saturday in the best of condition. Last night the "babes" met the Varsity for a few minutes of hard scrimmage work and to the surprise of the coaches scored two touchdowns on the Varsity before they were able to get into action. Several long gains were made through the Varsity line and two long freshmen runs were responsible for one of the scores.

Following will be the lineups:

It took Skeet Fanning to stop the Salt Lake Bees in their onward rush and he did it in fine fashion, the final count being 6 to 1 in his favor. Seven hits were made off Fanning and they were well scattered with the exception of two doubles in the sixth inning, which scored the Salts' lone run. Three heavers were used by Blankenship with Jack Killilay being the first to decorate the center of the diamond. Jack was given the hook in the seventh inning after three runs had scored and two men were out. Peterson pitched to the last man of the inning and a pinch hitter was sent in for him in the eighth, with Gilligin finishing the game.

Schaller started the run getting in the first inning with a single to center and went to second when Bodie beat out his intended sacrifice to Killilay. The pair pulled off the double steal and Biff scored when Downs sent a fly to Shinn. Bodie went to third on the throw in, from where he scored on Meloan's hit. Meloan was out stealing.

The Bees were the next to score putting over their run in the sixth when Lynn doubled. Killilay popped to Fanning and Quinlan flew to Schaller, but Shinn poked another double to right and Bert came in.

The Seals got this back in their half of the same frame. Fitzgerald beat out an infield hit to Hannah and went to third when Schaller put one through short, while Brief had gone to cover the bag. Bodie hit into a double play, Brief to Gedeon to Hannah, Fitz remaining on third. Downs singled to center, scoring Fitz. Meloan walked and Jones was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases, but Corhan forced Meloan at third on a grounder to Hallinan.

The seventh was a weird inning, the Seals scoring three times. With Schmidt and Fanning out Fitzgerald singled to center. Schaller singled infield to Hannah and Fitz scored when Hannah, in trying to catch him at third, made a wild heave. Schaller took second on the play and stole third. Bodie rapped the ball along the leftfield line for two bases, and Biff romped in. Downs drove a liner to center and Bodie scored with the final run.

The Bees could do nothing in the eighth or ninth, four of the six batters striking out, while the Seals did not have to. The score:

DEATH WARRANT OF RUGBY SIGNED BY HIGH SCHOOLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The worst blow dealt the game of rugby in California since the defection of the University of California came during the early part of the week when nearly a score of schools holding membership in the central section of the California Interscholastic Federation voted to return to the American game.

It was generally believed that for a year at least no change would be made. The vote to switch back to the American game during the season therefore came as a surprise.

In this move the followers of the American game see the death warrant of rugby as far as its being a regular intercollegiate sport is concerned. Recruits for the rugby code will have no schools for preliminary training and the outlook for Stanford University's endeavors to keep alive are looked upon as more hopeless than ever.

Porterville first decided for the American game. Among the larger schools that followed immediately were Modesto, Bakersfield, Porterville and Fresno.

Etna Mills, Redding and Yreka high schools have returned to the American game of football. This leaves only Chico and Marysville as the two prominent high schools of the northern part of the State which are still playing rugby. Both of these have been reported as on the verge of changing for some time.

U. C. DEFENSE IMPROVED.

This afternoon the University of California again lines up against the Olympic Club team. These two teams met three weeks ago when the collegians won by a score of 17 to 0 and there is much interest in the outcome of today's contest as indicative of the progress that has been made in the game during the interval. Coach Schaffer is working hard to offset unfamiliarity with the game by means of speed. California's offensive game is more developed than its defensive and the opinion has been expressed that the Blue and Gold coach has sacrificed too much weight in his effort to attain speed.

STANFORD VS. OLYMPIC CLUB.

Stanford's varsity ruggers meet the Olympic fifteen for the second time. The first game resulted in a scoreless tie in which the clubmen displayed the better form. The University of Southern California plays its first important match against the Los Angeles A. C., while Pomona College lines up against the Santa Fe eleven at Claremont. The University of Nevada and the Sacramento Athletic Club lock horns in Reno, Nev.

In the Northwest Whitman College and the Multnomah A. C. meet at Walla Walla, Wash., while the Oregon Aggies and Willamette University do battle at Corvallis, Ore.

Angels Win Close Struggle From Vernon

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2. — After playing eight innings of no run baseball, Los Angeles tallied one in the ninth, winning the game from Veron, 1 to 0. In the last half singles by Bayless and Kane brought the fans to their feet but an out and a double play put a quick end to the game. The Angels played in good form, both Terry and Koerner playing exceptionally good ball. The score:

ATTENDANCE MARK MAY BE SHATTERED BY COMING SERIES

If Seven Games Are Played Over 260,000 People Will See Them.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. — New attendance and gate receipts records are not unlikely in the coming world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans. Much will depend, of course, upon the length of the series and the amount of interest displayed by the fans of the two pennant winning cities. If the struggle for the championship is close and continues for six or seven games there is no question that new figures will be established in these departments thus adding greatly to the satisfaction of players and magnates.

The selection of the new park of the Boston National league club as the scene of the games to be played in Boston opens the way for greatly increased attendance for the Braves' stadium will accommodate fully 50,000 spectators. It is the latest and the largest enclosure devoted to baseball and in offering it to the Red Sox, President Gaffney is but reciprocating the courtesy extended to his club by President Lannin last season when the Braves played and won the world's championship in the Boston American league park.

PHILLIES HANDICAPPED.

If the Philadelphia Nationals were the possessors of a field with anything like the seating capacity of the Red Sox' temporary home the attendance figures would in all probability soar above 300,000. Since the Phillies' park will hold but 20,000, after extra stands have been erected the National league representatives will be badly handicapped in their attempt to keep pace with the Boston gate. Should the series go but four games as was the case a year ago, the attendance would be 100,000 for Boston and 40,000 for Philadelphia. This total would be a new record for a four game series since the Braves-Athletic series of 1914 drew 11,009. If the full seven games should be required to decide the title, with four played in Boston and three in Philadelphia and the teams play to park capacity, the total attendance would surpass 260,000. The record to date is 251,901 made in the 1912 series between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants, when eight games were played before the Red Sox won the championship.

Under almost any conditions it is reasonable to assume that close to 200,000 spectators will witness the play for the 1915 title thus bringing the grand total for the world's series under the control of the National commission up to 1,600,000 in round figures. Since the first contest under this regime in 1903 eleven series have been played with a total of sixty-four games and an attendance of 1,395,567. To these figures must be added the attendance at the earlier matches of which few accurate records exist.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES.

From 1884 to 1902 there were twelve series played with a total of eighty games and it has been estimated by old time fans and players that the average attendance at these contests could not have fallen far short of 3000 per game. Such being the case another total of 240,000 must be credited to the world's series figures bringing the grand total up to close to 1,650,000. Allow 200,000 for the coming play and it will be seen that before the world's championship of 1915 has been won the attendance figures for the entire play for this premier title of the baseball world will have passed the million and three-quarter mark.

The official figures for the eleven series under the National commission control are appended:

DATE AND PLACE OF BIG SERIES FIXED TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The National Baseball Commission met here today to select the place and date for the world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans. Whether Boston or Philadelphia will be the acme of the opening game was to be decided by Garry Herrmann, president of the commission, who had been delegated to flip a coin for that purpose.

A warm argument was expected over the opening date. Representatives of the American League favored playing the first game on Friday, October 8, while the Nationals want to start the war on Saturday, October 9.

Adoption of a scale of prices for seats at the game was another point to be settled by the commission. Umpires were to be chosen.

DIAMOND FLASHES.

Bonehead base running on the part of both clubs cut off several runs. Gedeon was guilty of pulling off two. He went from first to third on a fly ball with only one out and later tried to score from second on an infield tap. Corhan and Jones pulled bloomers for the Seals. Corhan was caught off second after a double, and was out trying to steal home.

Bodie's work of hitting the ball in the seventh inning when Schaller was trying to steal home did not show much good judgment. He might have hit Biff on the dome with the stick.

Ryan tried to make second after Meloan dropped his easy pop fly in the seventh inning, but was thrown out by many feet.

Schaller executed a nice bit of the hit and run play in the sixth. With Fitz on first the play was up and Brief seeing Fitz tearing for second ran over to take the throw. He left his position a little too soon, however, for Biff just pushed the ball through short.

Fanning had Brief's goat throughout the game. The first three times that Bunny faced the Seal twirler he was fanned, while on the last trip to the plate he was robbed of a hit by Jones. Jones has been playing sensational ball all week, his fielding being of the major league sort.

Downs stole second in the sixth and Lynn did not know that he was on his way until he was almost to the bag. The batter hid the view.

Schmidt was thrown out stealing, by Lynn in the second. He did not even try to get there, but just loafed. In this same inning the Seals ought to have had the bases loaded with none out. Jones singled to right and foolishly tried to reach second, but was thrown out by ten feet. Corhan doubled and was caught napping off the bag, while Schmidt walked and was out stealing.

The Seals' wrecking crew certainly is a peach. The first four men did all of the run getting. Fitz, Schaller and Bodie each scored two runs while Downs drove in three. Bodie and Meloan also drove in one, while the other was scored on an error.

Fielding Figures Show Oak Infielders Lead

Ness at First, Stow at Second and Litschi at Third Head List

Individual Coast league fielding records, including all players who have played ten or more games in one position, up to September 27, have been compiled by Carl Brazier for The Tribune and give an accurate line on the season's work of veterans and new comers. It will be noticed that Bobby Stow has not made an error in 18 games at second for Oakland.

Jack Ness has forged to even terms with Phil Koerner the Angel first sacker. Louis Litschi leads the third basemen, giving the local club the lead in three positions of the infield. The club's weakness according to percentages is still seen to be at short. Gregory leads the pitchers, with a perfect percentage, and Block of San Francisco heads the catchers. Here are the figures for every department:

BASKETBALL

The St. Joseph Athletic Club have organized their 1915 basketball team and would like to hear from several of the managers about the bay regarding basketball games. The team last year won twelve games and lost but one. This year they will be stronger than ever. They have added such stars as Soares, Stickel and Porter to their line-up and in addition to Stahr and Lemos, last year's mainstays, they can meet the best around the bay cities.

Would like to arrange country game with Martinez if possible. Address St. Joseph's Athletic Club, care of Basketball Manager, 1615 Tenth street, Oakland.

The Mercury basketball team started the season by defeating the Warrior Club five. The score at half time was 12 to 8 in favor of the Warriors. In the second half team work and accurate basket shooting put the Mercuries in the lead. The final score was 24 to 12. The lineup of the Mercuries: Johnson and Smith, forwards; White, center; Hopkins and Kempf, guards. The Mercuries would like to meet any team averaging 145 pounds. Write or telephone Basil Hopkins, 4308 Grove st., Oakland, telephone 3364. The Mercuries prefer to play Tuesday or Thursday evenings.

McCREDIE TRIES IN VAIN TO BUY OAKS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2. — Negotiations by Walter McCredie to buy the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast League have come to naught.

"Yes, I have been negotiating somewhat for the Oakland club," said McCredie, "but we couldn't make a deal, and negotiations, after extending over a week or so, have ceased.

"There was a report that my uncle, Judge McCredie, was after Oakland. This was a mistake. It was I who tried to buy the club, but we couldn't agree on terms."

QUESTION BOX

To the Sporting Editor: Should the umpire declare a balk if the pitcher steps from the mound to catch a base-runner after he has taken his windup to deliver the ball to the batter?

INTERESTED.

Yes.

To the Sporting Editor: 1. How many consecutive games has Jimmy Johnston hit in? 2. How many left-hand batters on the Boston-American and Philadelphia National League teams? 3. Who are the left-handed pitchers in each of the above teams? 4. Please give the scores of the games in which Alexander has been defeated? 5. What is Joe Woods' record and is he in condition to pitch in the world's series?

HARRY J. LEMOS.

1. Johnston hit in 14 consecutive games up to Saturday. 2. Speaker, Hooper, Hoblitzel Hendriksen, Leonard, Ruth, Mays Gardner and Collins are Boston men who bat left-handed, while Bancroft, Becker, Luderas Baumgartner, Tincup and Demaree are Phillies who bat left-handed. 3. Collins, Gregg, Leonard, Ruth of Boston; Rixey and Baumgartner of Philadelphia. 4. We have no record; write St. Louis Sporting News. 5. Woods has won 14 and lost 4; is in condition.

OLD RIVALS TO MEET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. — Columbia and Yale crews will row in a dual race this fall, it was announced here today by Jim Rice, coach of the Blue and White oarsmen, probably at New Haven either on November 2 or 13. Columbia and Yale have not met in a varsity crew race in about 20 years.

WAR CONTRACTS AGAIN CENTER OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Speculative interest in today's market today centered around a few specialties, mainly those of the war contract variety.

Westinghouse, which came forward with a bound in yesterday's late operations, claimed the bulk of attention, trading in that issue during the first hour amounting to one-third of the whole of its maximum of 1.5%, the stock showing a gain of 6½ points.

Steel moved uncertainly, failing to equal yesterday's quotations, but sensational gains were recorded by General Motors, American Car and some of the more obscure industrials. Bethlehem Steel rose 10, a new high record at 375. Bonds were firm. The closing was strong.

WHEAT RISES ON WEATHER REPORT

Opening Prices on Chicago Exchange Followed by Upturns.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Predictions of unsettled weather issued today to lift the price of wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛@¼c off to ⅛c advance, with December at 94⅛c to 95¼c and May at 97c to 97⅛c, were followed by a moderate upturn above last night's level all around.

The close was strong, 1⅛c to 1⅜c net higher, with December at 96⅛@96¼c and May at 98c.

Corn sagged owing to warmer temperature. After opening ⅛c down to a shade up, prices underwent a slight general decline and then recovered to about yesterday's closing figures.

Prices closed steady at ⅛c to 1c net decline. Oats swayed with corn.

Higher prices for hogs strengthened provisions.

Note—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart sounding. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given on the chart.

Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys—Fair tonight and Sunday; light northwest wind.

FIRST POMEGRANATES OF SEASON MAKE APPEARANCE ON OAKLAND'S MARKET

Except for the arrival of the first pomegranates of the season the Saturday fruit and vegetable market was uneventful and without interesting features, though trade held fairly brisk. The pomegranate shipment came from Redlands, was excellent in quality, full-colored and large, and brought from $1.50 to $1.75 for half-orange boxes. Another consignment of Isabella grapes from Santa Cruz appeared today and sold readily at the same price as yesterday, $1.25 per crate, and persimmons in 20-pound boxes were bringing from $5 cents to $1. Otherwise there were no changes whatever in prices and the arrivals registered about the same as yesterday. Grapes, peaches and tomatoes continue to be weak in tendency and a quantity of stock will probably have to be held over the week-end.

MINING MARKET NEARLY STAGNANT

The mining shares market arrived this morning at a point closely approaching stagnation, with eastern sources displaying no interest and local traders cautious and awaiting the end of the reaction that set in a week ago. Kewanas was sold from 35c down to 32c, later recovering to 33c. Atlanta was firm at 30c and Jumbo Extension continued to be offered in small quantity at $1.22½. Great Bend was steady at 7c, but all the other Goldfields were neglected.

The reason for the heavy buying of Rescue Eula, which was purchased yesterday to the extension of 28,000 shares at 11c, and continued in demand at that figure today, was explained this morning upon receipt of official information that there was two feet of ore assaying $32 on Thursday in the east drift on the 950 level. The winze on the same vein, 33 feet down, contains two feet of ore that essays from $60 up to $92. The discovery is regarded as the most important in some time.

United Western was less active and the price declined from 37c to 36c, although offerings were small. Big Jim advanced to sales at 25c.

Union was the Comstock feature, advancing from 42c to 44c. Con Virginia was stronger at 16c. The others were unchanged.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR GERMAN DAY

Big Crowds to Throng Shellmound Park for Celebration.

German day will be celebrated tomorrow at Shellmound Park under the auspices of the German-American National Leagues of California and of San Francisco and of Alameda county.

More than 150 organizations of various kinds have pledged a full membership attendance and, according to the executive committee, more than 14,000 people are expected to be present. From 10 o'clock in the morning until late at night the program will be crowded with interesting events. A concert by the Pacific Saengerbund, under the direction of Professor F. G. Schiller, will open the day. The German singers will give concerts from time to time during the entire celebration and several bands will be in attendance.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the literary exercises will be held. John Hermann, president of the German-American National League of California, will deliver the German address and Max Kuhl will speak in English. After the exercises, which will be attended by all the delegates to the German-American National League convention, which is now meeting in the German house in San Francisco, there will be all sorts of athletics and sports, games and entertainment. Bowling and shooting and dancing in the pavilion are among the features provided.

All through the park tents have been erected and here the many clubs and lodges will hold their reunions, while in booths the women will sell souvenirs and refreshments and preside over fortune-telling and lucky wheels.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of John Hermann, president ex-officio; P. F. Rathjens, president; George Kirchner, assistant president; Henry Spiering, treasurer; J. B. Velten, secretary; Mrs. Marie Herting, Mrs. Amanda Hermann, Mrs. Wilhelm Pompeati, Albert Currlin, S. F. Winkler and Mrs. Anna Raschen. Among those who are in charge of the various sub-committees are Ernst George, J. H. Muenster, Abert Janssen, William H. Gercke, Mrs. A. Pompeati, Captain Heise, Mrs. Marie Herting, Mrs. Anna Gottschalk, Mrs. Martha Smith, Curt Booth, Ad Wegner, N. McDonald, P. W. N. Wieboldt, Mrs. Julie Schnickel, Max Walter.

NEWSBOY KILLED WHILE DODGING AUTO TRAFFIC

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Caught amidst a maze of vehicles on the waterfront, Martin Stein, a 12-year-old newsboy, confused and panic stricken, stepped in front of a fast-speeding jitney and received injuries which caused his death this morning at the Central Emergency Hospital. Stein, who lived at 578 Birch avenue, was hustling across the Embarcadero at Mission street to sell a paper. At this hour of the day the jitneys are forbidden to use Market street and there were a dozen machines coming in different directions and several drays making their way off the Creek Route boat. Before Stein realized that he was hemmed in he fell a victim to one of the speeding cars. He suffered internal injuries and a fractured skull and was in a dying condition when examined by Dr. Tyrill at the Harbor Hospital.

U. S. TRADE NOT BEING STIFLED
ENGLAND ANSWERS CHARGES
EXPORT FIGURES CONTRASTED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Great Britain's answer to reports circulated in this country that she has been interfering with the legitimate trade of the United States with neutral European nations is given in a note [illegible] Ambassador Page in London by Sir Edward Grey, the British [illegible], and made public here tonight by the State Department.

The note [illegible] is in response to the British ambassador's report of a reference at the state department to the unfavorable impression created here by reports of increases in British trade with Northern European countries since the war began, suggests that statements concerning Great Britain's policy have been inspired by German agents.

August 27 is the date of the document, which was transmitted through [illegible] [illegible] 21 [illegible] statistical tables omitted.

"I have the honor to refer to the memorandum which you were good enough to communicate on June 2 last in which you informed me of the desire of the United States consul general in London to be furnished with figures showing the amount of raw cocoa and preparations of cocoa exported from Great Britain to Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Italy during the four months ending April 30, 1915, as compared with the same period in 1914 and 1913. Your excellency will remember that I had the honor to communicate to you tabulated statement of these figures on the 16th ultimo.

COMPARISON OF EXPORTS.

"His Majesty's ambassador at Washington reported on the 22nd July that the acting councillor of the State Department had [illegible] the unfavorable impression created at Washington by reports as to the increase in British exports to Northern European neutral ports since the outbreak of war received from Mr. Consul General Skinner, these reports having given figures showing increases in the British exports of some commodities to those countries. I am therefore communicating to Sir C. Spring-Rice statistics showing what the exports of the United Kingdom were in comparison with those of the United States during the first five months of this year, in order that this impression may be removed as soon as possible but as I hear that statements, no doubt inspired by German agents, are being circulated in America to the effect that His Majesty's government are trying to stop the legitimate trade of the United States with neutral countries in order to capture the trade for the British empire, and are therefore allowing goods to be exported from the United Kingdom which they have not allowed to be imported into the same countries from the United States, I think it well to inform your excellency immediately of the true state of the case, and with this view to invite attention to the following data and figures:

INCREASE ON COTTON.

"The increased re-export of cotton from the United Kingdom to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and The Netherlands during the months of January to May, 1915, as compared with the same period in 1914, amounted to 503,995 centals of 100 pounds. The United States exported to the four countries mentioned during this period in 1915 as much as 3,353,638 centals, as compared with 204,177 centals during January to May, 1914, an increase of 3,149,461 centals, or six times the increase in the export of cotton from the United Kingdom.

"The above figures for the United Kingdom are taken from the official customs returns; those from the United States have been carefully compiled by the war trade department from the manifests of those vessels which actually arrived with cargoes from the United States from Scandinavian and Dutch ports during the five months, February to June, 1915, as compared with five-twelfths of the total recorded exports from the United States to those countries ending June 30, 1914. It is evident that some shipments must have taken place from the United States to Scandinavia and The Netherlands which could not come within the scope of even the most circumstantial compilation of statistics drawn up from the manifests of examined ships alone and I would therefore lay particular stress upon the fact that the figures thus obtained by the war trade department are necessarily understatements of the amounts actually shipped. But even from the figures thus obtained, it is possible to show conclusively how much greater the increases in the American exports to Scandinavian countries and The Netherlands have been than those of Great Britain during the first five months of this year. [illegible] the case of cotton [illegible] of almost every [illegible].

RE-EXPORTS OF RUBBER

Re-exports of rubber from the United Kingdom to Scandinavia and The Netherlands declined [illegible] centals of [illegible] January to May, 1914, to [illegible] centals in [illegible]. On the other hand, exports of rubber from the United States to the same destinations increased to [illegible] centals to [illegible] centals. Large re-exports of rubber to the United States [illegible] this country [illegible] all other re-exports of rubber have declined during this period.

"It will therefore be seen that this country has actually been supplying more rubber to the United States at the expense of other [illegible], while American exporters have taken advantage of this to ship increased quantities of rubber to Scandinavia and The Netherlands.

In the case of lubricating oils, the increase of United Kingdom exports to Scandinavia and Holland was 703,570 gallons, the increase of the United States exports during the five months was 2,657 [illegible] gallons, being five times as great as the British increase.

The increase in the re-exports of unmanufactured tobacco from the United Kingdom to the same countries and over the same period was 2,937,244 pounds, the corresponding United States increase was [illegible] pounds. The British increase is mainly due to the diversion of tobacco grown in the British dominions from continental to United Kingdom ports. The exports of manufactured tobacco from the United Kingdom have actually declined, while exports of this commodity from the United States to Scandinavia and The Netherlands have hitherto been relatively insignificant. It is therefore altogether improbable that the United States can have lost trade in tobacco in consequence of the measures taken by His Majesty's government.

RE-EXPORTS OF COCOA

"United Kingdom re-exports of cocoa have risen from 2,976,143 pounds, January-May, 1914, to 14,504,012 pounds, January-May, 1915, an increase in round numbers of 11,500,000. Exports from the United States for the same months have risen from 12,300 pounds in 1914 to 16,015,000 pounds in 1915, an increase of 16,000,000. These figures speak for themselves.

"In the first five months of 1914 the United Kingdom re-exports of coffee to the same countries amounted to 50,407 hundredweight, and the exports from the United States to 7376 hundredweight. In the corresponding five months of 1915 the United Kingdom re-exports were 263,488 hundredweight, while the imports from the United States were 2S6,750 hundredweight, showing that the United States exports, which were formerly much less, are now greater than those of the United Kingdom.

"In the case of rice, the increased re-export from the United Kingdom, which amounted to 193,458 hundredweight for the period under review, was entirely due to the diversion to the United Kingdom ports of the large trade in Indian rice formerly carried on through Hamburg and other continental ports. The exports from the United States have increased from 262 hundredweight in January-May, 1914, to 27,800 hundredweight in January-May, 1915, an increase of 27,538 hundredweight.

WHEAT FLOUR EXPORT.

"The United Kingdom increase in the export of wheat flour to Scandinavia and The Netherlands during January-May, 1915, compared with 1914, was 47,045 hundredweight; the United States increase was 2,555,593 hundredweight for the same period.

"I could point to many other instances of similar proportionate increases in the exports of the United States to Scandinavia and The Netherlands as compared with exports to the same countries from the United Kingdom during the last five months. In respect to the great majority of articles for which figures of United States trade can be given the increases in this trade are greater, and in some cases very considerably greater, than the increases in the United Kingdom trade.

"In many cases increases in United Kingdom re-exports are due to the fact that the products of British Indian and colonial products which formerly went direct to continental ports, such as Hamburg, Rotterdam or Copenhagen, are now sent to the United Kingdom and thence distributed to old customers in Scandinavia and The Netherlands. Among such may be mentioned pepper, cinnamon and other spices (largely the product of the British East Indies); Indian tea, palm kernels (mainly from British West Africa), and copra (mainly from the Straits Settlements and Australia). The direct trade of the British overseas dominions with the port of Hamburg alone is very great in normal times.

LARGE DECLINE CLAIMED.

"In many instances our re-export trade for the first five months of this year shows a large decline.

"Everything in the statistics I have quoted tends to show that the mercantile community of the United States has made profits proportionately equal to or greater than those of the mercantile community of Great Britain in respect to all these demands which have inevitably arisen in Scandinavia and The Netherlands as a consequence of the closing of German ports. The total volume of the trade of the United States with these countries has increased 300 per cent, as your excellency will see from the accompanying table, taken from the United States official 'Monthly Summary of Foreign Commerce,' which shows the comparative value of the total exports of the United States to Scandinavian countries and The Netherlands during the first five months of 1914 and 1915. The value of the total increase in those exports during this period amounted to $145,658,000."

UNDERWRITERS OF LOAN ENCOURAGED

Claim Jewish Clients Have Subscribed Since Russian Exclusion Is Announced.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The sixty banks, trust companies and financial institutions which comprise the syndicate underwriting the Anglo-French loan in New York were cheered today by the support given them from Jewish clients, a source from which they had not expected subscriptions to such an extent as have been realized during the three days that have elapsed since the details of the underwriting were published. The definite announcement by a member of the Anglo-French commission that Russia would not be a participant in the funds derived is believed to have entered to a large extent into the decision of the Jews to subscribe.

Figures as to the total subscribed place the sum at $365,000,000, as of Thursday night. The remaining $135,000,000, it was thought, would be obtained without difficulty. Many western cities are yet to be heard from.

FRASER STUDIOS OPEN BRANCH IN OAKLAND

The well-known Fraser studios of San Francisco, successors to Taber-Stanford, Vaughan & Keith and Vaughan & Fraser, photographers of long-established note, have opened a studio in the Physicians' building, 1225 Washington street, this city. George G. Fraser, president of the firm, has taken apartments in the Hotel Oakland, and will take personal charge of all Oakland business.

Mateo S. Gama, Fraser's recent partner, both of whom are well and favorably known here and in San Francisco, will supervise the business of the San Francisco studio.

CANADA PROBES WAR CONTRACTS

Purchase of Two Submarines Under Investigation by the Royal Commission.

By Associated Press.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 2.—Sir Charles Peers Davidson, holding a royal commission from the Dominion government empowering him to inquire into war contracts, opened an investigation yesterday at the parliament buildings into the circumstances attending the purchase of the two submarines known as CC-1 and CC-2 for the defense of the Pacific coast.

An important witness was sworn in the person of Lieutenant-Commander Bertram E. Jones, Royal Navy. It was he who took over the boats on behalf of the Canadian authorities, having been commissioned to do so by Lieutenant-Commander Pilcher of the Esquimalt station. He told of leaving port aboard the steamship Salvor on the morning of August 5 with the information that he would meet at a point about five miles off Trial Island the craft it was proposed buying. He was given a check with the directions that if after a thorough inspection of the submarines he was satisfied that they were worth the full price asked he was to pay for them and take charge.

INSPECTED AND BOUGHT.

Following instructions the submarines were picked up at the rendezvous. He made a thorough inspection, and, finding them in good order, made payment and brought them to Esquimalt. He stated that from the date of their arrival in Victoria the boats had been in constant readiness for active service, except on those occasions when they were docked for ordinary cleaning and overhauling.

J. B. Paterson of the Seattle Construction and Dry Dock Company, occupied the stand throughout the afternoon. He recounted the entire story of how he got in touch with the provincial authorities and of his experiences in bringing the boats from American to Canadian waters.

DISPOSITION OF MONEY.

Not a little of his time was occupied in a detailed account of the disposition of the money received in payment. Every cent of what was paid by the provincial government, and subsequently met by the dominion, was traced. Receipts were produced indicating that the bulk of the amount had been paid to the Electric Boat Company of New York, the original contractor, that what was owing the Seattle Construction and Dry Dock Company had been received by that concern, and that a balance of $40,000, modest in view of the magnitude of the transaction and the responsibility which he assumed in person, had been left to his credit. He denied with the utmost emphasis that anything had been paid to any person, party or any organization in Canada as a commission.

HORSE SHOW CONTINUES EXPOSITION ATTRACTION

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Panama Pacific Exposition, Oct. 2.—The Exposition horse show, with judging of different classes continues the principal outdoor attraction at the Exposition today. In connection with the show the American Association of Importers and Breeders of Belgian Draft Horses are celebrating their day with ceremonies in Congress hall in the live stock section. Cubs day celebration is being held today with games and pastimes and a barbecue on the Zone. Seattle and Tacoma are celebrating their days with a reception this afternoon in the Washington building.

An interesting event of the afternoon will be the presentation in the Court of Abundance at 3 o'clock of cups including President Wilson's King George's trophies to the winners of the International Yachting Regatta. At the same hour a concert and dance will be held in front of the Washington state building with a distribution of apples.

At 8 o'clock this evening "The Fall of Babylon," a spectacular drama and pyrotechnic display, will be given on the Marina. There will be Theta Phi ball at the same hour in the ballroom of the California building, and at 8:30 o'clock a cub's day carnival on the Zone and a masquerade ball at 11 o'clock. Hydroplane and aeroplane flights, band concerts and lectures are among the many other events scheduled today.

SEARCH FOR MISSING 250 PROMISSORY NOTES

Search is being made for 250 promissory notes calling for payment of approximately $12,000, belonging to the assets of the California Live Stock Association and which were yesterday declared, during the course of a hearing in Judge Waste's department of the Superior Court, to have been lost. The notes were lost during the administration of W. G. Holloway as receiver of the defunct corporation.

Holloway told Judge Waste that he had given the notes to his attorney, E. G. Ryker, who said that he did not know where they were. Ryker was given until next Friday to find them. Judge Waste declared that he believed Ryker was responsible for the loss.

The notes were all from small stockholders. When the association went into bankruptcy in 1912 Holloway turned the notes over to Ryker with instructions to collect on them. Ryker admitted yesterday that he had received the notes but said that he could not now find them. Judge Waste announced that in the event Ryker does not find the notes Holloway will be held technically responsible for them and action may be started against his bondsmen for damages.
